Patriotism Vies With Easter.

Society people of Omaha concluded Lent with two big events, the patriotic dinner and meeting Saturday evening and Easter dinner Sunday. On the platform at the patriotic meeting were seen the members of the patriotic dinner parties at the Fontenelle and others, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Westbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Swobe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Judson, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Osgood Eastman, Mr. E. W. Dixon, Mr. Charles Hull, Mr. Stockton Heth and many more. They were among the most enthusiastic members of the gathering and sang as lustily and with as much feeling as if they were in the choir at a Billy Sunday revival meeting. After the meeting there was little gaiety, for the majority of the patriots went seriously to their homes, the fact that the sons of our most prominent families are volunteering for service brings home the war situation to all.

Last evening at the Fontenelle flag and Easter lilies, at present symbols of two such different sentiments, were used as decorations. The Easter hats of the fair diners were chiefly the handsome shiny black ones which "our best shops" show at exclusive prices. The chill of the evening, however, had made it necessary to combine with these new hats heavy winter coats. All society was present to enjoy the occasion and to observe the cessation of Lent. Miss Marion Kuhn with her fiancé, Mr. Clarence Griffin, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kuhn, were the center of much interest. Greetings were extended to Miss Kuhn by all her friends and Mr. Griffin was introduced to those at surrounding tables. Only informal things are planned for Mr. Griffin during his short stay.

With the Visitors.

Mr. Horace Williamson of New York City, Mr. W. Gussenhoven of Chicago, Mr. John Rowe of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. William Gunkel and baby of New York City were the guests over Easter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Murphy. Mrs. Gunkel will remain until the end of the week, but will not be entertained during her stay because of the illness of her baby.

Miss Helen Wright of Chicago, who came over from Chicago for a week-end visit with her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Russell, returned last evening.

The tea which was to have been given this afternoon by Mrs. Brandon Howell in honor of Miss Jean Burroughs of Lincoln has been postponed owing to Miss Burroughs' inability to come at this time. Mrs. Howell will give an informal kensington tomorrow afternoon in honor of Miss Ruth White of Berkeley, Cal., but formerly of this city, who arrived from El Paso, Tex., Thursday, for a three weeks' visit with relatives and friends. At present Miss White is with her cousin, Mrs. J. S. Alexander, but she plans to visit Miss Lois Howell and Miss Mary Megeath before she leaves.

Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Curtis of Utica, S. D., are visiting Mrs. Curtis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Shaffer. Family parties are being given in their honor.

Betrothal Announcement.

An Easter engagement announcement which completely surprised their friends was that of Miss Agnes Nelson and Mr. A. A. Oesleigle of Tilden, Neb., which was made known at a dinner party given last evening by Mrs. E. A. Mickel.

Truman-McNamara Nuptials.

Pink sweet peas, Ophelia roses and pink anemones in profusion filled the home with spring this afternoon for the marriage of Miss May McNamara, daughter of Mrs. N. McNamara, to Mr. Ernest Wellington Truman of Lincoln. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Rev. D. T. Harrington. Only relatives and a few friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white georgette crepe over silver cloth, with an address of fillet lace. Her bridal bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Out-of-town guests at the ceremony were Mrs. G. S. Truman, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Pickett and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Truman, jr., of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shields of Chicago and Miss Mary Beck of California. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Truman will leave for an extended bridal journey in the south, after which they will be at home in Lincoln.

Walsh-Dougherty Nuptials.

The marriage of Miss Josephine Dougherty, daughter of Mr. Charles Dougherty, to Mr. Patrick Walsh took place this morning at 8 o'clock at St. Cecilia's church, Rev. D. T. Harrington officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Leo Hoffman, and Mr. Paul Walsh was his brother's best man.

A wedding breakfast at the Fontenelle for twenty-four guests followed the service. White sweet peas were used in the table decorations. Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Colonel and Mrs. John Walsh, Miss Vinette Walsh and Mr. Emmet Walsh of Grand Island, family of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hronek of Schuyler, Mrs. M. C. Hoffman of Dubuque and Miss Minnie Murphy of Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh left this afternoon for a southern wedding trip, with Cuba as their destination.

