Nebraska Rate Experts Before High Commission

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Neb., June 30.—(Special.)—Newspaper reports today showing that the Interstate Commerce commission had ruled against the railroads on the application of the carriers for a freight rate raise of 15 per cent was interesting to members of the state railway commission from the fact that the commission had its chairman, Thomas Hall, and its rate expert, U. G. Powell, with an assistant at the hearing.

According to Secretary Browne of the commission, the representatives of the commission were in attendance at the commission to gather facts which can be used in a hearing which will come before the state commission on July 16 on application of the railroads for a raise in freight rates.

Experts of the commission took part in the hearing. Mr. Browne says that Mr. Powell testified before the Interstate commission that the Adamson law has affected the roads little in the middle west and that the matter was greatly exaggerated.

Des Moines Boy Wonder Trims Young Golf Phenom

Sioux City, Ia., June 29.—"Rudy" Knipper, Sioux City's boy phenom, was defeated in the Iowa state golf turney play here today by Robert McKee, the 15-year-old boy prodigy from Des Moines, by a score of 2 up and 1 to play. The latter's entrance in the meet was unheralded and he was never considered even as a possible runner up.

In the finals tomorrow McKee will be pitted against Arthur Bartlett of Ottumwa, who twice previously has won the state title. Bartlett won his right to a place in the finals by his defeat of "Billy" Sheehan, the Jordan, S. D., banker, who was in the tourney as a member of the Hyperion club of Des Moines.

Would Help Workmen Regain Skill at the Close of War

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)

Swansea, Wales, May 20.—Dealing with the question of employment after the war, F. Huth Jackson, chairman of the National Alliance of Employers and Employed, said it was proposed to establish local boards, two-thirds of the representation at least to consist of employers and employed in equal proportions, to act in conjunction with a central statutory board with similar representation. He also advocated the re-employment of men after the war in their old berths, and said if, in some cases, they had lost part of their skill, they must be helped to regain it.

Poultry Men Volunteer.

Poultry men throughout the state of Nebraska are volunteering aggressively in meeting the food problem. A letter recently received from one of the largest, if not the largest, hatcheries in Nebraska reads as follows:

"We have no definite plan to offer you in extending our services except to say that we are ready to co-operate aggressively in meeting this one phase of the food problem. We are in the heart of the best poultry-producing territory Uncle Sam has, and we have established a reputation for sending out strong, healthy chicks. You might have some plan you would like to start in operation to co-operate with us in keeping the plant going at full capacity until the very end of the season.

"We understand that there is a strong attempt to get people to raise a large number of chickens to meet the meat shortage. As you no doubt know, the average city or town family could easily rear a dozen or twenty-five chickens on the garden and lawn greens, together with table scraps, and at little or no expense for grain. These chicks could be brooded in a simple stove box, with no other heat than an ordinary lamp. I myself am brooding 100 chicks in this way and am not using the more elaborate equipment—hard-coal brooders. People in the cities, particularly those of the working classes, need not invest money in brooding apparatus if they care to brood them as I am doing, and if properly handled in ten weeks' time should weigh two pounds. By keeping our plant in full operation until late October we could aid, we believe, in a very material way in the production and distribution of thousands of chicks."

It is this type of men that are going to effect good in increasing the food supply of this country. At a recent meeting of the American Poultry Association held in Chicago a slogan was adopted which read as follows: "Produce 100,000,000 more pounds of poultry this year," the object being to produce one pound more of poultry for every citizen of the United States than has ever been produced before. These figures are far too small. In one county alone in New Hampshire the farmers are attempting to increase their production 1,000,000 pounds.

Our president has called for increased food supplies that we may feed not only our boys in the trenches, but also those of our allies. The above figures, instead of being 100,000,000 pounds, ought to be 1,000,000 tons. When one stops to think that every farmer raises chickens and then realizes how many farmers there are in the United States, and figures from this that should each farmer produce ten more chickens, weighing five pounds each, this year than he produced last year this amount would increase the production fifty pounds per farm, and if calculated for the United States would run into millions of tons.

Ten chickens can be hatched from one setting of fifteen eggs when the fertility is running good. Let every producer of poultry set a hen and raise another brood of chicks.

