Canning School "Eats" Pass Family Censors.

Hoot woman, canna ye can? To be able to can is a great accomplishment among Omaha society women these days. The members of the class which enlisted through the efforts of Mrs. E. M. Syfert for the opening days of the school, Monday and Tuesday of this week, every single one was attentive and obeyed orders explicitly. They missed the instruction in drying fruit and vegetables, however, so that they are all planning to go back to complete the course. All the careful scholars who canned fruit at the opening canning school carefully carried their cans of vegetables home for exhibition in the bosom of their families. Mrs. L. J. Healey and Mrs. L. M. Lord pronounced their asparagus in perfect condition. It has lost not a particle of its pristine freshness. They have ordered more asparagus and are about to repeat the process at home. To be able to can vegetables in such tempting fashion is an accomplishment far higher than to win dozens of bridge prizes in war time.

Mrs. Frank T. Hamilton was one of the most interested workers at the canning school. She carried her jar of vegetables home with an air as proud as any. Mrs. Byron Clarke and some of the other experienced cooks had nothing but words of commendation for the work of the school, for the process taught was new and well worth learning.

Mrs. Syfert has a few places left in the group which she is enlisting for next Monday and Tuesday. She is making a special appeal to the young married women to take interest in the work this time and expects them to vie with their aunts and mothers in canning and drying vegetables.

Lowenthal-Kopald Wedding.

Charming in its simplicity was the wedding ceremony late this afternoon uniting Miss Gertrude Kopald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kopald, and Mr. Max L. Lowenthal of Buffalo, N. Y. Rabbi Louis J. Kopald, brother of the bride, officiated.

Baskets of fragrant peonies decked the Kopald home where the marriage was performed and the dinner table at the Blackstone, to which the bridal party adjourned following the ceremony.

Filmy white tulle and silver combined with silver lace fashioned the lovely bridal gown, the veil for which was arranged with a cap of lace to frame the face. The bride's bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley, swansonia and giant white pansies.

Miss Hanna Kopald, herself soon to wed Mr. Richard Desbecker, also of Buffalo, wore old blue crepe chiffon with touches of pink and a large tulle hat of the same shade set off with one pink rose. Her bouquet was an old-fashioned one of pink sweet peas frilled with tulle.

Mrs. Kopald, mother of the bride, was gowned in a handsome beige-colored georgette crepe with bead trimming.

Mrs. Leopold Lowenthal of Buffalo and Mr. Edgar Lowenthal of New York, father and brother of the bridegroom; Mr. Leroy Present of Rochester, and three brothers of the bride, Sigmund Kopald of Memphis, Herman of New York and Rabbi Kopald came on for the wedding.

The young couple will visit New York, Boston and Atlantic City on their wedding journey and plan to be at home in Buffalo in the fall.

Harrower-O'Brien Wedding.

Miss Mary O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Brien, and Mr. Charles Harrower were united in marriage at St. Cecilia's church this morning at 8 o'clock. A wedding breakfast for the family followed the service, and this evening all friends of the young people have been asked to attend a large reception at the home of her parents. Pink and white carnations were used in the house decorations.

The bride wore a gown of silk net over satin and a Dutch cap veil. She carried bride's roses. Miss Mary Harrower and Miss Clara O'Brien attended her. The former wore a frock of pale green net over satin and a tulle hat to match; the latter wore a dove gray dress of georgette crepe with a tulle hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrower will leave at midnight for a trip to California, Los Angeles and San Francisco, where they will visit the bride's brother, Mr. John O'Brien. They will be at home in Omaha after September 1.

Wedding Announcement.

Miss Gladys M. Roland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Roland, and Mr. Fred E. Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sweet were married Tuesday at 5 o'clock at the Dietz Memorial Methodist parsonage by the Rev. C. N. Dawson. They will live in Omaha.

Miss Roey E. Danbaum, daughter of Mrs. Mary Danbaum, and Mr. David Miller were united in marriage at the bride's home this afternoon at 2:30 by Rabbi Frederick Cohn. At 3:30 they left for a short wedding trip in the east.

The other girls have not yet decided on their college.

The pair won two large silver trophies as champions in the tennis doubles. Arthur, who graduated last year from Omaha High school, won what is considered the highest honor in school, the medal for being the best drilled new cadet in school. He also won the championship in the singles of the novice tennis tournament and the distinguished medal for the position of best man in school on the subject of algebra.

Robert won a few medals in the rifle team which last year was the champion rifle team of the United States, but which took only second place this year. He was secretary of this team. Next fall both boys will enter the Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago.

Coat for Summer

EVEN into the mode of straight lines—as shown by this coat of blue gabardine—Rogant style slip a suggestion of the silhouette distended below the hips; and it is done by drawing in the hem ever so little. Here the trimmings are of carise satin, with a pattern in blue braid, and the belt is cerise lined.