Pre-Nuptial Affairs.

This evening Miss Marian Saunders and Miss Jeannette Greenfields will entertain the members of the Wilcox-Spindler wedding party at a box party at the Orpheum, followed by supper at the Fontenelle. Miss Gertrude Wheeler and Miss Elizabeth Konigsmacher entertained a party of girls at luncheon at the Blackstone in honor of Miss Spindler. Miss Marian Langan entertained this noon at luncheon in honor of Miss Bernice Whitney, a bride of the week. Pink and white sweet peas formed the centerpiece for the table and there were favors for each guest of corsage bouquets of sweet peas, the bride-to-be having a miniature bridal bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The afternoon was spent hemming tea towels for Miss Whitney and a miscellaneous shower presented by little Marie Howard-Gould Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rees Gould, to Mr. Warren Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Howard, was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the church of the Good Shepherd, the Rev. Thomas J. Collar officiating. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Grace Slabaugh played on the organ and just before the entrance of the wedding party Miss Alice Duval sang. The chancel was banked with palms, ferns and smilax, while Easter lilies and pink Killarney roses filled the altar vases. White stain ribbons, which were stretched by the ushers, Mr. Herbert Ryan, Mr. Clyde Barton of Pawnee City, Mr. Chester Nieman and Dr. George Hansen of Hastings, Neb., were held in place at each pew by tiny silk American flags. The bride wore a flesh-colored, heavy strain gown, made with a full skirt and draped in chantilly lace. It was cut short with a low V-shaped neck bodice of chantilly lace, trimmed with iridescent lace. The sleeves were long and made of the flesh-colored silk net. The court train, which extended from the shoulders, was three yards long and was embroidered in white chenille. The veil, which was also full length, was bound in narrow white stain ribbon and held in place by a two-inch frill at the back of a close-fitting chantilly lace cap. She carried a shower bouquet of pink Killarney roses and lilies of the valley and wore a strand of graduating pearl beads, the gift of the groom.

Miss Katherine Gould, sister of the bride and her only attendant, wore a pink stain gown made full and short, a wide band of silver lace, pointed at the top and finished on the bottom with blue silk bows around. The bodice was of silver lace with angel sleeves of pink silk net. She wore a becoming pink mahlina picture hat, with silver trimmings and blue silk roses to match the gown and an old-fashioned bouquet of pink sweet peas arranged in a silver frill in the center of which was an Easter lily.

Mrs. Gould's gown was a blue silk marquisette over flesh-colored satin and was trimmed in heavy rose point lace. The younger set and intimate friends were asked to the reception at the home, which was decorated in pink roses and Easter lilies. The dining room table had for its centerpiece a bowl of the same room were the Misses Helen Straight, Ruth Anderson and Gladys Robertson, while those assisting in the parlors were Mesdames Chester Nieman, Paul Wadsworth, Council Bluffs; C. V. Gould, Will Ross and the Misses Loie Howard and Mildred Marr of Kansas City.

The couple left on the 10 o'clock train for Chicago. On their return they will be at home at Fortieth and Hamilton streets.

The bride's going away suit was a dark blue, with a collar of old rose embroidered in gray and old rose. Her hat was of old rose and gray and her blouse an old rose embroidered in beads.

The out-of-town guests were: Messrs. Roy and Edwin Gould, brothers of the bride, from Persia, Ia.; Mr. T. H. Platter, the grandfather of the bride, of Persia, Ia.; and Miss Minnie Platter of Red Oak, Ia.

Mrs. Chester Nieman and Mrs. Harold Sobotker will give a tea in honor of Mrs. Howard April 18 at the home of the former after the honeymoon trip.

