BOY SCOUTS REPORT TO THE ROTARIANS

Announced That Youngsters Have Sold Over One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars in Bonds.

At a meeting of Rotarians yesterday, Scout Master English announced that up to and including Tuesday, Omaha Boy Scouts had succeeded in disposing of $134,300 of Liberty bonds. Slips were passed around, on which the Rotarians pledged purchases of the bonds at once. These pledges totaled $14,550.

"Defects of our School System" occupied a large portion of the talk by Dr. George D. Strayer of the Columbia university at the Rotary club's luncheon at the Fontenelle. The doctor has been making a survey of the Omaha schools.

"Conditions here are no better than that which accompanied the fire at Peabody, Mass., not long ago, when hundreds of school children lost their lives," said Dr. Strayer.

Placing Fire Escapes. "Self-complacency was the direct cause of that holocaust. A fire escape reached by a window or one that leads down over a window on which there is no steel door, or in which there is not wired glass, is worth little or nothing. Flames shooting out from lower windows will never fail to entrap those coming down. The playing space is also inadequate in many school yards. I see, especially in the congested districts, the children are being deprived of the greatest opportunity we can afford them, that of healthful exercises, and this is far more essential than any branch of the course they study."

The doctor asserted that the toilet facilities are exceptionally poor, and that drinking fountains are in many cases misplaced.

Omaha Water Good.

"The water in Omaha, however, according to the very closest of chemical analysis, is the best by far of any in this country," added the doctor.

"The best investment you can make is the money you invest in the boys and girls of Omaha." The Rotary club promised such support of the intentions of the Board of Education as is necessary.

Dr. Henry L. Akin, who leaves soon to take up his duties at Fort Riley, Kan., was given a Rotarian "send-off."

After the expressions of well wishes from the members of the club, he was presented with a gold wrist watch.

Guardsman Lucas Injured by Train

Edward Lucas, 18, 1823 Spencer street, Fourth Nebraska National Guardsman, Company B, was run over by Burlington train, No. 21, at the west end of the Union Pacific bridge Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock, and his injuries will, in all probability, prove fatal. Both of his legs were crushed. He was taken to St. Catherine's hospital, where his left leg was amputated below the knee. The right leg was badly crushed below the ankle. His condition was so weakened from the amputation, that it was not believed he could long survive.

Lucas was not on duty at the time of the accident. He had left the camp on the east side of the Missouri river and with an officer's permit to cross the bridge, he was walking west along the side of the track. Before he realized its presence, the train was nearly upon him. He made a quick effort to clear the tracks, but in passing over them, his foot hit a rail, and threw him to the ground, with his feet upon the track. Whether he was stunned from the fall is not known, but before he was able to pick himself up again, the train bore down upon him.

He was picked up and the government physician, Dr. Hall, and Major Birkner of Fort Crook, were summoned and administered temporary aid. He was immediately operated upon at the hospital, but little hope is held for his recovery.

Germany Again Melting Church Bells Into Guns

Copenhagen (Via London), June 14.—Hamburg has just bidden a touching farewell to the noted chimers in two principal churches, St. Nicholas and St. Peters, from which the bells have been expropriated under a general order, seizing all German church bells to be melted into cannon. Great crowds joined in hymns which organists played for the last time on the bells. The chimers will provide about thirty tons of gun metal.

Quietly Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

At their comfortable home, 1813 Binney street, Mr. and Mrs. John W. McCune quietly observed their golden wedding anniversary. Three of their four children being away, there was no celebration of the event. However, during the day and evening they were showered with letters and telegrams from friends, all conveying congratulations and wishing them years of health and prosperity.

Mr. McCune was connected with the Union Pacific forty-three years and retired from active service seven years ago. Since then he has been enjoying life, he and his wife spending considerable of their time with their two sons who live in Wyoming, and a daughter, who resides at Salt Lake City. Their fourth child, a daughter, Miss Juliet, is a teacher in the public schools.

Although Mr. McCune is 78 years of age, and his wife somewhat younger, they are both in perfect health and as active as most people of 40 to 45.

Mr. McCune entered the employ of the Union Pacific in 1866 and worked in the shops practically all the time until his retirement. He was one of the first subscribers to The Bee and since the first issue, has never missed a copy of the paper unless he was out of the city.

WOMEN TO PLAY BIG PART IN WORLD WAR

Feminine Help Essential if Victory Is to Be Won by Allies, Says Attorney Fleaharty.

That the great world war is not a man's contest and that woman's contribution to the country is just as potent as man's in winning victory for America and the allies, was the gist of the talk by H. B. Fleaharty, assistant city attorney, before the Woman Voters' Conservation league yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. C. Anderson. Conservation of the gigantic and heroic ideals of America is the principal work of women during the war. The influence of mothers in urging their sons to answer the call to the colors, and the correct interpretation of their duty rests upon the consciences of you women, said Mr. Fleaharty. "The attitude and mind of the mother is largely influential in determining the ideals of the son. Do not teach hatred of the German people to your children. Tell them there is no room for hatred of those who are subject to the imperial government. Do not let national spirit eclipse your vision so that the idea of humanity means America alone. Think in terms of all humanity."

Must Stand for Morality. Mrs. Rose Ohaus of the Board of Public Welfare made an appeal to the women for conservation of unswerving womanhood during the war. After the war there must be no accusation against American morality. "We must profit by Europe's experience. In 1915, in one British training camp, there were 20,000 fathers of illegitimate children," said the speaker. "Our country, which is engaged in a righteous war, must be free from shame and our men must be honorable warriors."

A message was sent to Secretary Baker asking that the rule be enforced at all times that immoral conditions and saloons be abolished from training camps. A committee will be appointed to investigate the sale of cigars and the maintenance of gambling parlors that minors visit.

The following membership committee which will boost the club was appointed: Mesdames Mary E. Howe, Thor Jorgensen, Nellie Evans, Frances Follansbee and Stella Wilson. The Board of Education gave permission to hold conservation meeting in the auditoriums of school houses. The next meeting will be a joint session with Frances Willard chapter of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, June 27, at the home of Mrs. C. J. Roberts.

Practice will be held on the Miller park pitch each Thursday evening and Saturday afternoon. The Omaha cricketers play Lincoln at Lincoln July 4, and Sioux City a few weeks later.

Omaha Fire Department Beats Bensonites to Blaze

The advantages of metropolitan fire were demonstrated last night when the home of Mrs. Lydia Schade, 5618 Arthur street, took fire. Two fire companies responded to the call, one from the neighborhood, which was formerly known as Benson, and a company from Dundee. Although the Benson company is camped but a few blocks from the scene of the alarm, the Omaha company was the first to arrive at the fire. Only slight damage was done by the fire.
