

HAPPENINGS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Mayor Dahlman Tells Mass Meeting of His Friendship for "Black Jack" Pershing; Twenty Volunteers.

"Black Jack" Pershing, now at the head of the American armies in France and James C. Dahlman, mayor of the city of Omaha, began their climb up the ladder of fame and fortune together. That was a long time ago. The one preferred the military—he was just out of West Point and was then a second lieutenant—the other might just as well have been in the army for he was sheriff of Duwase county—and in those days it took a fighting man to hold down such a commission. The friendship thus established has remained firm and steadfast these many years, and the mayor would not be greatly surprised to find on his desk in the city hall some morning in the near future, a postal card from "Black Jack" postscripted Berlin.

This briefly is the story related by Mayor Jim Dahlman to a mass meeting of 600 men and women in front of the city hall, South Side, last night. "And I want to tell you young men of Omaha," declared the mayor, "that if any of you do get to France, I want you to grab Jack Pershing's hand and tell him you are a friend of Jim Dahlman. See if you are not royally received."

Score of Volunteers.

The meeting last night was for the purpose of stimulating recruiting. At the close a call for volunteers was made and twenty young men stepped forward, and together with some of the men already enlisted, marched to the recruiting offices of the South Side company of the Sixth Nebraska infantry. Mayor Dahlman and John Briggs marched at the head of the procession. Crowds along the sidewalks cheered the young men as they marched forward.

The meeting was presided over by J. J. Breen. Patriotic songs were sung by the Pioneer quartet of the South Side.

Captain John Poucher, the "Fighting Parson," made a short talk on camp life. He declared that the safest place, morally for a young man, is in a military camp, under the efficient discipline of army officers. Short addresses were made by Father William Borer and John G. Alber, Christian minister.

The South Side company has in the last two days enlisted nearly 100 men.

Patriotic Services Sunday.

In accordance with a proclamation of President Wilson, South Side churches are arranging for special services Sunday. The day will be observed as Patriotic Sunday and all services will be patriotic. The subjects will have to do with the Red Cross and food conservation.

Ran Down by Automobile.

Emil, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton J. Buglewicz, 5202 South Twentieth street, was seriously injured Thursday night when struck by an automobile. He was crossing Twentieth and Q streets, going on an errand to the meat market when the accident happened. The car's number was taken by workmen on the street, who say the car stopped when the driver saw the boy was injured. Mr. Buglewicz was called and took his son home, where he was attended by Dr. H. J. Chaloupka, who said no bones were broken, but that he was injured internally and considerably bruised. He is confined to his bed.

Injured by Automobile.

Mrs. Thomas Hugenberg, 4709 South Twentieth street, sustained painful bruises on the hips last evening when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. A. H. Murdock, 2515 E street. The accident happened at the corner of Twentieth and N streets. Mrs. Hugenberg was wheeling her baby in a buggy and while crossing the street at the northeast corner on Twentieth and N the auto struck her.

Stricken On Car.

As Mike Swartz, 3452 South Thirtieth street, was on his way to work he was stricken with epilepsy on a southbound street car at Twentieth street and Missouri avenue. Officer Grace was on the car and took the man to the station where he soon recovered and was taken home in the emergency car.

Burglars Get His Coin.

Leonard Kreiger, 2405 R street, reported to the police this morning that burglars entered his room by crawling through a window and relieved him of a $10 bill, a $5 gold piece and $5 in silver which he had stowed away in a suit case for safe keeping.

War Proves Incentive For People to Save Money

Receipts of the loan and building associations are indicative of local business and industrial conditions. W. R. Adair, secretary of the Omaha Loan and Building association, in his semi-annual report makes two very significant statements, viz: That the receipts for the year were $5,094,339 and that the war has proven to be an incentive to the people to save money. The association subscribed for about $300,000 of Liberty bonds.

The board of directors met Thursday to hear the official report of the secretary, which was approved. It indicates highly prosperous conditions among the wage earners and business men of the city. The gain in assets for the six months is $760,024, which brings the total assets up to $10,797,302. Loans placed, $2,863,247.

The reserve fund now aggregates $250,000. Dividends paid during the year, $404,486.39; total dividends paid, nearly $3,000,000. The amount of loans outstanding is $10,065,200.

Secretary Adair reports a very promising outlook for the future.

Charges "Bomb Squad" Hid Morgan Bomb

New York, June 30.—Charges that a police headquarters "bomb squad" member instigated a plot to place a bomb before J. P. Morgan & Co.'s bank, so that detectives could win praise by arresting the plotters, were ordered investigated by a court today.

The accusation was made by Isadore Sherer, counsel for Wolf Hirsch and George Mieringer, who pleaded guilty to having a bomb in their possession.

DECIDES ON TEN PER CENT BOOST IN TAXES

County Equalization Board Accepts Proposition of Tithe Increase Instead of Assessor's Figures.

The county equalization board last night accepted the proposition of more than seventy-five of the biggest firms and corporations of the city to accept tax boosts this year, amounting to 10 per cent increase over their last year's assessments.

The firms were represented by J. A. C. Kennedy and after the proposition was accepted, the names of the firms were read off, last year's figures secured, 10 per cent added and the figures so secured declared by unanimous vote of the board, excepting Assessor Fitzgerald, to be the tax assessment for this year.

Some of the firms had made returns that amounted to even more than the 10 per cent raise over their last year's assessments. Many others had made returns lower than their last year's assessments. But these, too, accepted 10 per cent increase. All of them received big reductions from the startling assessments made by the assessor this year.

In some cases the board made assessments even lower than asked. This was the case with Hayden Bros. Commissioner McDonald and others declared this firm's assessment of last year, $275,000 was too high and insisted on making it only $225,000 this year.

Mrs. Joslyn's return of $562,725 was finally accepted by the board.

HAS POLICE JUDGE POWER TO SUSPEND?

Interesting Point Touching on Bootlegging Is Now on Trial Before the District Court.

From the array of legal talent on the floor and in the galleries the mandamus case brought by City Prosecutor McGuire against Police Judge Madden before Judge Sears, looks like the vital point in the enforcement of Nebraska's new dry law. The records and testimony were brought out yesterday, with the argument yet to come. At one stage of the proceedings there was fireworks, when Mullen and Lambert each accused the other of petting.

The facts developed that one Edward Smith, alias Christopher, a former bartender, was adjudged guilty of bootlegging and sentenced by the police judge to thirty days' imprisonment, with sentence suspended. McGuire, for the city, is asking that Police Judge Madden be ordered to send the prisoner to jail. McGuire insists that under the law Judge Madden has no right to suspend sentence after conviction. Madden's privilege to turn bootleggers loose is being defended.

by Art Mullen and A. S. Ritchie, as against City Prosecutor McGuire, Corporation Counsel Lambert and Assistant City Attorney Fleaharty for the city, and F. A. Brogan and A. R. Wells for the school board. Spectators interested on the Madden side include Deputy County Attorney Gene O'Sullivan, J. A. Benjamin, John Hopkins, J. J. Shannon and Emmet Hannan. The three months' assignment of Madden to the police court on the north side ends today, and he will exchange places with Police Judge Fitzgerald, now at the South Side court, but the mandamus, if issued, is expected to be binding on both of them.
