

BRITAIN STILL HAS PLENTY FOR FOOD

People of Limited Means Find Easy to Live in Glasgow Within Their Rations.

TO CULTIVATE ALL THE SOIL

By A. R. GROH.

Great Britain is a long way from "starvation" according to newspapers received from Glasgow, Scotland, by George V. Chandler of The Bee.

Mr. Chandler was over there in 1909 to place the plant of the Glasgow Weekly News, a paper of 540,000 circulation, on the economy basis. He gets the papers, together with letters, asking him questions on various problems that come up in running the plant.

Here is an article in the Glasgow News of March 10, headed, "War Rations Provide Comfortable Living." "People of limited means are finding it quite easy to live within their rations," says the article. "In these recipes very little meat, flour and sugar is used, yet a substantial dinner is provided for all."

The menu shows dinners for a week for a family of five at a total cost of fourteen shillings, about $3.50.

Cost of Dinners.

Here are two sample dinners: "Monday—Broth, made with one-half pound boiling meat (20 cents); vegetables (8 cents); barley (2 cents). Second course, the meat eked out with oatmeal pudding, potatoes and gravy (20 cents)."

"Thursday—Savory stew, made with three-fourths pound stewing beef (30 cents); vegetables (4 cents); and served with plain boiled rice or macaroni (6 cents). Sago pudding sweetened with syrup and including milk (20 cents)."

Another Glasgow paper, the Post, gives a complete week's menu of three meals a day for a family of three at a total cost of $5.25. Each day's total cost for the three meals for the three people is only 75 cents. You could hardly live that cheap in Omaha. Here is one day's menu as a sample:

"Breakfast—Oatmeal or maize flour (corn meal) porridge, served with syrup or milk (12 cents); tea, toast with beef dripping (10 cents). "Dinner—Haricot bean soup (8 cents); sausage cakes (20 cents); rice or other milk pudding (6 cents). "Tea—Tea, bread, nut butter, oat cakes and scones with syrup (20 cents)."

Urges Use of Land.

That Britain is taking steps to make the field of the soil this summer as great as possible is shown in articles and advertisements. One article tells how to "Make the Most of Your Potato Patch." It quotes the prime minister as urging all to use their spare hours and spare bits of land, so that they can look back in after years and know that they "did their bit to win the greatest of crusades in history."

An advertisement calls upon everybody who "can use a spade or a hoe or message horse" to "back up the men in the trenches." Lloyd George is quoted as saying, "The farmers could increase, even now, by hundreds of thousands of tons the food of this country this year. One of the main obstacles is lack of labor."

Oleomargarine is advertised at 28 cents a pound. Girls' shoes in another advertisement, are $2.40 a pair, up to size 5.

Other ads are for dyspepsia cures; "how to start in the mail order business"; wall paper direct from the manufacturer; clothing on payments of 30 cents a month; laying hens, $1.25 each; agents wanted; bicycles on payments of $1.75 a month, and ready made soups.

Painters Say Demands Are Met, Masters Say Not

Are the union painters receiving their demands of 62 1/2 cents an hour instead of the 55-cent scale which prevailed prior to April 1, or are they still locked out on the job?

L. F. Knopp and Frank Stone, representing the union, declare that all but thirty of the 400 union painters in Omaha are receiving their demands. Master painters flatly contradict the report and insist that practically all of the painters are idle today as they were Monday when the strike was called.

"We do not want to give the names of the employers who have accepted the new scale," said Mr. Knopp. "No agreements have been signed. It is true, but the wages are being paid; in fact, some of them received above the scale before."

"The thirty exceptions," he continued, "are merely holding out a while for their shops to concede the new scale and if the demands are not met these men will be put to work quickly in other places."

Master painters declare the demands have not been met. "It is not so much the wages they demand," declared one master painter, "but the rules they want to lay down to us. They would run us out of business."

Hog Prices Jump Up

Thirty-Five Cents to $15.45

L. W. Wheatley of Atlantic, Ia., topped the market on hogs when Melady Bros. sold a carload for $15.40, which is 30 cents over the previous high mark of Wednesday.

This new top lasted until about noon when some late load raised the top to $15.45.

YEOMANETTE MAKES PATRIOTIC SPEECH

Louise Fillmore Aids Yeoman Stoner in Addressing Meeting at McClelland, Ia.

MINISTER LENDS A HAND

A hurry call by phone from the postmaster at McClelland, Ia., for navy recruiting officers to address a patriotic mass meeting and do preliminary recruiting work, was responded to at noon by Chief Yeoman Guy Stoner of the Omaha station, and Miss Louise Fillmore, 4422 Pierce street, volunteer yeomanette, girl recruiter and would-be war spy.

Miss Fillmore was anxious to help and the station was short of men, so Lieutenant Waddell was glad to receive her assistance. She and Stoner made the trip in the latter's auto, taking along much navy literature and "Join the Navy" ribbons, which Miss Fillmore intended to distribute among prospective "rookies."

The meeting at McClelland was arranged by the postmaster, to assist in the big campaign undertaken to secure 800 more naval recruits by April 20, as this district's share of the needed navy complement in the war emergency. High school boys, as well as older citizens, were to attend the meeting at McClelland.

Six other canvassing parties from the navy station are already scouring Nebraska and South Dakota for recruits. Postmasters, mayors, ministers and other citizens are co-operating splendidly with the recruiters, Lieutenant Waddell says.

Minister Lends Hand.

From Wakefield the Presbyterian minister, Rev. Samuel H. King, has written that he and others are arranging a big mass meeting there for April 12. As the date will not fit in with the canvassing party schedule, a special party will go there.

