

RED-BLOODED MEN RUSH TO ENLIST

News of Actual War Fires Their Fighting Blood—All Zealous to Serve.

NO LETHARGY SEEN NOW

With the news that the war proclamation had been ratified and signed, applicants at army and navy recruiting stations immediately increased in numbers. Officers in charge were practically swamped with volunteers, who evidently had been waiting until the state of war was actually declared.

More young men also applied to take examinations for the reserve officers' corps of the army, from which the officers and instructors are to come for the citizen soldiery to be raised.

Sixteen more army recruits were sent to training stations Thursday, nine were ready to start Friday noon, and four additional were awaiting final approval or other formalities.

Many Recruits. Navy recruiting parties, which are working in six groups to canvass Nebraska and Iowa for the 800 extra men needed from this district to fill up the navy, are already sending in recruits secured at the first towns they visited.

Four "rookies" are coming from Nebraska City, six from Grand Island, three from Dell Rapids, S. D., and more from other towns not yet definitely reported. Two recruits were also secured Thursday at McClelland, Ia., where Chief Yeoman Stoner and Miss Louise Fillmore went by auto on a hurry call, to address a patriotic meeting. Stoner reported that Miss Fillmore was a mighty good booster and helped get results.

Besides these would-be tars, which have not been completely examined and enlisted, four more recruits were sworn in Friday morning and sent to training stations, Lieutenant Waddell said.

Fleet naval reserve men will be ordered to active duty at navy recruiting stations, in case of full naval mobilization. This information came in a telegram to Lieutenant Waddell Friday morning.

War Lures Many Young Men from Railroad Jobs

While officials of railroad lines operating in and out of Omaha are not encouraging the male employees to enlist in the army, they are all informing them that they may do so if they desire and that their old jobs, or others equally as good will be awaiting their return. A good many of the young men have responded to the call to arms and many more are expected to do so, not that war with Germany has been declared.

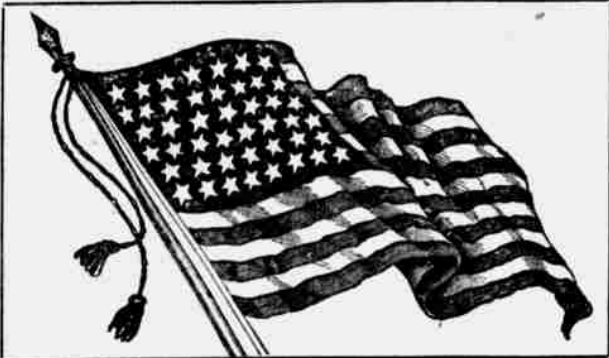

Within the last week some thirty of the Union Pacific men employed in Omaha and out on the lines have enlisted; about the same number from the Burlington; fifteen from the Northwestern, and a number from the other roads.

In addition to the railroad employees who are enlisting, for service in the field, many more are preparing themselves for railroad army work. These men are being instructed in the handling of men, equipment and supplies on the railroads.

The Wreckers Are Coming

The Parisian Cloak Company is sorry that it has to sacrifice such a magnificent brand new Spring Stock of Coats, Suits, Dresses, Skirts and Petticoats at such a reduction, but it must be done. The time is short and the WRECKERS ARE COMING to demolish the structure. Be here every day and buy your Spring Outfit.—Adv.

Hogs Make Another Twenty-Five-Cent Jump for Record

Hogs once again smashed all existing records on the Omaha live stock market when Gene Melady sold a consignment from George Russell of Fullerton, Neb., for $15.70, 25 cents higher than the mark established Thursday.

R. R. Bowers of Cushing sent in a consignment of sixty-four head averaging 291 pounds and Emil Foth of Ord a load of sixty-two head averaging 320 pounds which brought record prices.

A new record for sheep was also set up when two loads from Missouri Valley sold at $15.25.

Judge Wade to Preside Over Local Federal Court

Federal Judge Woodruff has sent word that he will be detained in Minneapolis longer than he expected and will not be able to be here Saturday, but will go direct to Keokuk, Ia., where he is to begin hearing a case next Tuesday. Judge Wade of Des Moines will be here Monday to preside at the local division of the federal court. Petit and grand jurors will report Monday.

Grocers to Insist On Prompt Monthly Payment

Persons who have been paying their grocer only a few dollars on account now and then and letting the rest of their debt for table necessities ride on the grocers' books from year to year are to get a jolt. That jolt is coming soon, according to J. J. Cameron, secretary of the Retail Grocers' association. Mr. Cameron says the grocers now favor a system of insisting upon accounts being paid up by the customers at least by the 10th of the month, following the date of purchase. They point out that they have to pay their bills in fifteen days at the wholesale houses and, therefore, cannot allow the customer to take sixty days, or maybe a year in some instances.

Missouri Falls Rapidly And Flood Danger Passes

The Missouri river at Omaha has been falling for several days and Colonel Welsh of the weather bureau believes now that the threatened floods along the stream this year may be averted. The gorge is still holding up above Sioux City, but by the time this breaks the river will be so low that it will easily accommodate the extra water.

The snow and ice bulletin, just issued, shows that there is now no snow on the ground in the Dakotas and Nebraska. Wisconsin and Minnesota are still covered with snow at depths ranging from one to twenty-four inches.

Underworld Dance Hall Raided by Morals Squad

The Underworld saloon and dance hall at Ninth and Davenport streets, which figured so prominently in vice war this spring, was raided at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Morals Squad Officers Sutton and Anderson. Sutton and Anderson were recently transferred from the morals squad acting under the command of Sergeant Russell and are now working directly out of the police commissioner's office.

Thomas Gravi, negro, was charged with keeping a common ill-governed house, Joe Taylor, negro, 2210 Seward street; Trixie Jones, negro, 212 North Ninth street, and Sophie Brown, 1111 Douglas street; Nellie Gray, Council Bluffs and Rubie Miller, South Side, all white girls, were arrested as inmates. All were released on bonds.

Sutton and Anderson declared they found the women drinking and smoking cigars.

In police court Magistrate Madden took all of the cases under advisement until Saturday morning with the exception of Miss Miller, who forfeited bonds by failure to appear.