Poultry production offers the quickest returns in meat of all the various sources of our meat supply. Let us raise chickens that they may turn the succulents, bugs and worms into meat, and in so doing do our bit.

Cautions.

Only eggs known to be absolutely fresh should be used. Infertile eggs are superior to fertile eggs for this purpose. Under ordinary summer temperature, fertile eggs are spoiled for food in twenty-four hours. An infertile egg under the same degree of temperature will remain fit for food for six days. Fertile eggs may be used when it is known that they have not been subject to heat.

Only those eggs having strong, sound shells should be used. An egg with a weak shell placed in the solution is liable to be broken and may ruin the entire lot of eggs by befouling the preservative. Cracked or dented eggs may be detected by hitting one egg against another. If the ring is metallic, the shell is not cracked or broken; but if deadened, a close examination will reveal a crack or blind check. Such eggs will spoil in the preservative.

ARE YOUR HENS PAYING?

Are your hens always in the pink of condition? Do they lay regularly, or by spurts? Do they lay during the moult? Do your hatching eggs run 90 per cent fertile? Do you hatch 90 per cent or better every time? Do you raise to maturity 90 per cent of the chicks? Do you cull the non-layers from your flock? Do the hens average an egg every other day the year 'round? Do you follow any system or well-defined plan throughout your work? Do you always sell on the best market? Do you know all the important points in poultry culture? Are you profiting during summer, fall and winter as in spring?

The Lee Poultry Library, five booklets, tells how to get these results—how to make poultry pay. The thirty years' experience of an expert in this line, written so you will enjoy it and will find it helpful. Send 5 cents stamps to cover mailing and state how many chickens you have. No charge for books. Send now. Geo. H. Lee Co., 1115 Harney, Omaha, Neb.

RECRUITS TO TRAIN IN HOME ARMORIES

Governor Harding Orders the Guardsmen Not in Service on Border to Take Up Work at Once.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Des Moines, June 29.—(Special)—Iowa militiamen who were not in the service on the Mexican border will be ordered by Governor Harding to go into training at their home armories July 1. It is the plan to have the guard go through intensive training in order for them to get into the best possible condition before being called out. The governor believes that the Iowa troops will see service in France next spring. The federal call to go into training is expected July 15, at which time the regulars will probably join the recruits.

More Guardsmen Arrive.

Some 500 more National guardsmen reached Fort Des Moines yesterday to be mustered into federal service. The units were Company A of Iowa City, engineers; the three batteries of artillery from Davenport, Clinton and Muscatine and others. The engineers may go to Camp Dodge.

Appointments Pending.

Governor Harding has not yet announced his appointments to the office of state veterinarian or assistant veterinarians or chief oil inspector and assistants. Dr. J. I. Gibson, present state veterinarian, and John P. Risley, state oil inspector, will probably be reappointed. Their terms expire Saturday of this week. There are thirteen assistant oil inspectors to be appointed and 169 assistant veterinarians.

Major Polk Escapes Bandit.

Major H. H. Polk of Des Moines, now of Fort Snelling, had a brush with a bandit near the camp a few nights ago. He was returning in his automobile about 11 o'clock when near the camp of the First Minnesota a masked man stepped out into the road and ordered him to halt. Major Polk refused and got away in his car.

Law Board Appointments.

The supreme court has reappointed James A. Davitt of Oskaloosa and Charles W. Leggett of Fairfield to membership on the state board of law examiners. Their present terms expire July 4.

Will Hold Freight Hearing.

At a meeting to be held next Monday the State Railroad commission will fix a date for a hearing from shippers on the proposed increase in freight rates and also for a date for the shippers' side of the express hearing. It is probable these dates will be fixed for the latter part of August or early in September.

State Agents Make Raids.

Liquor raids were made yesterday by state agents at McGregor and at Charles City and large quantities of liquor were confiscated. At McGregor, which is just across the river from Prairie du Chein, Wis., sixty men were arrested, including the mayor of McGregor. Sixty auto loads of booze were taken, which had been brought across in ferries. Four ferryboats were also seized at McGregor.