Dress Reform Is Up for Discussion By Club Women

Mrs. Benjamin S. Baker was elected leader of the political and social science department of the Omaha Woman's club Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. J. Bailey, Mrs. D. M. McGinty and Mrs. C. W. Hayes, in the foregoing order, were elected assistants; Mrs. T. E. Brady and Mrs. T. R. Ward, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Two weeks from yesterday the department will have luncheon at the Hotel Castle.

Dress reform was discussed. Mrs. W. P. Harford spoke from her long experience on the evils of insufficient dress. "The native African does not need clothes, but we who do need them seem to be wearing about as few as we can," she said. "The Japanese and Chinese think we are immodest, because with our tight clothing, we show our forms. They say that the purpose of clothing is to veil the form. We are approaching the days of Rome, when women received callers in the bath. It is hardening woman's nature to wear clothes that show the form. The woman of the street cannot be told from the girls of our homes by dress. Only their brazen faces reveal their natures."

"If all women will stand together for modesty in dress, girls will follow. Fine, modest girls can keep boys clean," asserted Dr. Abbie Jane Holmes. "There is no greater source of ill health today than dress. Short skirts in moderation are sanitary, low-necked dresses in moderation are good for the circulation, but short sleeves cause congestion, while wet feet from lack of rubbers, cause serious ailments and high-heels cause nerve-tire and sciatic rheumatism. If you demand medium-heeled shoes, dealers who try to sell you high-heeled ones will give you what you want."

Working Wonders with a Jersey

WHAT wonderful things can be done with Jersey! In witness whereof behold this little frock of soft gray with facings and trimmings of king's blue. The underskirt is of blue, as are the cuffs, buttons, underside of the collar, back of the sash and the slot through which the surplice crosses before it becomes a tasseled sash. The fullness falls in irregular plaitings which presage the return of accordion pleating.

Preparedness Against Flies

One warfare is never ended, and that is the one against the housefly. The summer campaign is about to begin, and it should be waged with relentless vigor. Only by keeping at it all the time can the fly scourge be held in check. Flies are dangerous; they are the link that connects the unhealthy with the healthy. If you would avoid disease, or the spread of disease, kill the fly.

The United States government makes the following suggestion for the destruction of house flies. Formaldehyde and sodium salicylate are the two best fly poisons. Both are superior to arsenic. They have their advantages for household use. They are not a poison to children; they are convenient to handle, their dilutions are simple and they attract the flies. A formaldehyde solution of approximately the correct strength may be made by adding three teaspoonfuls of the concentrated formaldehyde solution, commercially known as formalin, to a pint of water. Similarly, the proper concentration of sodium salicylate may be obtained by dissolving three teaspoonfuls of the pure chemical (a powder) to a pint of water. A container, such as shown above, has been found convenient for automatically keeping the solution always available for flies to drink. An ordinary, thin-walled drinking glass is filled or partially filled with the solution. A saucer, or small plate, in which is placed a piece of white blotting paper cut the size of the dish, is put bottom up over the glass. The whole is then quickly inverted, a match is placed under the edge of the glass, and the container is ready for use. As the solution dries out of the saucer the liquid seal at the edge of the glass is broken and more liquid flows into the lower receptacle. Thus the paper is always kept moist.

Any odor pleasing to man is offensive to the fly and vice versa, and will drive them away.

Take 5 cents worth of oil of lavender, mix it with the same quantity of water, put it in a common glass atomizer and spray it around the rooms where flies are. In the dining room spray it lavishly even on the table linen. The odor is very disagreeable to flies, but refreshing to most people. Geranium, mignonette, heliotrope, and white clover are offensive to flies. They especially dislike the odor of honeysuckle and hop blossoms.

According to a French scientist, flies have intense hatred for the color blue. Rooms decorated in blue will help to keep out the flies.

Mix together one tablespoonful of cream, one of ground black pepper and one of brown sugar. This mixture is poisonous to flies. Put in a saucer, darken the room except one window, and in that set the saucer. To clear the house of flies, burn pyrethrum powder. This stupefies the flies, but they must be swept up and burned.
