Rumors of More Strikes Among Omaha Workmen

Rumblings of the possibility of more local strikes among workmen were heard Friday night at the regular meeting of the Central Labor union at the Labor temple. R. Cleary, delegate from the electrical workers' union, reported that some of those unionists had been locked out by boss electricians, who had declared they would not hire union men in the future. He asserted that an attorney for the Business Men's association had refused to confer with him in the matter.

The Central Labor union thereupon went on record as not favoring any affiliated union allowing its members to work on jobs, where members of any union had been locked out. Secretary John Polian of the Central Labor body indicated that the action might lead to strikes by other unions, which had work to do on jobs where the electricians considered themselves aggrieved.

SPANISH WAR VETS ATTEND

Half of South Omaha was on deck last evening at Twenty-fourth and N streets. The strains of martial music played by a brass band, accompanied with an occasional bugle of a Spanish war veteran, attracted an immense crowd. Amid all, Old Glory waved with glorious freedom and recruiting sergeants who had planned the blow-out did their best to enlist one and all.

E. L. Jones, or just "Jones," Spanish-American war veteran, who has felt the ping of more than one bullet at San Juan and other hills of Cuba, was the donor of the brass article. Jones paid for the music out of his own pocket. Captain McKinley was one other outsider who took part. Sergeants Compt, Crudin and Droming of the Omaha recruiting station were army officers in charge of the meeting.

At 9 o'clock the street was packed to the other side. Cheer after cheer went up to Uncle Sam. The police had a difficult time keeping the crowd back. In the center of a throng before a little table the sergeants sat taking the names of those who enlisted. At 10:30 o'clock the count stood better than fifteen men, all of whom will enter the regular army.

Mutual Movies to Get Behind Wilson With Picture Power

Chicago, March 7.—(Special Telegram.)—John R. Freuler, president of the Mutual Film corporation, today issued the following message to the motion picture industry and the theaters, which publish pictures to the public on the screen:

"The United States of America is now at war with the German empire. It has long been inevitable—regrettable, but inevitable and necessary. It is now for us to support our government, make valid its demands, its plans, its action. "The motion picture, in the period since the United States was engaged in its last conflict at arms, has grown into the estate of a new form of public press. The picture today supplements and completes the all-important mission of the newspaper and other organs of the public press. "As a part of the public press the motion picture has its privileges and its obligations. "We of the motion picture industry can, I believe, be of peculiarly valuable service to the nation in this time of stress. "The motion picture is a great power. Let us strive to make this power serve the just and patriotic purposes of our government. Let us make our screens aid the cause of preparation and mobilization. Let us get the government's story, the appeal of the army and navy, and munition makers and workers, on the screen. "In expression of the attitude of the Mutual Film corporation, the following message was today sent to President Wilson:

"In behalf of the Mutual Film corporation, an institution in intimate contact with the 16,000 motion picture theaters of the United States, I offer you our service in communicating your policies and the will of the government of the United States to the people through the medium of the picture screen. "JOHN R. FREULER, "President of the Mutual Film corporation."

"People will look to the theaters with a renewed interest. Let us picture power behind the president."

Danish Ship Esther Is Sunk by Torpedo

London, April 7.—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Times says that the steamer Borneo is bringing to Ymuiden seventeen members of the crew of the Danish steamer Esther, which has been sunk. The men had been five days in open boats in snow storms when they were rescued and the majority were unable to walk. The Belgian relief ship Treviser is reported to have been still afloat on Thursday afternoon.

There are three small Danish steamers named Esther, the largest of which, and presumably the one torpedoed, in view of the number of survivors, was a vessel of 266 tons. The Treviser was torpedoed without warning on Wednesday off Scheveningen, Holland.

BRITONS ON BATTLE LINE CHEER U. S.

News from Washington Causes Great Enthusiasm, Especially Among the Canadians. WILL NOTIFY THE GERMANS

With the British Armies in France, April 6.—(Via London, April 7.)—The news of the action of the United States senate in voting for war with Germany reached the far-flung western battle line today and was hailed with cheers. Nowhere is the gratification greater than along the section of the front held by the Canadians, with whom many thousands of Americans are serving. Many Canadian and British companies were busy today preparing signs to hold up over the trenches, telling the Germans the tidings from Washington. This is the favorite plan of the Tommies to convey all sorts of bad news to their enemies across No Man's land.

"Ge. Rid of Your Kaiser." German prisoners taken today had not heard of President Wilson's address and knew only in a vague way of the breaking of diplomatic relations in February. Some of the trench signs which were prepared included a brief translation into German of the president's statement that America was entering the lists against the German government and not against the German people. Others included the latest slogan: "No peace with the Hohenzollerns," while still others read: "Get rid of your Kaiser."

The British army as a whole has regarded America as practically in the war ever since the severance of relations, the news of which was greeted as the best news which had reached the trenches for many months. It was said then that active participation was only a matter of time. The president's address was just reaching the front trenches today in its entirety. The gist of the speech had been sent out by wireless and also by telegraph and telephone, but the soldiers generally preferred to wait for congressional action before spreading the news to "Fritz."

Papers Eagerly Bought. On their way back from the front trenches today the troops who had been relieved eagerly bought two days' old London papers from the French newsboys, in order to read the American news and the text of the president's speech. In the little French estaminets, cafes and villages behind the lines there was great excitement among the old civilians and the poilus on leave. One old gray-haired Frenchman, waving a bit of writing paper, said he was sending the good news to his son in the trenches so as to be sure he would not miss it.

The weight of America thrown into the scales just at this juncture, in what is regarded as the critical year of the struggle, has sent a renewed thrill of confidence all along the front. One Canadian headquarters and the Canadian trenches the correspondent was greeted everywhere with outbursts of congratulations. One young captain, whose mother is American, said: "I feel like hugging everybody in sight. Everywhere I have been today I wanted to call out the soldiers and ask them if they had heard the good news. We Canadians now feel that our American family has been re-

Health Talks (By Dr. Burhorn) Chiropractic for Stomach Trouble

The nerve and blood supply to the stomach perform an important part in the elaboration and secretion of the gastric juice and a very important part of the nervous system is the furnishing of energy for the stomach movements during digestion. The nerves leading to the stomach pass out from the spinal cord through little openings in the spinal column; if they are impinged by a subluxated (displaced) vertebra, it interferes with the transmission of nerve energy leading to the stomach and cause that organ to become diseased. Chiropractic spinal adjustments will free the nerve from the pressure that is causing the trouble, nature will restore normal function to the organ and health is the result. If you are suffering with some form of stomach trouble make a thorough, open-minded investigation of the Chiropractic principle and then be guided by your better judgment. Consultation is Free. Adjustments are $1.00.
