Former General Auditor of Harriman Lines Succumbs to Pneumonia.

WELL KNOWN ON RAILROAD

Erastus Young, aged 77, retired general auditor of the Harriman interests, died last night at his home in Omaha, after an illness of one week.

Mr. Young, who had lived quietly in Omaha since his retirement in 1910, was taken with a slight cold on Wednesday of last week. This seemed to run the usual course and gave no cause for apprehension until Sunday morning, when pneumonia developed. This disease assumed an acute form and since Tuesday little hope was entertained for his recovery. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Margaret Ludlam; his son, David L. Young, Mrs. R. S. Ege and Mrs. D. P. Benedict, daughters, all living in Omaha.

His Active Life.

Erastus Young was born June 11, 1839, in Rockland county, New York. He was educated at Williston seminary, East Hampton, Mass., and spent the early years of his active life as a farmer, a school teacher and a bookkeeper. In 1870 he entered on his career as a railroad accountant, starting with the New Orleans, Mobile & Chattanooga road, with offices at New Orleans. Four years later he went to the St. Louis & Southwestern as auditor, and for four years held that position. In 1880 he went to the Santa Fe as general auditor, and in 1881 accepted a similar place with the New York & New England road, which he left two years later to become general auditor of the Union Pacific, in which position he remained until his retirement on January 1, 1910. From January 1, 1902, he was general auditor for all the Harriman interests, which then included the Union Pacific, the Oregon Short Line, the Oregon Railway & Navigation company, the Southern Pacific, the Pacific Mail Steamship company, and a number of mining, land and water companies subsidiary to these great transportation lines. He was also for some time general auditor of the Chicago & Alton railroad. Since 1883 Mr. Young maintained his residence in Omaha.

Prominent as Accountant.

He was a member of the American Association of Railway Accounting Officers and served that body one term as its president. He was a member of the general committee of twenty-five and the subcommittee of seven members of this association which prepared the system of railway accounts adopted by the Interstate Commerce commission, and he also prepared the classification of accounts adopted by the commission.

Mr. Young retired from active work on January 1, 1910, having then reached the age limit and having completed the time of service with the Union Pacific which entitled him to a place on the company's pension roll.

He was a member of the Methodist church, and once belonged to the Happy Hollow club, but had not been active there for several years. He was of a very retiring nature, but within his limited circle of intimate friends was known as a genial companion. In his work he was both exact and exacting, a quality that commended him to the great captain of transportation, E. H. Harriman, who gave him general oversight of the accounting of all his immense interests.

The Pneumonia Season.

The cold, damp weather of March seems to be the most favorable for the pneumonia germ. Now is the time to be careful. Pneumonia often results from a cold. The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. As to the value of this preparation, ask anyone who has used it.—Advertisement.
