Mackay, rector of All Saints' church in Omaha. The young couple was accompanied by Miss Helen Davis and Mr. Boyd Tucker of this city. Mr. Treynor, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. V. L. Treynor of this city, attended the state university until recently, but is now a salesman for the Northwestern Automobile company. Mr. and Mrs. Treynor will make their home with the groom's parents for the present.

Among the entertainments given last week in honor of the Wilcox-Spindler bridal party was a dinner given on Tuesday evening by Miss Gertrude Tinley. The table was charmingly decorated with sweet peas, white snapdragon and maiden hair ferns and was lighted with pink candles. The favors were novelties sent from New York by Miss Tinley's sister. Each girl had a tiny French basket of gilt and silver, with a miniature plant growing in it, holding a name card, while each man had a little stein. Whistles in the form of cigars were used as place cards for the men and those of the girls were in the form of carnations.

The Garden club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Kintz. Spring gardens and the progress they have already made was discussed and Mrs. E. P. Schoentgen gave a very interesting talk on the composite family of plants.

Miss Esther Katherine Spindler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Spindler, and Glenn Max Wilcox, son of Mrs. J. F. Wilcox, were married Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick Walter Evans and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The walls of the church were covered with wild smilax, while palms and ferns banked the choir loft. The rostrum was carpeted in white and a white altar rail was adorned with great bunches of calla lilies. A shower of white ribbons with white doves dropped from each chandelier and from over the choir loft. Ferns and pink and white roses were tied at the end of each pew. A very delightful musical program by Mrs. Laurence Winship of Boston, sister of the bride, Miss DeLone of Omaha and Miss Marguerite Morehouse preceded the ceremony. At 8 o'clock the white ribbons were stretched by the ushers and Miss Morehouse began the Lohengrin wedding march. The four bridesmaids entered separately and each was gowned a different color. Miss Jeanette Greenhields wore a charming gown of deep rose tulle over silver cloth, trimmed with crystal. She wore a crownless hat of tulle, with streamers of silver ribbon with tiny roses. Miss Shugar wore Nile green tulle over silver cloth, trimmed with net embroidered with silver. The bridesmaids' flowers were all alike. French bouquets of pink sweet peas, gold roses, violets and lilies of the valley on white colonial staffs, tied with bows of pink and white, with showers of rainbow ribbon. DEFILED U. S. FLAG, NEGRO BOUND OVER Girl Detective Says William Marshall Said He Would Carry German Flag.

BEER MONEY FOR HIS GIRL

Because Dorothy Haldeman, 220 North Twenty-third street, who says she is a "special investigator and private detective," alleged he said he would "carry a German flag up Six-William Marshall, colored, 983 North Twenty-fourth street, was bound over to the district court under bonds of $1,000 by Police Magistrate Madden.

Miss Haldeman and Lucille McMullan, bookkeeper at the Chicago laundry, testified against Marshall. They both asserted he entered the laundry to get a package, and that while there he brought up the subject of the war. They testified he said he would not fight for the United States, but would go to Vancouver first.

Miss Haldeman alleged Marshall said the United States had never done anything for him. She said she then asked him if Germany had ever done anything for him and that he replied, "that's my business."

Following this, Miss Haldeman testified Marshall said he made his money easily and that he didn't have to work for $9 or $10 a week, which wouldn't keep his girl in beer.

When he faced the police, Marshall had a small flag conspicuously displayed on his coat lapel. When he was arrested officers say the flag was not in sight.
