Cattle—There was a fair run of cattle on Thursday, about 2,000 head, and the four-day supply this week has fallen only about 2,000 short of last week's heavy run.

Following Wednesday's somewhat demoralized trade the market today was in much the same condition with bids unevenly lower all around.

Trade in stockers and feeders has been very light. The demand for white supplies has been small, the demand has been even smaller, and the trend of values has been lower.
