Rugs, at Prices Very Much Under Those Quoted at Retail Everywhere Today

We purchased these Rugs months ago, when the prices of dyes and materials had not advanced to the high pinnacle they occupy today—and acting according to the policy that has guided this store for nearly half a century, we give you the benefit of our foresight, by quoting prices equal to those that prevailed in the retail market months ago—you save the difference.

French Wilton Rugs

Makers predict that they will bring from $95.00 to $100.00 in a short time, as there seems to be no relief in the upward trend of the price of raw materials.

We offer you these Rugs at the following prices, based on our purchase some time ago:

If we bought in today's markets we should have to ask $85.00. A saving of $10.00 for you.

9x12 Feet, at $75.00

If bought in the present market would have to bring $80.00 here. Another saving of $10.00 for you.

8½x10½ Feet, $70.00

Royal Axminster Rugs

In offering these particular Rugs, we desire to lay emphasis upon the fact that if we bought them in today's market, the price to you here would be $32.50—we have been selling them for $27.50, but for Monday only, we say $21.98. A clear saving of $10.52.