At Charles City two drug stores were raided and four drayloads of liquors taken. John B. Hammond was in charge of the Charles City raids. At McGregor James Risden and Henry Carroll, assisted by local police officers, made the raid.

Enjoins Cigaret Tax.

A temporay injunction was granted yesteday afternoon by Judge Scott M. Ladd of the Iowa supreme court to restain County Auditor F. J. Alber from certifying the cigaret mulct tax which the state is trying to collect under the recent raids of local cigar stores. A $5,000 bond was required by the court from the cigar men. The injunction will hold pending the decision in the cigarette case by the supreme court, which will probably not be made before January 1.

Detective In Axe Murder Case Held On Conspiracy Charge

Red Oak, Ia., June 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Detective J. N. Wilkerson, who has been working for the last five years on the Villisca ax murder case and who was scheduled to speak on that subject at a mass meeting this afternoon, was arrested here this morning on a charge of conspiracy by Sheriff Simpson of Adams county and taken at once to Corning.

It is understood that the conspiracy is in connection with the attemt which was made during the Jones-Wilkerson $50,000 damage suit last winter, to break into the Jones store at Villisca for the purpose of securing valuable papers in connection with the suit.

Wilkerson sympathizers say that the meeting will be held here this afternoon even though Wilkerson is unable to be here, and that other speakers will be secured.

Fast Horses Entered in Race Meet at State Fair Grounds

Lincoln, Neb., June 30.—Numerous entries for the summer racing meet here, which will be held at the state fair grounds track, July 3, 4 nd 5, have been received by H. C. Wittmann, secretary of the local racing association. A fine string of horses, many of which have never been seen on the local track, is promised for race followers. Five harness events will have been run off on the state circuit before the local meet, at Kearney, Aurora, Omaha, Nebraska City and Beatrice, and most of the horses entered in these events will be seen on the State Fair grounds oval.

Stiff competition for these horses is forecast by Secretary Wittmann, who has entries of horses that have not competed in any of the state events held this season. Horses which have taken the big end of the purses in the state meets so far this summer, will have "to step some," the secretary says.

One of the horses shipped to the State Fair track, which has not been seen on any of the state tracks this season is Peter Dallas, owned by a Malvern, Ia., man. Peter Dallas has been entered in the 2:11 trot to measure with the famous Axtier, Heir Reaper and Miss Rexetta.

LAWYERS ARE LOYAL TO THE PRESIDENT

In Convention, Members of the Bar of the State Pledge Their Support in Every Measure.

NEW OFFICERS.

President—Charles W. Mullan, Waterloo.
Vice President—Henry L. Adams, Des Moines.
Secretary—H. C. Horack, Iowa City.
Treasurer—Leonard T. Carney, Marshalltown.

The next meeting will be held in Des Moines June 27 and 28 of next year.

The annual convention of the Iowa Bar association ended yesterday with a patriotic demonstration following the approval of the suggestion to send President Wilson a telegram pledging the lawyers and courts of Iowa to loyally support him and the government of the United States "in every act which may be done and every measure which may be taken to maintain the principles of democracy upon which our government is founded, and to gain a victory for such principles in the war that has been forced upon this nation by the imperial government of Germany, that the liberty of the people of the world shall be preserved and a final and lasting peace established."

There was no lack of a desire to speak in support of the resolution, but some of the big orators gave way to the only colored man who is a member of the association. He is George H. Woodson of Buxton. His speech was a dramatic incident of the convention.

Pledges Support of Colored People.

Mr. Woodson pledged united loyal support of the 10,000,000 colored people of the United States and declared that they are willing to give their lives and every dollar of their property that this nation may live.

He said the colored people would offer an army of 100,000 men willing to go anywhere and endure anything for their country, adding that there are tens of thousands of colored women as keenly anxious to help. He begged his fellow lawyers to assist in bringing about the creation of a colored Red Cross division to nurse the wounded and close the eyes of their colored brothers who will make the supreme sacrific for their country.

The approval of the message to the president was by a rising vote, prolonged into hearty cheers.

Dues to Be Remitted.

It was decided that the dues of all the members of the bar association who go to war will be remitted during their absence.

A committee, comprising Federal Judge Martin J. Wade, former Attorney General George Cosson and C. G. Saunders, reported a plan to care for the practice of all lawyers who respond to the call of their country.

