

An Antidote for Uric Acid Poison

(By Dr. L. C. BABCOCK)
There is a process going on within the body which often poisons us. It is something like the story of the snake being able to kill itself with its own poison. This is the formation of uric acid in excess within the body. It is a waste product which takes place in the liver. This poisonous uric acid is then passed on to the kidneys, which act as a filter to pass off and excrete this poison. If the kidneys are clogged up, inactive, the poison degenerates these organs and causes kidney disease. If it is deposited in the tissues, around the joints of the body, it causes rheumatism or gout.
Consequently we must do everything to throw off this uric acid poison; and simple methods are best. Flush the kidneys by drinking plenty of water between meals; a pint of hot water, morning and night, is splendid. Take Anuric (double strength) three times a day while and get the kidneys to working by flushing out this poison. That painful affliction, known as gout, as well as muscular rheumatism, is caused by the uric acid crystals being deposited in the big toes or tissues. The man who uses his brain, perhaps over-taxing his nervous energy will suffer fits of "blues," depression, headache, sleeplessness, loss of memory, all due to the poison of uric acid. The man who does physical work, using muscles, occasionally complains of sluggishness, muscular tired feeling, muscular stiffness or aches, neuralgic twinges—symptoms all due to this uric acid accumulation. In every case, I advise hot water, and Anuric taken three times daily—a simple, safe remedy, which is to be had at almost every drug store.—Adv.

NEW ANGLE TO FOOD CONSERVATION

Harding Says Individuals Should Take Stock.
We are to understand that the natural food resources of the country must be conserved. We hear it on all sides. We are to feed the world for a while. Now let's take stock and see what it means to us.
We know we are a curious people in a way. We are immensely prone to lean backward in our desire to go forward. It's the natural trait of our impulsive people. We slash and cut right and left letting the chips fly wherever they happen to go and to some extent that's a commendable trait. But after awhile we generally stop long enough to find out what's happening and thereafter we usually temper things a bit.
Quite likely we are going to begin cutting out what we consider as the luxuries of eating and right there, without we consider matters a little, we are apt to mistake what is and what isn't a luxury.
Naturally among other things considered comes Ice Cream, because some of us still hold to the notion that because Ice Cream was once a luxury it still is. To be sure we can get along without it for quite a long time. If we had to go to the fuss we did in the old days it would be a luxury, a luxury of time, money and patience. But it isn't so much a luxury today.
For 10 cents you can get quite a respectable quantity of it almost anywhere today, and after all's said and done it's a little else than good rich cream made more attractive and palatable than the same amount of ordinary cream. And even our stern Puritan fathers with all their economies and hardships did not deny themselves a reasonable amount of milk and cream.
So the next time an economy impulse overwhelms you, remember just how much real food as well as real enjoyment you can get from a plate of Ice Cream and then satisfy your natural craving and at the same time calm your conscience.
And, mentally, for next Sunday's dessert we have prepared a special combination. Apricot Marmalade, which any Harding dealer will be glad to furnish. It's a compact inviting dessert, ready to serve—without waste—nourishing and attractive.

Star Witness in Maloney Case Does Not Talk Freely About Her Duties With Detective Association.

turbed by the questions of Attorney Baker as she steadily denied that she had ever included the home of Mrs. Melson in her visiting list. She gave her present address as the Henshaw hotel.

End Now in Sight.
When the hearing was called yesterday morning Attorney Baker for Maloney, insisted that the city council either dismiss the charges in its entirety, or proceed without further delay to a conclusion of the hearing. He charged that all sorts of extraneous matter and hearsay evidence had been allowed to go into the records and that it was not fair to Maloney or to the council to allow the case to drag in its present state.

"You have stuck pins into Maloney and when he squealed you punished him," said Attorney Baker.

The council will resume the hearing at 9 o'clock this morning and it is expected the end will be reached before noon.

Glad to Get Rest.
At the conclusion of her testimony Mrs. Melson was requested to remain in the council chamber.

She said she had been doing a Marathon all day and was glad to have the rest.

"If you had a glass of that currant jelly I was putting up this morning you would be feeling better," she remarked to Attorney Elmer Thomas, who had provoked her to angry words.

Attorney Thomas requested the council to have Mrs. Melson step into another room and identify Mrs. Phelps.

Question of Reputation.
"Mrs. Melson," said Thomas, "has made statements here that might rob Mrs. Phelps of all the reputation she ever had."

The mayor remonstrated against requiring Mrs. Melson to go to another room. The council, however, voted otherwise. The mayor declined to be a party to the matter.

"I refuse to issue the order. If the others want to escort her into another room, they have that privilege," said the mayor.

"Mrs. Melson, if she is unwilling to submit to that test brands her own testimony as false," said Attorney Thomas.

