

NO NEED TO WAVE FLAG BEFORE SHARK

Lloyd George Uses Phrase Referring to Entrance of U. S. Into War.

FOOD PROBLEM IS BIGGEST

London, April 27.—In an important speech at the Guild hall today, Premier Lloyd George discussed the military situation, the Irish question and other of the major problems with which the government is now engaged.

In referring to the submarine menace and the food problem, the premier said:

"There is no doubt we have lost many ships, but they brought America in and I am perfectly satisfied with the balance. America, after great patience, came to the conclusion there was no use of waving a neutral flag in the teeth of a shark and it is definitely with us to put down this menace once for all."

Real Chance to Fight.

After alluding to the organization of the ministry of munitions, the premier said:

"Now, thank God, our men have a real chance in the fight. The story now is different from what it was in the early stages of the war. Before June, 1915, we lost eighty-four guns and a considerable number of prisoners. Since that date we have not lost a single gun, while we have captured 400. Regarding prisoners, we have taken at least ten to one. The tide has now turned. Victory is coming increasingly nearer. That is the explanation of the despair which has driven them to black piracy on the high seas."

Food Problem Biggest.

"This is the next job we have to deal with. Our minimum problem is to feed a population of 45,000,000 in a country which is not self-supporting, to provide the necessary material and food to equip our armies and keep the seas free for the transport of the troops of ourselves and our allies. That has had to be done against the swarm of pirates moving unseen under the trackless seas, since the Germans determined to sink all craft indiscriminately without warning."

"The best brains of America and Britain are concentrated on this problem. There never was a human problem which was not solvable, and I believe this is no exception to the rule."

Dealing with the effort to make the country self-supporting, the premier said, guarantees to the farmer and the farm laborer had brought a million fresh acres of land under cultivation. "I do not say that the war is going to continue through 1918," Mr. Lloyd George went on, "but if the German knew that by holding out until the end of 1918 he could win, he would hold out. If he knows that the longer he holds out the worse it will be for him, peace will come much earlier."

The premier said plans were being made for the harvest of 1918, which would guarantee that without a ton of foodstuffs coming from abroad no one would starve. But the country must help in husbanding foodstuffs.

Settle Irish Question Now.

"We must convert Ireland from a suspicious, surly, dangerous neighbor to a cheerful, loyal comrade. Settlement of the Irish question is essential for the peace of the world and essential to a speedy victory in the war. I appeal to the patriotism of all men to sink everything for the one purpose of getting this question out of the way."

DEFEAT ROOSEVELT ARMY AMENDMENT

ington, who supported the selective draft.

"The man who must conduct the war, our commander-in-chief, urges it as a wise and necessary measure now," said he. "The military authorities almost without exception urge it. The senate committee, that has fully examined into it, recommends it. The lessons of this great war point to it as a wise course. Why should I not vote for it?"

The Washington senator said that he knew many of his constituents are opposed to the selective draft, but that he believed those constituents expected him to weigh and consider questions and perform his duty.

Kenyon Favors Amendment.

Senator Kenyon said he expected to support the bill, but wanted exemptions in favor of men of employments of military value changed so that the power of enforcing such exemptions would not be in the hands of military men alone. He approved the La Follette amendment for civil tribunals to pass upon questions of exemption.

The Iowa senator declared he favored also an amendment which would permit Colonel Roosevelt to go to the front in command of American troops.

"It would be an inspiring thing," he said, "if Colonel Roosevelt could lead a division side by side with the tri-color of France. Nothing would help bring the war to a speedy end as much as that. But they say it

It will be the logical time to supply one's entire summer's supply of sheer cotton blouses, as well as faintly Georgette blouses. Shipments have been pouring in by every express, bringing the very last word in blouse styles. Early shopping Saturday will have its full advantages during this sale—better service—better assortments, and avoiding the usual Saturday afternoon shopping crowds.—Advertisement.

ALLEGED MASTER SPY ON TRIAL AT GOTHAM

David Lamar, Wolf of Wall Street, and Six Other Americans Also Arraigned.

PLOT TO CALL STRIKES

New York, April 25.—Franz von Rintelen, alleged German "master spy" and seven Americans accused of having conspired to instigate strikes in munitions plants were brought before the federal court today for trial.

The other defendants are David Lamar, known as "the wolf of Wall Street"; former Congressman H. Robert Fowler and Frank Buchanan of Illinois, former Attorney General Frank S. Monnet of Ohio, Henry B. Martin, a Washington lobbyist, and Herman Schulweis and Jacob C. Taylor.

They are said to have operated through the medium of a "labor's national peace council." Counsel for Rintelen sought delay on the plea that his client will be unable to obtain a fair trial now, as the jury will look upon him as an enemy. Judge Cushman overruled this objection, as he did also a plea by the other defendants, that as "loyal American citizens they should not be forced to stand trial with an alien enemy."

would demoralize our army. It seems to me it would demoralize the army of the enemy more."

Conscript Wealth Also.

Senator Kenyon read figures to show enormous increases in the incomes of corporations affected by the war and added:

"I want to say that while I am voting for conscription of men, I am going to vote later on for conscription of the great incomes of this country. In my judgment every income above $100,000 should be commandeered or conscripted for the benefit of the government to carry on this war. That proposition is going to come up before we get through with the tax bill."

Senator McCumber declared that 10,000,000 best trained officers and men would not win the war for the United States if the submarines were not overcome.

Volunteer System Failure.