Among the addresses of the concluding session was Dean D. O. McGovney's discussion of the Webb-Kenyon law. It was from the viewpoint of the university man, for the speaker is one of the members of the faculty of the Iowa State university. He approved the law.

The convention closed after the election of officers and the appointment of committees to decide upon the place for holding the next annual meeting. The personnel of the committees places the choice between Davenport and Des Moines. In the afternoon the members went to Lake Manawa.

Harold Shubert Goes to Medical Corps for Training

Harold C. Shubert, only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Shubert, left yesterday for Fort Logan, Colo., to begin training for military duty in the medical corps. He had had two and one-half years' work in the medical department of the University of Nebraska and for several months had been attending Creighton Medical college. He has his examinations and expects to be on the battle front in France within six weeks. Before leaving home the last thing he did was to hang a big American flag on the front porch.

"That flag shall not come down until my boy returns," said Mrs. Shubert with tears in her eyes. "It shall stay there as long as a thread remains, if his duty to his country and to humanity keep him away. I want no human hands but his to take it down and I hope no vandal fingers will touch it."

During the years Harold Shubert was in the Council Bluffs public schools he was one of the most faithful of The Bee's carriers. He is now 22 years old.

Iowa Coal Prices Will Be Fixed by the Council

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Des Moines, Ia., June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—It is anticipated that coal prices will be lowered in Iowa through action of the State and National Council of Defense, in co-operation with coal operators and the government.

Advices from Washington are that coal prices for territories west of the Mississippi will be fixed when coal operators meet in Washington in a week or ten days.

The Council Bluffs Abstract company filed notice yesterday of appeal to the district court from the tax assessment fixed by the city council as a board of review. The assessment was $4,000 and was returned as "merchandise. The company claims the amount to be excessive.

The Board of County Supervisors yesterday decided that Ben. B. King shall hereafter have an equal share of the county's pauper burial business. It has heretofore been divided between Undertakers Cutler, Woodring and Corrigan. A minimum price of $20 is allowed for each pauper burial.

The rural mail carrier on Route No. 5 reported yesterday that all of the roads covered by his long drive had been dragged with the exception of two stretches. One was a cowpath in Garner township over which he has recently been required to drive and the other place is within the city limits, on the North Harrison street and Mynster Springs road.

News was received here yesterday of the death at Warroad, Minn., of R. H. Mayher, an Illinois Central railroad man here, after a lingering illness. He was about 61 years of age, and had made his home at 524 Glen avenue. He had been in Minnesota for about a month, accompanied by his wife and one son. There are two sons and a daughter surviving.

Members of the Danebo society and the Danish Brotherhood of this city and all other citizens of Danish blood are requested to meet in Danish hall, Broadway and Park avenue, at noon, July 4 for the purpose of joining in the patriotic parade which will start at 1 o'clock. They want to demonstrate by a large representation in this parade that they are real American citizens.

Fire that almost destroyed a small cottage at 1006 Avenue E yesterday morning, caused the loss of the greater part of the household furniture of Mrs. Ella Cadel, a widow, who lived there with her family of small children. In addition to the furniture and about all of the clothing, Mrs. Cadel lost all of the money she had saved up during several months. It was in the dresser of the bedroom where teh family clothing was kept, and where the destruction was most complete. The fire started from an oil stove which had been lighted to cook the morning meal. The firemen were called in time to prevent the total destruction of the building. The house was owned by the Northwestern Railroad company and was on one of the lots purchased during the acquisition of the large tract of property in that vicinity.

County Supervisors Cut Bills of Council Members

There is another fight brewing between the city and the county. While sitting as a board of review to equalize the city tax levy, members of the city council drew extra pay from the county in accordance with the state law. Two dollars per day, and each session, generally held at night has constituted a day. The time given to the work is certified to the county auditor by the city clerk in the form of a claim against the county. The usual course was pursued this year and yesterday the bills reached the county supervisors and were reduced one-half.

The certified bills showed that Alderman Clawson put in forty-one days; Damon, forty-two; Gerber, forty-three; Johnson, forty-two; Langston and Williams, each forty-six; Olson, for