Mrs. Phelps Called.
"Call Mrs. Phelps. We will now let Mrs. Melson see Mrs. Phelps for the first time," added Thomas, with considerable fire.

Elsie Phelps took the witness chair. City Attorney Rine questioned Mrs. Phelps:

"State your name."
"My name is Ellen Lowrey Phelps."

"Do you know C. W. Pipkin, Harvey Wolf, W. S. Dolan and Steve Maloney?"

"Yes."
"And Winckler and Tylec?"

"Are you familiar with facts concerning the conspiracy case at Chadron? Tell facts of how you happened to get into the case."

Referred to Detective Firm.
"A young woman friend referred me to the Omaha Detective association. I went up to the association office and Mr. Dolan told me he wanted a girl to go to Chadron."

"While at the office I heard a girl tell Tylec that Maloney was on the telephone, and later the office girl told Wolf that Maloney wanted to speak to him on the telephone. I spoke to Maloney over that telephone and Maloney asked me if I was the girl that was going to Chadron. I told Paul Sutton about the case, but the case did not look bad at that time."

How Recognized Maloney.
"When you spoke over the phone at the detective association office, how do you know you were speaking to Maloney?"

"Wolf said Maloney wanted to speak to me."
The chief purpose of the prosecution in calling Mrs. Phelps to the stand on this occasion was to connect Maloney with the Omaha Detective association through the alleged telephone conversation between Maloney and the association office.

Mrs. Phelps related in substance the testimony she offered at Chadron five weeks ago, and which was reported in The Bee in detail at that time.

Tells of Chadron Case.
Mrs. Phelps went into all the details of what transpired at Chadron, speaking in a deliberate tone and with the same equanimity which marked her appearance at the Chadron preliminary hearing. She wore a chipped straw black sailor hat and checked blue summer dress with sailor collar.

City Attorney Rine inquired whether the mayor thought he should examine the witness relative to her acquaintance with Paul Sutton, whereupon the mayor held he wanted the evidence confined to charges against Captain Maloney.

Will Try to Impeach.
Attorney Baker said to Attorney Rine: "If you want to show that this witness is a paragon of a lady, you may; but if I wish to impeach the witness, that is my affair. They took many days to show that Maloney did certain things, and why this witness should be protected, I do not know."

Attorney Baker questioned Mrs. Phelps:

"Where do you live?"
"At the Henshaw hotel. I have been chased around by that bunch so much."

"You had a protector in the person of Paul Sutton, didn't you?"

"I did."
Mrs. Phelps testified that since the Chadron affair she had lived at the home of Paul Sutton, Ray Sutton and Attorney Bromer, rented a room at home of Mrs. John Ford, 811 South Twenty-second street, and then went to the Henshaw.

"Who has paid all of your expenses?"
"Paul Sutton, except on first trip to Chadron, when I used Omaha Detective association money."

Mrs. Phelps refused to be pinned down to exact periods of time or distance. She declared she was not a good judge of distance.

Doesn't Stop to Think.
"Don't you ever stop to think?" Mrs. Phelps asked Baker.

"I might get brain fever if I did," he replied.

On another occasion the witness asked Baker whether he ever forgot a few words, whereupon Bak said he was not testifying.

"Then all you heard from Steve in this matter was that he wished you good luck and would see you again on your return from Chadron, when he spoke to you over the telephone?"

What Tylec Said.
"Well, Tylec and Winckler told me that Steve Maloney and Tom Demmon were connected with the Omaha Detective association."

"When did you meet Paul Sutton after your first visit to the detective association?"

"Saturday evening, at the institute. Is it a place where baths are given to men and women?"

"Yes. I owned it at that time. I am not going into details."
"Who did you employ at the institute?"

Rine objected and was sustained. Rine said if Baker could show that Maloney was employed there, he would not object to witness answering.

In Sutton's Employ.
"How long were you in employ of Mr. Sutton?"

"About five months."
"What did you do?"

"I helped him out on a lot of minor matters."
"What were those minor cases?"

"I told, I would bring in a lot of prominent people, so I won't answer."
"What you did was to investigate bath houses and report your findings to Mr. Sutton, did you?"

"That was some of the work."
"After you had reported that some had been conducted improperly, do you know whether Sutton pulled the places?"

"I don't know."
Witness Is Obstinate.

"Did you do work for Sutton other than investigating bath houses?"

"I am not going to tell you."
"What was the nature of the work?"

"I am not going to tell you."
"Who paid you for investigating bath houses and doing other mysterious work?"

"Mr. Sutton paid all expenses."
"Ever had any detective experience before you worked with Sutton?"

"I had none. I didn't read any of those detective stories."
"Do you know Mrs. Melson?"

"I do not."
Denies Melson Story.

