HALL'S MEASURE CHANGED

Lincoln, March 30.—(Special.)—Whether the state should return a bank's guaranty fund assessments to it when it goes out of business, or should retain a part or all of the money for the protection of depositors in the banks which continue to operate, was the subject of an animated discussion on the floor of the house today.

More than an hour's time was consumed in discussing various proposals, but none of them had been voted on when the committee of the whole arose at noon and the house took its midday recess.

Hall's Bill Clipped

State Treasurer George Hall had a bill, bearing the number of H. R. 614, providing that all moneys collected by state departments, institutions and other agencies should be deposited in triplicate, and that one copy of each receipt should be filed with the treasurer.

On motion by Mr. Peterson, a sentence authorizing the state treasurer to supervise the collection of all funds by every department, institution and bureau, was stricken out. It was claimed that this provision would have given Treasurer Hall authority to appoint someone in every state office as his own deputy and thus dictate how moneys taken in should be handled.

A Direct Contradiction to the "High Cost of Living". Saturday Will Witness the Opening of SHIRLEY'S $12.50 Clothes Shop Take ANY dozen suits from the "Shirley" stock; mix them thoroughly amongst the usual clothier's $20.50 garments, and neither YOU nor any OTHER casual buyer can tell WHICH is WHICH—the $12.50 suits and overcoats of "Shirleys" or the $20.50 garments of the usual clothier. If you are a judge of clothes you will admit that there's no perceptible difference 'twixt "Shirley" fabrics at $12.50 and the usual clothier's cloths at $20.50. "Shirley" opens with ONLY new Spring clothes; the very attire shown and soon to be worn in the authoritative east. YOU are paying more than ever for groceries, for shoes, for living necessities in general, so why should you not at least GRASP this opportunity to save on CLOTHES. Make it a memorable Saturday. See what "Shirley" has to offer. Surely, $8.00 SAVED is a worth while amount, isn't it? $12.50 Any full minded man is open to reason—this explains why $20.50 grade Suits and Overcoats are brought down to $12.50 at "Shirley's". The firm responsible for this Omaha store of "Shirleys" is a giant PRODUCER of Men's Clothing, maintaining its OWN factories, and featuring DOZENS of $12.50 establishments like this one. Combined efforts, combined manufacture, combined management and modern concentration in general score heavily and bring down the COST of garments. A merchant, you know, must have the COST price in mind when setting a SELLING price. There isn't another concern in America that can produce and market a well made, perfectly styled garment at a lower price than "Shirleys", and it won't take but a few weeks to PROVE it to the entire satisfaction of Omahans. Trousers at $3.50 Any pair at $3.50, and you'll effect a saving of at least $2 a pair. Shirley's Clothes Shop is situated at 109 South 16th St., Omaha.—The former location of "Black, the Hatter."
