Currie Has Edge Over Lyons and Omaha Wins Conflict in Eleventh Stanza, Two to One.

Currie had a slight shade, as he allowed but three hits, while the Rourke artillery nicked Lyons eight times. He also whifted eight, while Lyons fanned five.

The Rourkes were the first to score, marking up one run in the fourth. Big Bill Bradley combed a double to center which sailed over White's bean when that youth misjudged the drive. Schick laid down a neat sacrifice and Tony Brottem scored Brad with a long sacrifice fly to Coy.

Irelan made a meat hand stop of the ball, but he couldn't throw to first in time to catch the fleet-footed Goodwin. Hahn sacrificed. Currie threw the pill into the dirt, and, although Brottem blocked it, it rolled to one side and Goodwin sneaked to third, from which station he scored on Jones' sacrifice fly to Thompson.

The count remained I to I until the eleventh. Schick started the round with a single through third. Morrie took second on Brottem's infield out and scooted home when Irelan reefed a single to coate.
