State Suffrage Deplore

Picketing at White House

The following communication was received showing the attitude of the state suffrage association toward the picketing now indulged in at the White House. It was signed by Mrs. W. E. Barkley, Jr., president of the Nebraska Suffrage association; Mrs. W. E. Hardy, treasurer, and Miss Ida L. Robbins, corresponding secretary.

"The Nebraska State Suffrage association deprecates the picketing of the White House by the Congressional union and the consequent disturbances. We would appreciate a statement through the press that the Congressional union is an organization distinct and separate from the National Suffrage association. The Congressional union is an association whose policy and methods the National Suffrage association does not endorse."

Wattles Sues to Recover

Some Excess Income Tax

Gordon W. Wattles filed suit in federal court against George L. Look, federal collector of internal revenue. Mr. Wattles seeks to have refunded $2,021 which he paid under protest to the collector as income tax on $24,855 which was his share of a dividend declared by the United States National bank in January, 1914.

Mr. Wattles protested in 1914 to the commissioner of internal revenue that this dividend did not represent profits to himself for that year but had been cumulative; also that he had received it, not in cash, but in stock of the bank.

The commissioner notified him last Monday that his protest had been overruled and the local collector notified him that the tax must be paid by June 23. Mr. Wattles said it under protest and instituted the suit to recover it.

Mr. Gorman is 52 years of age and has been railroad since he was a boy of 14. He was vice president under Mr. Mudge, a former president, and while the road was operated by the receivers he was chief executive officer. Many years ago he was with the Santa Fe.

Doane College Sues to Get

Funds Alleged Left by Will

Doane college of Crete, Neb., has begun suit in district court against Howard B. Graham, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Chickering, and her heirs, to obtain possession of funds alleged to have been left the institution in her will. The estate is worth about $15,000. Upon application of the college Judge Leslie, sitting in equity court, issued a temporary restraining order, holding up the disposition of funds now deposited in several Omaha banks. The date for hearing was set for June 28.

Secret of Cultivation of Mandan Maize is Revealed to Museum

New York, June 23.—Corn, once known as the king of American cereals, is about to climb back onto his throne, according to a statement issued by the American museum of natural history.

At a time when there is a serious shortage of wheat, a discovery just announced by the agricultural experts of the museum will, it was stated, undoubtedly be received with keen interest by many American farmers.

In front of the museum building where once grew tulips, today corn is sprouting. The cereal now in the flower garden is the Mandan maize, the secrets of the cultivation of which were kept for many years by the Mandan Indians.

An associate of the department of anthropology of the American museum gained the confidence of Mandan chieftains and obtained from them rules for the cultivation of this variety of corn, which grows successfully in cold dry climates.

The Mandan maize is now being planted throughout the northwest. The kernels are in remarkable shades of red, black and blue. The farmers of Montana and other mountain states will be able to raise a corn which will develop in the proper season. It is said this discovery will greatly increase the volume of corn production for the United States.

The corn of the Indians more than once saved the early settlers of this country from starvation and in this national crisis of food scarcity it may once again become our main dependence as a food, according to the museum experts.

Red Cross Activities

A truly patriotic affair will be the Red Cross birthday garden fete to be given by the detachment of ten Red Cross nurses, who are waiting with trunks packed for the call for duty in France, at the Nurses' club Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Each person will be asked to pay for his or her admission ticket as many pennies as he or she is old. The garden back of the club house will be decorated with the Japanese lanterns, the American and the allied flags.

Miss Pleasant Holyoke will dance the "Spirit of Spring." Miss Eula Rickley will give several vocal selections and Miss Gertrude Weath will play the "Nocturne" by Scriabine, with left hand only, and the "Arabesque," by Aeschetrsky. Three hundred invitations were issued for the affair, which will be a benefit for the Nurses' club.

Benson Women to Help—The Benson Red Cross auxiliary will meet Friday at the Benson city hall. All women in the suburb are urged to drop in to do their bit.

Daughters of Revolution—A called meeting of the Major Isaac Sadler Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Saturday afternoon at the public library, in accordance with a request made by the state regent for the purpose of planning cooperation with the Red Cross. It was decided to work individually during the summer rather than as a body.

Bohemian Red Cross—A Bohemian Red Cross auxiliary is just formed under the direction of Mrs. F. W. Buresch. It will meet in the Lincoln school annex next week for the first time. The women of the community will drop in informally to make hospital supplies.

MORE WHOLESALE TAX REDUCTIONS

Equalization Body Faces Third Week of Hearing With Less Than One-Fifth of Pro-Test Cases Heard.

County Board of Equalization will start on its third week of hearing protests by taxpayers against the wholesale boosts in assessments made by County Assessor Fitzgerald Monday, with less than 1,000 cases disposed of.

Members of the board are up in the air as to whether they will sit more than twenty days. If the body decides to quit at the end of the twenty days thousands of cases where taxpayers have been raised two, three and four times as much as they returned on their schedules will remain unheard.

The biggest grist of business is looked for next week. Hundreds of taxpayers raised by the assessor are expected to appear then, after they "have seen how the other fellow came out."

Another angle is the assertion by County Attorney Magney that the notices sent out by the county assessor are not legal and therefore the raises are not binding. The county attorney said he failed to find anything in the statutes giving the county assessor the right to send out such notices.

Taxpayers who do not go before the equalization board are expected to begin court actions.

The equalization board believes there is "something in the wind" because of the failure of the jobbers, retailers and big concerns, whose raises total millions of dollars, to appear to protest Friday night, set aside as the time for hearing these interests.