Enlistments in the army since April 1, Senator Calder declared, show the failure of the volunteer system and "sustain completely the argument that the United States cannot raise an adequate force by that system." "Talk about raising 1,000,000 men overnight is nonsense. The United States has been actually at war for three weeks and the ranks of the regular army and National Guard have been open to more than 600,000 volunteers. They are still open—wide open—and the volunteers are coming in slowly."

Mrs. Funston was ill at the time of the sudden death of her son, which is said to have aggravated her weakened condition. Notwithstanding this, she went to California to attend his funeral.

GREAT COUNTER ATTACK FAILS

Desperate Efforts Made by Germans to Drive Britons From Captured Posts.

TEUTON LINE IS MENACED

(By Associated Press.) Desperate efforts of the Germans to drive the British from the captured heights on the Arras front have failed after four days of the bitterest fighting that the world has seen since the bloody days of Verdun.

Military critics expect the attacks will be renewed if the German man power can stand the awful drain, as the retention by General Haig of the hills crowning the plain of Douai spells almost certain doom to the Wotan line, the last protecting barrier between Douai and Cambrai.

French Critic Analyzes Gains.

Paris, April 27.—Under the caption, "Why We Attacked," a writer in the Matin points out that before the present forward movement began the German plan undoubtedly was to escape from the grasp of the allies. He continues:

"To frustrate this plan the French and British widened the front of their attack so as to overlap the front on which the Germans were retreating. The result was that the enemy found both his wings involved. He decided to fight on the first line, and the French plan was altered to suit."

"The result of the first and second days' fighting was that the Germans lost fully 100,000 men, and what was more important, were obliged to engage thirty-three out of their forty-three reserve divisions. The dearly bought but valuable results of the Aisne and Champagne operations are thus:

"First, the enemy was prevented from carrying out his own plan, thus disposing of the famous Hindenburg scheme, which was to be followed on the conclusion of the retreat from Noyon; second, the enemy was obliged to order his troops to hold out on the first line, but the whole line has been captured, a tactical success, to which must be added heavy losses in men, material and guns."

French Official Report.

The French have captured several trenches on the heights around Moronvillers and have also gained ground near Hurbise and Cerny, the war office announced today. One hundred and thirty cannon have been captured since April 16.

The statement follows: "The artillery fighting was rather spirited south of St. Quentin, in the sector between Nanteuil-La-Fosse and Sancy and near Ville-Aux-Bois. During the night German surprise attacks against our front were repulsed."

"Near Hurbise and Cerny we gained ground and took forty prisoners. Near Moronvillers we captured several trench elements and occupied a point of support east of the mountain without a name. During an incursion into the enemy lines at the forest of Le Preire French detachments inflicted heavy losses on the adversary, destroyed shelters and brought back prisoners."

"Between Saisons and Auberville since April 16 we have captured 130 cannon."

British Capture Important Posts.

London, April 27.—Important positions between Roueux and Gavrelle and near the Arras-Cambrai road have been captured by the British, the war office announced today.

"The enemy made a minor unsuccessful attack last night near Fayet, northwest of St. Quentin."

"During the night we captured the quarries on the eastern outskirts of Hargicourt."

"Near the Arras-Cambrai road and on the spur between Roueux and Gavrelle important enemy positions were captured by us."

"Northwest of Lens a German raiding party was repulsed."

CHANGE IN LINEUP OF NEBRASKANS

Three Members of State in Congress for Selective Draft and One for Conscription.

SLOAN STATES POSITION

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—When the vote in the house is taken tomorrow on the bill authorizing the president to increase temporarily the military service of the United States, it will show a decided change in the Nebraska delegation.

When five days ago it looked as if the members from Nebraska would vote almost as a unit for the volunteer proposition, now it seems certain that Stephens and Reavis will be joined by Kinkaid in voting for the selective draft idea and the fourth member of the delegation may see his way clear to stand for conscription when the ballot is taken at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

Representative Sloan during the consideration of the bill to increase the military force, tonight, in explanation of his position said:

"I see no reason for all this delay. Conscription filled all the space between the lines of the war declaration. It was voiced in the war message and I debated it then. I have my choice now. I was ready to express it then, and did. I shall again do so by my vote. I was convinced that patriotism would impel men to the colors quicker than conscription could. Let us express our choice of method and then vote to raise the army for which there is no choice."

"We hear nothing now of sinking boats and drowning people, but we hear all about the critical problem of the east. The real motive for war existed April 5 and was manifest to those in authority then as now, but the American people were not informed. Men neglected study and deliberation then and their judgment was accepted. By that decision the nation is bound. There should be no more delay by this house."

"The men who voted against war have delayed neither in committee nor house swift legislative action. They yielded no constitutional right then; they shrink from no duty now. They will probably show to the nation and the world that while they were guided by judgment instead of impulse they will not shrink from action or responsibility."

Peter Peterson, Lincoln, minority leader of the Nebraska house of representatives, who has been in Washington on matters before the War department, left today for New York, but will return to the capital on Monday.

War Time Bread Will Keep Fresh Much Longer

New York, April 27.—In response to the suggestion of official Washington that everything possible be done to conserve the nation's food supply, the Hotel Martinique has placed on its menu a special kind of bread that represents a saving of wheat flour. It has been named "Martinique Old Glory Bread" and it is said to be even more nutritious than the ordinary bread.

Jules Biron, French chef, says a similar kind of bread is being eaten now throughout France.

He gives the recipe as follows: Four ounces rye flour, twelve ounces whole wheat, three pounds white flour, one quart water, one-half ounce yeast, one ounce salt.

Breads containing more nutriment, this war-time bread will keep much longer. It can be kept at least a week without getting stale and it is really at its best several days after it is baked.
