

Stand Behind the Man Behind the Gun

THE boys on the firing line--in the trenches--atop the conning towers--at the breeches of the artillery pieces--astride the cavalry horses, will be fighting for YOUR interests, present and future.

They must be fed and clothed; their weapons must be bright for duty. They must have ships, ammunition and supplies without end--without stint.

Our nation faces the greatest need for financial assistance it has ever known, for it has entered the mightiest of all human conflicts, and war is the most expensive business in the world.

Lend What You Can To Your Country

It is your duty to help all you can, whether you have given assistance in other ways or not, to help in the great task of providing the sinews. This can be done only with money, millions and millions of money.

Ask Your Employer

What He Will Do To Help You Buy Your Bond?

No doubt he will be glad to do what other employers the country over are doing. They are advancing money to their employes to buy bonds and letting them pay in installments--so much down and so much a week. The bonds pay three and one-half per cent interest.

Buy Bonds For the Babies

Saturday, June 9, is Children's Day in the Bond Campaign.

Make the little folks loyal citizens. Invest in a bond. Put the interest into the baby's savings account and some day the boy or girl will have a nice nest egg for business or an education.