"We got seventeen young men to join the Guard here recently, when officers of Company H spoke," Rev. Mr. King wrote. "Preparedness enthusiasm is so strong that only age limit and other restrictions prevented enlistment of the 800 men and women who attended. We will do just as much for the navy. Wakefield's leading people are boosting."

Postmaster C. C. Davis of Falls City is another official who is boosting for the navy now. He has written to Lieutenant Waddell that he has arranged a meeting for the court house there Saturday night, which is being advertised in the newspapers.

OMAHA EAGER TO HEAR FAMOUS MEN

H. L. Stimson and F. R. Coudert to Make Patriotic Speeches Saturday.

ARE SPENDING BUSY WEEK

A sweep of patriotism envelops the whole middle west in the wake of Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war, and Frederic R. Coudert of New York, whose week of patriotic speech-making will wind up with the large meeting at the Auditorium Saturday night.

Monday both men spoke at a luncheon and meeting of the Detroit Board of Commerce, and that afternoon Mr. Stimson addressed the university students at Ann Arbor. The next night, with Robert E. Peary, rear admiral, as an additional speaker, they packed the Auditorium in Chicago.

The trio made two talks in Des Moines Wednesday, one at the Chamber of Commerce and another at the Coliseum, from which place Peary went on to Salt Lake, while Stimson and Coudert left for St. Paul, where three big meetings were held. They addressed University of Minnesota students, spoke at a luncheon of the Patriots League at the Minnesota club and spoke at a big public meeting in People's church.

At Minneapolis Friday.

Friday they speak under the auspices of the Civic and Commerce association of Minneapolis at the West hotel, from whence they come here early Saturday morning for another busy day and to spend Sunday. Stimson and Coudert will both speak at the Commercial club luncheon and Coudert will also address the local Alliance Francaise, of which he is a national director, at the library at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Coudert, who is a Columbia man and a chevalier of the Legion d'Honneur, will be the guest of Victor Rosewater, editor of The Bee, Sunday evening.

Stimson and Coudert rank among the highest in the legal profession of this country. Stimson served as United States district attorney in New York and was nominated for governor of New York in 1909. Coudert is an authority on international law and gained prominence as special counsel for the government in the anthracite coal cases.

Special Policemen to Guard Smelting Works

Chief of Police Dunn has deputized seventeen special policemen who will serve as guards at the smelting works.

"I am informed that a group of irresponsible are trying to agitate a strike at the smelter," said the chief. These special officers are not paid by the city.

Judge Wade to Preside Here in Damage Case

Federal Judge Martin J. Wade of Des Moines will come here next Tuesday to preside at the trial of the suit of Mrs. Essie Glick against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company. She is seeking $50,000 damages for the death of her husband in an automobile smashup at Forty-sixth and Cumming streets, in which the street railway company is alleged to have been to blame. Federal Judge Woodrough was her attorney in the case before his appointment as judge. Judge Woodrough will hold court in Keokuk, Ia., while Judge Wade is here.

Cescha Spends Vacation In Shooting Alligators

A. Cescha of South Thirtieth street is spending a little vacation on his peanut ranch near New Orleans. He has a 1,000-acre ranch there on which he raises peanuts as a side line to his Omaha business. He makes the trip once or twice a year to see the peanuts planted, and then again to see them harvested and collect the profits. During spare time between hoeing peanuts there he is fishing and shooting alligators.

Landseeker Business To the West Very Heavy

Railroad passenger men report that the homeseeker business of Tuesday was the heaviest in many months. Figures have been compiled and they indicate that the increase was about 25 per cent over the corresponding date of one year ago. The Burlington was forced to run a special train to handle the crowds going into Wyoming to file upon the 640-acre homesteads. Besides the men looking for free land, the company took a large number into western Nebraska to buy farms and ranches.

Carpenters Ask Stores Be Kept Closed Sundays

Theodore Jensen, secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, requested the city council to pass an ordinance to prohibit operation of groceries, meat markets and other forms of "unnecessary labor" on Sunday. "Public opinion demands that all unnecessary labor be eliminated on the Sabbath day," wrote Secretary Jensen. The city council placed the communication on file without comment.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eye once to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by Sherman & McConnell, C. A. Neicher and others.—Advertisement.

Some Are Misled By Seeming Likeness to the HUDSON SUPER-SIX

Don't judge cars, or choose between them, by a half-hour demonstration. Nearly any new car, without competition, seems an excellent performer. But the paramount question covers years to come. And that cannot be settled in that way.

Mark These Great Distinctions

The Super-Six motor, in outer aspects, seems like a hundred light sixes. The cylinder size is common. The type doesn't look unique.

Clever salesmen, unchecked by proofs, often class other sixes with it. Or even depict an advantage.

But remember that Hudson long built the finest light Six produced. And the Super-Six invention, as proved by common, standard tests, increased its efficiency 80 per cent. That's a very wide difference, you know.

Salesmen of V-types—Eights and Twelves—often call them the newer type. But we built both for testing long before the Super-Six. And we quit them only when the Super-Six proved its vast supremacy.

Mark how this invention stopped the trend toward V-types. And returned the sovereignty of Motordom to a light and simple Six.

What of the Future?

The question is, What will five years show? Or perhaps one year, or two? That must be shown by long, hard tests, under a fearful strain.

It has been shown with the Super-Six.

It was shown by driving 3,000 miles, at speed exceeding 80 miles per hour, without evident wear on any part or bearing.

It was shown by driving 1819 miles in 24 hours—breaking all like records by 52 per cent.

It was shown by driving from coast to coast in by far the record time. Then turning around and breaking the records back.
