

BODY BLOWS ARE MIXED WITH HUMOR IN POLICE INQUIRY

HONEYWELL TELLS OF CLEANUP DEALS

Also Says that He Paid Money to Sutton to Keep Him Quiet About Suitcase.

"What knowledge have you to implicate any city commissioner in any wrongdoing? If you have any, say it now."
"I know there was bootlegging and prostitution."
"Do you know of any wrongful act by any city commissioner?"
"I do not."

Baker Takes Witness.

Baker took witness.
"Your knowledge referred to the entire condition of the city and that such condition was chargeable to the whole city administration."

"And that is why you joined Paul Sutton?"
"Not exactly. It was more because I feared pressure of Paul Sutton and influence he could bring and my experiences with Mrs. Theodora Honeywell with suit case matter."

"How did you happen to be here as a witness?"
"Saw my name in paper yesterday. Called Steve on phone and told him I would tell the truth and let the devil go to hell. I told my boss I would tell all that was worth telling."

"How did you know how to call Maloney?"
"I asked my boarding boss."

"Who is your boarding boss?"
"Wants Room Cleared."

"I will not bring him into this corrupt deal unless you will clear the room and ask him in private."

Rine questioned witness again:
"Did you think Dennison and Sutton were working together?"
"I did not say so."

"You intended to stir up the community against the city officials?"
"Inflame the community."

"And yet you started to inflame the community against corrupt government, and yet you took up with the man you bribed, didn't you?"
"We worked together."

Bribery Unbecoming.
"What do you think of the morality of such conduct?"
"Unbecoming."
(Laughter.)

"You excluded the mayor and yet you would drag in the others, would you?"
"Well, Kugel knew of the conditions of the city and the others were responsible."

"And you excluded the mayor?"
"Well, I gave him some praise."
Elmer Thomas quizzed Honeywell:

Married Twice.
"Married how many times?"
"Twice."
"How long did you live at Hanson, Neb.?"
"Twelve months."
"Since you became of age where have you lived?"
"Have been a floating bricklayer most of my life. All over the country and foreign countries."
"Ever in Turkey?"
"No."
"How long did you know Edwards?"
"Four or five weeks."
"Why did you and he leave Chicago?"
"Because of a strike there."
"Do you know the suitcases you received at Union depot were your own?"
"One was mine."
"Were there any bonds in suitcase?"
"Not that I know of."
"Isn't it a fact that you and Edwards disposed of bonds in Council Bluffs?"
"No."
"And you kept suitcase information a secret for seven years?"
"Yes."

Maloney Lets Him Go.
"Upon your denial of suitcase matter Maloney let you go, didn't he?"
"He did."
"Because Maloney said the Webster street station instead of Union station you denied the whole affair, did you?"
"I did."
"When did you work for Busk and Wind?"
"Last year."
"How long have you worked during last year?"
"Don't know."
"Where do you live?"
"In city of Omaha."
"Won't Tell Where He Lives."
"What is your address?"
"That's my business."
"Your address is a very secret matter?"
"In one sense, yes."
"When did you give Tom Dennison the manuscript?"
"Day before big doings at Chadron."
"Who took the manuscript?"
"I won't tell you."
"(The mayor told witness to answer.)
"Who was he?"
"Harry Pollock."
"Who is Harry Pollock?"
"One of the men fetched forth in the manuscript."
"How did you meet Harry Pollock?"

"I took care of a counter for a friend in Pollock's place, and Pollock got a sandwich of me."
Williams the Go-between.
"Who is Red Williams?"
"Go-between for Paul Sutton and I."
"How did you get in touch with him?"
"He generally got in touch with me."
"Where does Williams live?"
"In Omaha."
When Attorney Thomas prompted Honeywell to answer, the witness sharply replied, "I wasn't paying any attention to you."

Says He Was Double-Crossed.
The afternoon session of the Maloney hearing before the city council was opened with W. R. Honeywell, bricklayer, resuming his testimony to show that his release by Maloney was justifiable, rather than a miscarriage of justice, as contended by Detective Sutton.
Attorney Thomas took the witness: "You chose a public place to bribe an official, did you?"
"I did not bribe him."
"Did he ask for the money or did you merely offer it to him?"
"Sutton said the boys were talking about the suit case affair and that it would hurt me."
"You have said you gave the money to protect your job, didn't you?"
"The lower part of my face is getting tired answering these questions."
"Did you say you saw a map or diagram of a bomb?"
"It was a cross-section."
Draws Bomb.
"Can you outline on a piece of paper a diagram of a bomb?"
"I can, correctly."
"Go ahead and do it."
Honeywell then drew a picture of a bomb while the audience smiled.
"That's what you call a map of a bomb, do you?"
"I can explain it."
Attorney Kine:
"How long have you been married to your present wife?"
"Three years."
"Then it was four years after the suit case affair happened before you told your wife?"
"Yes, before I told my frau."
"Are you working now?"
"I am, but am tied up. Haven't worked for more than six weeks."
"You thought your standing as a tradesman might be affected by taking sides in this controversy?"
Sutton Double-Crossed Him.
"I would not have taken sides if Sutton hadn't double-crossed me."
"Did Red Williams know where you lived?"
"Knew where I loafed."
"Where did you loaf?"
"Sixteenth and Dodge streets."

"Because if it was lost and found nobody would know who wrote it."
Names Kugel.
"You said only one commissioner named as a wrongdoer in your manuscript, did you?"
"Yes, Kugel was named, so we could get the support of the Saratoga lunch. They had petitions for a recall against Mr. Krugel."
"When you referred to Dahlman's proclivities for having good times, what were they?"
"Hearsay. Never went out with Jim."
"You told Steve you would tell the truth?"
"I did."
