R. L. Wheeler Memorial Church Celebrates Its Thirtieth Anniversary With Special Services.

The thirtieth anniversary of the R. L. Wheeler Memorial church was observed Sunday with special services, both morning and evening.

John C. Wharton speaking on "The Place and Power of the Church," told of the conditions existing in South Omaha thirty years ago and compared them with the conditions of today. At that time, he said, South Omaha was a wide open town with saloons, gambling and vice of all kinds on every hand. He told of the coming of the church and the influence it had on the people, saying now the condition is exactly opposite, instead of there being all saloons and no churches there are now no saloons and plenty of churches. This, he declared, was because the churches had taught the people how they should live, built schools and libraries and in every way exercised their influence to build a better town.

Elder Mason G. Zerbe in his talk, "The Early Church as I Found It," grew rhapsodic and contrasted the present size of the church with the number at the first service he attended here. He said there were six women and three men at the service, today the congregation numbers about 700.

At the evening service E. H. J. J. spoke of "Some Early Recollections," John A. Bradley took for his subject, "The Growth of This Church," and read congratulatory letters from absent members. W. E. Cheek, "The Church of Today," and Henry F. Keiser spoke of "The Church of the Future."

Special music was arranged for the occasion, which was very well attended.

LAD GOES FISHING AND IS DROWNED

First Accidental Drowning Occurs When James Kocourk, Aged 9 Years, Slips in Missouri River.

James Kocourk, jr., 9 years old, 411 Hickory street, was drowned in the Missouri river at the foot of Jones street near the Jones street sewer Sunday afternoon. The lad had sneaked away from home with his brother, James, 4, and Gregor Musil, 408 Pine street, 9 years old, to go fishing.

James lost his footing on the bank while trying to adjust his pole and slipped into the river. The lad tried to save himself but was unable to do so because of the wet bank made slippery by the rain yesterday afternoon.

Gregor Musil attempted to save the lad by holding out his fish pole, but it was not long enough to reach James, who sank in the water almost immediately. The body came up once fifteen feet away from the bank near a whirlpool, Gregor said. It was lost to sight almost at once.

Nearly half an hour later Frank and Gregor rushed into the Kocourk home and told excitedly what had taken place. Mr. Kocourk immediately notified the police, who responded with a lung motor and grappling irons. Police spent a vain hour trying to locate the body, which had been washed down stream.

GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORD TIRES

A Clinic in TIRE Anatomy

STRIPPING back the thick, tough Black Safety Tread of this Goodrich Silvertown Cord Tire, we here lay its rubberized, cable-cord body. Note the size of the cable-cord, cross-wrapped into two layers, and but two. Under the hide there are but three tires:

FABRIC, swathed in five to seven plies;
THREAD WEB, a five to seven ply MASS OF STRINGS;
CABLE-CORD, the unique two-ply, rubber saturated, patent-protected tire body, found ONLY in Silvertown, the original cord tire.

Tires wear out inside, not outside. They are burned out by fever, rubbed up between the plies of the tire.

As every extra ply in a tire means extra tire fever, extra wearing out, Silvertowns with but two plies outlive many-ply tires with their multiplied heat.

Though they cost more than ordinary tires, you can not afford to deny yourself their smarter appearance, smoother riding comfort and gasoline saving economy.
