WHERE BRITISH BLASTED WAY TO VICTORY—

By smashing through the most important stronghold on the German line in Belgium, the British are now in position to dominate from the Wytchaete ridge and to threaten all that territory containing France's industrial activity south of the Belgian border. Lille (1), six miles from the British trenches, and Turcoing and Roubaix (2), all menaced by this drive, are the centers of this rich field. Warneton (3), where German reserves are concentrating, is their headquarters for this sector. The new German line of defense here is based on the line Commines-Zonnebeke (4).

Club Women Grow Wrathful When One Member Opposes Buying Bonds

Miss Katherine Worley, 819 Omaha National Bank building, prominent member of the Omaha Woman's club, threw a bomb into the morning meeting called to determine how much money the club would invest in Liberty bonds by registering the first public opposition to the project in Omaha.

"It's bad business for the club to buy Liberty bonds," declared Miss Worley. "I am not anxious for war. I believe in conserving our money at home to take care of our boys when they come back. Buying Liberty Bonds is not the only patriotic thing we, as club women, can do. We can help the Red Cross, in canning and the conservation of food."

Club women sat in astonishment, doubting their own ears. Murmurs of "Treason!" were heard on every hand.

Then Mrs. Mary I. Creigh, vice president, arose. "We must do what the government has asked us to do. The call has come for money. We must give it for the success of many kind. Holding the money until the boys come home would be wrong," she said.

"We can do our part to help shorten the war by advancing the government the wherewithal to carry on the war," said Mrs. J. W. Welch.

"It's not only our duty, it's a privilege to help the government in this crisis," said Mrs. Harriet MacMurphy.

Should Double Amount. "We should double the amount recommended by the directory. Let's buy $1,000 worth of bonds, instead of $500," advocated Mrs. Charles Rosewater.

The argument waxed more stormy when Mrs. C. W. Hayes, member of the Nebraska Peace society, raised the question of the legality of the whole meeting.

"To be legal, a special meeting of this club should be announced in the public press three days before. This one was only made public yesterday," she said.

Mrs. A. L. Fernald, the president, explained that the meeting was only a courtesy one. The club directory has the power to invest the funds of the club as it sees fit. She had mere-intention of the Baltimore club to drop the suit until they entered the court room today.

"It's a vindication for Organized base ball," said President Tener.

Half of Women in U. S. Are Flappers, Says Mrs. Robins. Chicago, June 15.—Fifty-five per cent of the women of the United States are "flappers," according to Mrs. Raymond Robins, of the woman's committee of the National Council of Defense.

Mrs. Robins' definition of a "flapper" is a woman who does not work—women of all kinds who live at home and are supported by their relatives.
