

SOUTH SIDE BANKS HOLD UP DEPOSITS

Show Slight Gain Over Last
Call and Great Increase
Over Year Ago.

LOANS ALSO ARE GREATER

Gains by the South Side institutions enabled Omaha bank deposits to mark up an increase over the deposits at the time of the last call when the United States comptroller issued a call Friday morning for a statement of business May 1.

The total bank deposits on May 1 were $600,000 larger than on March 5, when the comptroller issued his last previous call. The gain over a year ago, however, was very large, over $400,000.

Every one of the South Side banks, both national and state, showed marked increases. In Omaha proper the Merchants National, State Bank of Omaha, Corn Exchange National and American State banks showed slight gains. The larger Omaha banks fell down a little. Every institution in the city, however, showed a large increase over a year ago.

Loans showed an increase over both the last call and a year ago.

Following are the statements and comparisons:

Held as Suspect in the Killing of Policeman

F. J. Curtis, who had two revolvers on his hips and $190 in his pockets when arrested at North Platte April 26, is held by local police as a suspect in the murder April 24 of Patrolman George H. Connelly of Minneapolis.

At War Tax On Profits Commercial Club Balks

The eight specific measures for financing the war thus far proposed have been endorsed by the Commercial club of Omaha with the exception of the feature which seeks to make retroactive the taxes to be imposed on incomes and profits.

Fifty-Six Aliens Take New Oath of Allegiance

Fifty-six aliens will receive their second naturalization papers in Judge Day's court Monday. The judge will present the papers, administer the oath and make a talk to each new citizen. Eight Germans who are ready for their second papers will not be called to receive them until the war is over. This is in accordance with a ruling of the government.

Cards to Be Used in the Selective Draft for War Have Reached Here

Mayor Dahlman has received from Washington two sacks of cards, which will be used in Omaha for registration in connection with selective conscription. The mayor expects to deliver the cards to the election commissioner.

These cards are 4 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches and contain on one side twelve questions, with spaces for answers. The information to be written refers to personal history of those who will be subject to conscription. On reverse side of the cards are spaces to be filled by registrars.

Mayor Dahlman received no information with the shipment, but expects instructions when the conscription shall have become effective.

GROW CHICKENS TO GET MORE MEAT

Uncle Sam Calls for Additional Hundred Million Pounds of Poultry.

DON'T SELL TOO YOUNG

By A. R. GROH.

Put more chickens to work this summer. Chickens on the farm require practically no grain feed in the summer. They forage for themselves on bugs and worms and greens that have no other value.

Uncle Sam says we need 100,000,000 pounds increase in poultry this year. Nebraska's share of this is 3,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Farmer and Mr. Suburbanite, now is the time to get the little chicks hatched out. Any biddy that feels the maternal instinct should be given a setting of eggs and encouraged. She and her offspring may easily produce twenty-five pounds of meat by fall. For poultry is the astest growing meat we have.

This year demands greater care than ever before of the young chicks that are hatched. It is your duty to the nation as well as to yourself to take every possible care to keep the young chicks from dying.

Hints to Poultry Raisers.

Here are a few suggestions from the United States Department of Agriculture, circular No. 206, "Hints to Poultry Raisers," which can be secured by sending 5 cents to the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C.

"A well-ventilated cellar is the best place to operate the incubator."

"The hen, if given proper care, is the best incubator for the farmer."

"Straw and hay make good nesting material. Whole corn is a good feed for sitting hens."

"Powder the chicks occasionally during the first eight weeks. Chicks should not receive feed until they are 36 hours old. Never mix chicks of different ages."

"Poultry houses should be in well-drained locations on porous or sandy soil. A south front is desirable, with good ventilation and light. Roosts should all be on the same level, about two and a half feet from the ground. Nests should be darkened, as biddy prefers to lay in the dark."

Mixed Feed.

"A good feeding mixture for laying hens is cracked corn, wheat and oats, scattered in clean litter, so they'll have to scratch for it. A good feed for chicks the first three days is stale bread soaked in a little milk. Most of the milk should be squeezed out before feeding."

"A reliable poultry book or the circular mentioned above should be secured by every person who raises chickens and this important and profitable line should be pushed to the limit this summer."

Federal Control Of Dairy Cattle Is Bossie's Plan

"I believe that the state or federal authorities should stop the sale of dairy cattle to packing houses."

Since January 1 fourteen dairies in and near Omaha have gone out of business, disposing of 425 dairy cattle, many of which went to the packing plants to be slaughtered.

The high cost of feed is given as the reason for this situation. Dairymen predict unprecedented milk prices soon.

C. B. Post is now selling his herd of fifty-two cows at auction. Next Tuesday the Underwood and the Rock Springs dairies will sell thirty-five and fifty cows respectively.

The Elmwood dairy last week sold thirty head at the stock yards at an average price of $115. Jessen Bros. sold sixty-two head last week.

Barker Block Elevator Falls, njuring Three

The elevator in the Barker block, southwest corner of Fifteenth and Farnam streets, fell ten feet yesterday evening with Operator Henry Brown and two passengers aboard. None were seriously injured, though Dr. H. H. Keim suffered a severe shock to his nerves. Charles J. Johnson, building contractor, coming from the rooms of the Builders' exchange, sixth floor, was badly shaken up, but suffered no evil consequences. Dr. Keim has been a sick man for some months and has but recently come out of the hospital. He is still very weak and nervous and the shock proved almost too much for him. The city building inspector has inspected the elevator a number of times in the last several weeks. Members of the Builders' exchange feel the elevator should be condemned now and the installation of a new one forced.

Fed Lambs at $17.70 Break All Former Records

Two cars of the George C. Belmont lambs sold Thursday to Tom Gill of the Cudaby Packing company through the George M. Wood Sheep Commission company for $17.70, breaking all previous records for fed lambs.

Boys Scouts March To Arouse Omaha To Nation's Need

"Every Scout Feeds a Soldier!" "We're Doing Our Bit in the Food Crisis. Are You?" "We Are Running a Ten-Acre Farm."

These and other snappy signs will be the banners carried this morning by at least fifty Boy Scouts when they parade.

Scout Master C. H. English, issuing his call to his boy troops, has asked every one to appear at 9 o'clock with full equipment and armed with some kind of a noticeable garden tool, such as a rake, hoe, spade or wheelbarrow.

From headquarters in Scout formation they will march to the court house lawn and there Mayor Dahlman, the city commissioners and other public officials will receive them. Mayor Dahlman will present each Scout official with a hoe.