"Were you ever at 514 or 516 South Nineteenth street in company with Paul Sutton in a room together?"

"I was not. Never went to that house in my life."
"Was you not at that house when Sutton told Mr. and Mrs. Melson that if they were good to you and Sutton they would be protected after May 1?"

"Was never at the Melson house in my life."
"Did you not meet Fred Adkins in the hallway at 514 South Nineteenth street and you were in a nightgown?"

"I don't know Fred Adkins."
Adkins was called upon to stand up and Baker asked Mrs. Phelps if she knew Adkins.

She repeated she had never met Adkins, nor did she know him.

Adkins Protected.
"She knows me," said Adkins, whereupon Attorney Thomas severely condemned him, adding that somebody should protect Mrs. Phelps against such libel.

The crowd heartily cheered Thomas and a spectator was restrained from making a rush at Adkins, who is a large man.

Further questioning by Attorney Baker brought denial from Mrs. Phelps that she had gone by the name of Clara Watson or had engaged in a questionable medical business at 4907 Thirty-eighth street.

Mrs. Margaret Melson was called. Attorney Thomas asked her: "Where have you been today?"

Refuses to Answer.
"Who wants to know? Why didn't you notify me? I refuse to answer."

"How often have you seen Elsie Phelps, any time, any place?"

"I couldn't state exactly."
"Have you given the name of Mrs. Woods in the last twenty-four hours, have you?"

"I have not."
"When was the last time you saw Mrs. Phelps?"

"I think in city hall elevator and at the Strand theater."
"Did you try to get a look at Mrs. Phelps at Sixteenth and Farnam streets?"

"I did not."
"Were you with members of the Omaha Detective association in an automobile trying to get a look at Mrs. Phelps?"

"I was not."
"Where were you during the lunch hour today?"

"Near Hanscom park."
"Did you talk to Dolan today?"

"I did. I told him I was on your side."
"Didn't you know the whole police department was looking for you?"

"They don't know me very well."
Grows Testy.

Mrs. Melson grows testy toward Elmer Thomas. Tells city council she is built for comfort, not speed.

"What kind of house did you operate at 514 South Nineteenth street?"

"Just a house where we could have a little fun."
"Did you testify that Paul Sutton bought beer at your house?"

"Yes. I said that he only paid 25 cents a bottle, while others paid $1 a bottle. He did not pay for his room."
"Are you positive you met Mrs. Melson?"

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

Phelps at your house in June last year?"

"I am."
"Where did you live then?"

"Five hundred and fourteen South Nineteenth street."
"When did you meet her again?"

"I don't know."
"You seemed to know before."
"What is the use of going over this again? If you keep on asking me so much I will walk away and won't tell anything."

"Was Mrs. Phelps at your house in September?"

"That's all foolishness. I am not sure when she was there, but I know she was at my house in August."
"But the last time you testified you said she was there in September?"

"Then she was there."
Mrs. Melson then addressed the city council:

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

"I am not going to be made a goat."

of. I was not built for speed, but for comfort. (Mrs. Melson is a woman of goodly proportions.) I am not going over these questions again."

Attorney Thomas tried to question Mrs. Melson further, but she told him to look on the paper he was holding for any information he wanted. Thomas was holding a newspaper.

Mrs. Melson finally cooled down and stated Mrs. Phelps had been at her place more than six or seven times and that Paul Sutton had been there many times.

City Attorney Rine questioned Mrs. Melson:

"Did I understand you to say the Riverside is the same kind of a place as your house?"

"Yes, beer, dancing and a good time."
"Did you ever discuss with Mrs. Rohr of Florence a matter of being paid money for testifying here?"

"I did not."

Baker Makes Quiz.
Attorney Ben S. Baker quizzed Mrs. Melson with result that the witness testified that Elsie Phelps had been to her place on various occasions with Paul Sutton and on another occasion with "Jack."

"On those occasions," asked Baker, "would Mrs. Phelps and Sutton absent themselves from others in the house?"

"They would."
Murray Represents Citizens.

Thomas B. Murray, attorney, announces that he has been engaged by citizens to attend to the legal details in connection with proposed recall petitions against Mayor Dahlgren and Commissioners Withnell, Hummel and Parks.

The petition blanks will allege that the four officials mentioned, "Did wrongfully, willfully, and for political reasons only, and in complete disregard for the rights of the citizens of Omaha, and in complete disregard for discipline in the police department, refuse to remove Captain Stephen Maloney from office." They will also state that the action of these officials was "an insult and an affront to the citizens of Omaha."

Attorney Murray represented the United Improvement Clubs of Omaha during the first days of the hearing of the Maloney charges. R. J. Sutton, secretary of that improvement organization, is one of the leading promoters of the recall petitions, but he explained that the United Improvement Clubs are not officially identified with the project.