THIRTY-SEVEN MEN IN DRYING SCHOOL

All Promise at Least Two Nights of Demonstration Work in Many Plants to Be Established.

Thirty-seven men have registered for the drying school which will be exploited by the Board of Public Welfare the night of June 22, in the council chamber of the city hall.

"This school for instruction in the government method of drying vegetables and fruits is the first of its kind," said Mrs. Rose Ohaus of the welfare board. "It represents the first concerted effort on the part of men of a community to help their fellow men by giving their time and information to food conservation. All members of Professor Pugsley's class freely offer at least two nights of demonstration work in the municipal drying plants which will be established," she added.

Mayor Dahlgren and all members of the welfare board joined the class and the Union Pacific and commission men have both promised to send ten men. "Several men owning orchards on the outskirts of the city, also promised to join," said Mrs. Ohaus.

The drying school is intended as a supplement to the canning school, now in session.

Fifty suffragists begin work at the school tomorrow morning.

Edwin W. Woodbridge and Miss Aileen Wolfe Married

Cupid has been hovering about the staid old city hall, attaching interest when announcement was made that Edwin W. Woodbridge in the city engineer's department and Miss Aileen Wolfe, secretary in the Visiting Nurse association headquarters in the city hall, had been quietly married Saturday evening at the home of Rev. Edwin Hart Jenks.

Only the sisters of both bride and bridegroom, Miss Gwendolyn Wolfe and Miss Ethel Woodbridge, were let into the secret. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wolfe. Mr. Woodbridge is a son of Sands Woodbridge of the World-Herald.

The young couple slipped out of town for the week-end, returning Monday morning to their respective parents. They have taken an apartment at the Angelus, where they will be at home after June 20.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Advertisement.

OMAHANS CARE FOR 100 WAR ORPHANS

Blanche Groh Last to Be Taken Care Of by the Patriotic Folks of This City.

By A. R. GROH.

The one hundredth French war orphan to be supported by Omahans was adopted the other day.

Her name happens to be Blanche Groh. So you can see one reason why I am giving a write-up to the French war orphans, bless them!

You probably know of the nationwide plan for supporting young French children whose fathers have been killed in the war. Ten cents a day supports a child, for these children don't need ice cream sodas and nickels for the movies and the luxuries that American children have. The 10 cents supplies enough food to keep life in their bodies.

Madame A. M. Borglum tells me that Blanche Groh lives in a little town near Rouen in beautiful Normandy, France. She has four little brothers and sisters and they have all been adopted now by Americans. Of course, the "adoption" is rather figurative than real. Payment of the 10 cents a day enables the child to remain with its mother.

It is a splendid plan, for it brings the child and the person who is paying the 10 cents a day into contact through letters. No danger of the payments stopping or the interest lagging under such circumstances.

Girls Support Orphans.

"Some people who 'adopt' a war orphan pay $3 a month and others pay the whole annual amount, $36.50 at once," said Madame Borglum, who has charge of the work in Omaha. "Many are being supported by girls earning their own living. Some people give the money to one of their own children and let that child adopt the French child, and the correspondence between them is most interesting and touching. I have just received word that Americans are now paying about $1,000,000 a year for supporting the French war orphans."

Oh, those charming French children! Have you ever watched them playing in the gardens of the Tuilleries or at the Punch and Judy show on the Champs Elysees, or have you seen the poorer Parisian children playing, say, in the Place de la Republique? What is the indescribable something about them that makes you admire and love them?

French Children Politic.

I remember once, when another chap and I were on a walking tour through France, we often remarked upon the politeness and respect shown us by the French children in the country.

We carried packs upon our backs; we had a strange appearance; we might have been tramps for all the children knew. Most children would at least have stared at us. Not so the French children. Whenever we met any they would invariably greet us with a touch of their hats and a respectful "Bon jour, messieurs."

This may seem a small thing but it is the straw that shows which way the wind blows. Lovable children grow into likable men and women and that kind of men and women make a likable nation. And France today has the love and admiration of the world.

And so a hundred charming French boys and girls are corresponding with a hundred good Omahans whom they call their "good benefactors." Receiving these letters from little Zuzette, Madeline, Marthe, Antoine, Jacques and Angele must be in themselves ample return for the ten cents a day paid.

You can adopt one. Call up or write to Madame A. M. Borglum.

Club Women to Determine Number of Bonds to Buy

How many Liberty bonds the Omaha Women's club will buy is to be determined Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at a special meeting.

Mrs. A. L. Fernald, the president, has called at the Young Woman's Christian association auditorium.

"If each of the 10,000 clubs in the General Federation would buy two $50 bonds, the club women alone could raise $1,000,000," said Mrs. Fernald.

A directors' meeting at 10 o'clock will precede the general meeting. This is the first time in many years a general meeting of the club has been called after the club year closed.

Where the club will meet next year will come up for discussion later.
