

Nebraska MOVE UNDER WAY TO SUPPLY SEED WHEAT

State Council of Defense Prepares to Co-Operate With the Farmers of Nebraska.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Neb., June 8.—(Special.)—The State Council of Defense is urging the County Council of Defense to ask each town in each county to organize a local labor bureau for co-operation with the state and national organizations.

Towns in Fillmore county that do not already have an organization or some individual to assist in looking after labor matters are requested to make arrangements at once if they are willing to extend the help that the state council desires. The precinct chairmen are requested to assist in this matter by asking the people of each town not organized to take action.

Notice as follows has been given to farmers of the state:
"The State Council of Defense is urging that preparations be made in each county to supply all necessary wheat for fall seeding.
Give Notice to Chairman.
"Any farmer who may not be supplied with fall wheat seed and who wishes assistance in finding the seed he needs is requested to apply to his precinct chairman, who will in turn report to the county council. We suggest also that any farmer who may need seed wheat should consult the bank with which he does business and see if some arrangement cannot be made for shipping seed wheat if it is found any community is short. Immediate action is urged because the present high price is draining the wheat out of the county.
"Any farmer or other person who has wheat he is willing to sell for seed, is requested to notify his local bank, his precinct chairman and the undersigned County Council of Defense.
"It is believed there is plenty of seed wheat in this county if it can be bought now and held in readiness for use when needed. It is as much a patriotic duty to provide seed for raising food as it is to support the government in any other way in this war. Ask Sheep Industry.
"The production of wool and mutton in the United States is a most important branch of agriculture.
"The sheep industry of Nebraska should be fostered and farmers will find it to their advantage to do so. The demand for wool and mutton is very large and very farmer in Nebraska would find it a profitable venture to keep a flock of sheep, even though a small one, on his farm.
"At the present time the government is needing vast quantities of woolen goods to clothe its soldiers and sailors, and every ounce of wool possible should be grown. Mutton now comprises a large part of the most supply of the country. There is no better place than Nebraska to raise sheep in.
"The Nebraska State Council of Defense calls the attention of the farmers of Nebraska to this important matter and urges the multiplication of sheep herds throughout the entire state. On the small farm sheep are especially profitable and useful."

FLAG DAY SET APART BY PROCLAMATION

Governor Neville Fixes Thursday of Next Week as Day to Honor Old Glory.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, June 8.—(Special.)—In keeping with the general observance of Flag day, Governor Neville has issued a proclamation setting apart Thursday, June 14, as a special day for exercises along patriotic lines. In Lincoln the observance of the day will be in connection with the exercises of the semi-centennial and patriotic organizations are expecting to have a large parade. The proclamation of the governor is as follows:
"June 14 has come to be recognized as Flag day in most, if not all, of the states of the Union and for several years has been specially mentioned as such by the governors of this state.
"This year it falls on one of the days of the semi-centennial celebration of the admission of Nebraska into the union. Such is the patriotic sentiment of the people at this time, that it needs no urging to have them display the flag; it is now in evidence everywhere. Nevertheless, some additional distinguishing features might be given in its display on that particular day. Many of the nations of the earth, belligerent and neutral, in the great world crisis, now look to our country as the most potent factor in the final settlement of the bitter controversy pending, and the Stars and Stripes will be welcomed by those who are struggling for the establishment of a form of government that will insure universal peace.
"In view of these conditions, I, Keith Neville, governor of Nebraska, set apart Thursday, June 14, as Flag day, to be observed in a manner that will give the best expression of the love we have for our country."

TO SELL LIBERTY BONDS IN STATE

Cole-Eight Liberty Bond Demonstration Tour to Spread Gospel in Cornhusker State.

A novel tour designed for the purpose of carrying still farther the efforts recently inaugurated by the Cole Motor Car company, to stimulate interest in the sale of Liberty bond bonds, has been arranged by the Traynor Automobile company, and the De Brown Auto Sales company of Omaha, who represent the Cole in this section. The tour will start Monday, June 11, from Omaha and will extend through the entire North Platte valley.

