WOMEN RESPOND TO APPEAL OF COUNTRY

Sweethearts, Sisters and Mothers Urge Loved Ones to Join the Colors.

MARINE OFFICER TO WED

MUSTER ROLL. National Guard...109 Army...64 Navy...38 Marine Corps...7 Total since Sunday...218

Women are responding splendidly to the appeal of officers of the military organizations. Sweethearts, sisters and mothers of young men are showing their patriotism in the national crisis by securing recruits and urging their loved ones to join the colors.

The Misses Louise, Irene and Esther Cotter, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cotter, 4150 Davenport street, have a brother, John, already a member of Company B of the local guard.

Mrs. Cotter and the young women are putting patriotism ahead of family in the crisis. They have urged their young men friends to join a military organization and several of the lads have already entered the guard this week.

Another young woman responding to the appeal to patriotic women is Miss Minnie Abraham, 419 North Twenty-eighth avenue. She has two brothers, Louis and Isadore, already in Company A of the local guard, and another brother in the regular army, now stationed at Honolulu.

Would Shoulder Gun, Too. "I'm willing to shoulder a gun myself and fight for Old Glory," she told Recruiting Sergeant Rogers of Company A Friday morning at headquarters. Her eyes sparkled as she proudly told of her three brothers in the service.

Several young men of her acquaintance are being interested and she said she expected them to join soon. An older sister is still in Roumania, in territory overrun by the Teutonic armies, and Miss Abraham declared her desire to fight under the Stars and Stripes to avenge the sufferings caused by the Kaiser's forces.

A letter has been sent by her to the secretary of war offering her services in any possible way in the present crisis.

Marine Officer to Wed.

Miss Grace L. Adams, 23 of St. Louis, is another woman whose patriotism takes precedence over all else. She is now on her way to Omaha to become the bride of Sergeant Lee L. Carpenter, local recruiting officer of the marine corps. They will probably be married here today, instead of April 7, as originally planned, because Sergeant Carpenter expects to be called at any time now.

"We will be married at once," Miss Adams wrote him, "but you will go ahead and fight abroad if necessary. I am glad to have a chance to show my patriotism that way, and would much rather be the wife of a marine, away fighting for his country, than to stand in the way of his patriotism."

Gives Her Oldest Son.

With seven children dependent upon her for support, one of them being in a hospital, Mrs. Luella Becker, Forty-seventh and Military avenue, urged her oldest son, Howard, only 17, to join the National Guard. He enlisted in Company D, after she sent him to the recruiting station with her written consent that he join.

Mrs. Kate Hunter, 2424 Larimore avenue, was another mother who offered her son, Melvin Withnell, 18 on the shrine of patriotism when the call for volunteers became insistent. Friday morning she consented to his enlistment in the navy, and she said goodby to him in Lieutenant Waddell's office. The lad is a nephew of City Commissioner Charles Withnell.

Still another mother to put patriotism before mother love was Mrs. Eda A. Bryant of East Omaha, who is willing that her son, Fred Study, should join Company A of the guard. He is only 17 years of age, but the mother signed consent, as is required for lads under 18.

Urge Sweethearts to Join.

Several recruits for the National Guard have been enlisted through the efforts of the Girls' Preparedness and Recruiting club, organized by Miss Louise Fillmore, 4422 Pierce street. She says that some of the girls induced their sweethearts to join, but that both girls and lads were anxious to keep their names secret under the circumstances.

Blancett Identified as

Man Who Posed as Armour

Santa Fe, N. M., March 30.—Elmer E. Blancett declared today that callers at the county jail who said they knew him as Clyde D. Armour were strangers to him. Blancett, it is alleged, impersonated Clyde Armour of Sioux City at Santa Fe and Albuquerque after killing him in the Glorieta mountains. Blancett's left arm is useless as the result of his attempt to kill himself when he was arrested at Friday Harbor, Wash., on the charge of murder by firing a charge of shot into his neck.
