Women Folk to Go With Officers.

If many more young men from the families of Omaha's social set are accepted by the government for the training camp at Fort Snelling, we may have a summer camp of young Omaha women at one of the numerous lakes nearby. It all depends on how much liberty the embryo officers are allowed.

Mrs. Harold L. Pritchett, whose husband was in the first list of accepted, says that if her husband can visit her often than once a month, she will take a cottage on the lakes not far from Fort Snelling. If she does, a group of her friends may go with her, Miss Betty Bruce and Misses Menie and Elizabeth Davis are talking of accompanying her.

It would be a great camp for any number of others if the young men are allowed any amount of leisure. In the list already announced are some of our most popular young men about town, Robert Burns, Victor Caldwell, Isaac Carpenter, Jr., Drexel Sibley, Malcolm Baldrige, F. B. Kirken-dall, Allan Tukey, Robert McCague, Charles Burgess, Randall Curtis, Carlisle Allen and others. Some of the horror of war might be averted if in between drills and training the men might flock with their own young friends from home.

Several recent brides may be among the sojourners near the summer camp. Mrs. John Caldwell, who is now in the visiting Mrs. Elias Vail and Miss Mary Van Kleec in Poughkeepsie, may be one of these. Mrs. Warren Howard may have a husband called to the colors before long. Mrs. Anan Raymond is planning to accompany her captain husband wherever he is sent. Warren Breckenridge is another young society man who is in the military lists, as is also William Peterson, whose engagement to Miss Katherine Krug was announced last winter. Amos Thomas is another young man popular in college circles who has been commissioned as an officer.

Bridge for June Bride.

Mrs. John R. Mogan entertained at bridge at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Parks, in honor of her sister, Miss Margaret Parks, a June bride. Daffodils and white carnations were used as decorations.

Moyer-Fuller Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Minerva Pur-rington Fuller, daughter of Mrs. John A. Fuller, to Dr. Torrance Calvin Moyer of Lincoln, took place at the home of the bride's mother this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. A. A. De-larue of the First Baptist church performed the ceremony. Palms and pink roses decorated the house. No music or wedding procession preceded the ceremony, which was performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives. Little John and Frances Fuller, nephew and niece of the bride, stretched the ribbons.

The bride wore her going away suit of champagne silk tulle, cut on simple stylish lines, and high shoes to match. She wore a medium sized black tricorn, trimmed with black aigrettes and faced with a narrow band of rose color. Her blouse was of rose color. She wore a corsage bouquet of sweet heart roses and lilies of the valley.

An informal reception for a few intimate friends followed the ceremony. The bride's cousins, the Misses Hazel and Carol Howard, assisted in the dining room. Out-of-town guests were the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Moyer, and daughter, Mildred, of Lincoln, and Mrs. John Andre Fuller, with John and Frances Fuller. The bridal pair left this evening for their wedding trip, keeping their destination secret. They will be at home in Lincoln in the Pannetta apartments.

The national organization is beginning work to provide for a hospital ship costing $50,000, and the Omaha chapter is now planning various schemes to raise money for their share in the service. # Ultra Smart French Models

A charm of design worthy one of the great French dressmakers distinguishes this white net dress. The straight slim silhouette, with a colored ribbon at the waist line over which the net waist falls, is very becoming. The waist is bound with white moire ribbon, and a simple embroidery is the trimming.

Just the frock of spring and for cool days of summer is this; copied from one of the most favored French models and in one piece, on a good lining. The "smock dress" design is very clever; it is navy blue and beige georgette crepe embroidered in blue.

What Women Are Doing

During her career of fifty-five years on the stage Mme. Bernhardt has appeared in more than 250 different plays. One hundred girls of Okla-oma City have formed a military company and purpose to wear the regulation uniform. Rhode Island has the distinction of being the first eastern state to give women the privilege of voting for president. According to the Congressional Year Book there is a church at Eden, Fla., composed wholly of women members. The first woman school teacher mentioned in American records was "the good Mistress Heally," who taught at Cambridge, Mass., in 1680. Miss F. L. Stevenson, private secretary to Lloyd George, the British premier, was born in London, the daughter of a Scotch mother and a French father, and is a graduate of London university.

MAY 15th ALL DETROIT ELECTRIC CAR PRICES ADVANCE $100

Now Is the Time to Buy a Detroit Electric And Credit Your Bank Account $100

After May 15th the prices on all Detroit Electrics advance $100. Until then they range from $1875 to $2475.

We could cheapen the cars and hold the present prices. But we won't. Detroit Electric quality will be maintained.

So—if you buy now you pocket a clear saving of $100.

All arguments point to the Detroit Electric as the best buy on the automobile market. For its power and size, it is the lowest-cost car to run.

Cost of electricity for charging is low and getting lower in every town. There is little chance of its rising through exigencies of the war, although gasoline is constantly advancing.

Everyone should economize in their use of gasoline. Everyone who drives a Detroit Electric is helping to conserve our gasoline supply and prevent prohibitive prices.

The Detroit Electric cuts operating costs down to bed-rock. No expensive chauffeur need be employed. Owners tell us that their average monthly cost for power is from $5 to $7. They say that eight to ten thousand miles per set of tires is usual for the Detroit Electric.

Repair and replacement expenses are almost negligible.

Come in and let us show you how the modern Detroit Electric actually performs on the road. It is a big, roomy, powerful car that rides easily, drives straight and clings to the road at all speeds.