A short time ago the Cole Motor Car company announced that it would accept Liberty bonds at $102 in payment for Cole motor cars. An invitation was extended manufacturers and dealers in other lines to do the same thing.
As a result a great stimulus was given the bond sale throughout the country, and officials of the Cole company who presented the plan to Treasury department heads in Washington, were highly commended for the patriotism shown by the company.

Leave Omaha Monday.

The tour will be known as the Cole Eight Liberty Bond Demonstration tour—a big Cole Eight touring car having been selected for the trip.
Officials of the Traynor and De Brown organization will accompany the tour, together with H. R. Hyman, of the Martin-V. Kelley company of Toledo, O., who has taken charge of the Liberty bond plan for the Cole company.
Stops will be made at every important point along the way and it is possible that speeches will be made by various promoters of the bond sale in each community.
"By purchasing bonds and in turn using them to purchase commodities," said Mr. Hyman, "the people are killing two birds with one stone. They are aiding the government by buying the bonds and they are stimulating business when they buy."
Have Sold Many Bonds.
"In scores of cities over the country these Liberty bond tours are being held, and reports show that the people have responded valiantly. A vast army of bond recruits to support our military forces has been raised through these efforts.
"The tour which will start from Omaha is the first of its kind to be held in this section of the country. It will start from the Douglas county court house at noon Monday."

EAT WHAT YOU CAN CAN ALL THE REST

All Omaha Housewives Will Be Given an Opportunity to Learn How to Can for Winter.

By A. R. GROH.
We should eat what we can out of our gardens this summer, and what we can't eat we can can.
Is that proposition clear?
A person who can can and doesn't can in these canny times can be sure that she cannot be called a real patriot. She can learn to can, can't she? Certainly she can.
A canning school is going to be in operation all next week at the Central High school under the direction of the University of Nebraska extension service and the Board of Public Welfare.

Some of the best little canners in the state are going to be sent here from the University of Nebraska and elsewhere.
"What can we can? We can can greens and root vegetables and how you can can pumpkin and squash.
You see, this will prevent the surplus garden truck of our numerous gardens from going to waste. The canners will show how you can put in cans and keep it until next winter's cold days, when it will taste mighty good.
The canning schools are to be held at thirty places in Nebraska. At most places they continue only two days. But in Omaha the course will be repeated three times, taking six days for the three courses, June 11 to 16.
The visiting canners will teach the

United States Wants no Return of Manchu Dynasts

Washington, June 8.—The United States, it was said at the State department today, is very anxious not to see the monarchy restored in China.

The United States has been the consistent supporter of a republican form of government in China and there is little doubt but it would regret deeply if the very vague suggestions that the present trouble is somewhat monarchical should be borne out.
local women to be canners at the canning school. And then, when the students at the canning school are good canners, they are expected to show their daughters and their mothers and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Swizzlebokinger and the other neighbors and the members of their sewing circle and ladies' aid society and sodality just how they can become expert canners, so that they can can everything in the garden that they can't eat, thus saving money on next winter's provision bills and helping to win the war. (Some sentence, eh?)
To Dry Vegetables.
Certain things lend themselves well to drying and this process will be taught also. And some things, like cabbage and potatoes, keep well in a good vegetable cellar.
But there are many things that grow in gardens that simply refuse to "keep" unless they are put into cans, away from the air.
And they have to be canned according to certain scientific rules. You can't can them any old way. And those rules the canning school will teach in its two-day course with lectures and laboratories and everything just like a college.
The enrollment of students is already very large. Students must bring notebook, pencil, apron, cap, dishcloth, towel, hand towel and four pint jars to put up their vegetables in.
Oh, it's a grand little plan with far-reaching possibilities.
Eat what you can; can what you can't; eat what you can't can, and can what you can't eat.
A splendid economical plan.
