ROURKES UNABLE TO FIND KALLIO

One Lonely Hit for Pa's Darlings, Coupled With Two Errors, Not Enough to Beat Des Moines.

Kallio, Jack Coffey's star slabman, was invincible yesterday and the Rourkes dropped the third and last game of the Des Moines series, 4 to 0. Cecil Thompson was on the firing line for the locals and was nicked for seven safe bingles, while Kallio, save for one stingy little scratch, held the champs hitless.

Schick beat out a slow bunt for the only hit the Rourkes were able to

The Boosters stepped righ up at the start, as usual, and chalked up two tallies. Cass was safe on Krug's error and Ewoldt got a life on Moore's error. Moeller sacrificed and Hunter grounded to Krug allowing Cass to score, while Ewoldt was nailed at third. Hunter stole second and scored on Coffey's single to center.

Cass began the stick work in the third by beating out an infield hit. Ewoldt sacrificed and Moeller singled to right, scoring Cass. Moeller and Hunter singled in the ninth. Coffey sacrificed and Moeller scored on Hartford's out.

In the total count Coffey, Moeller and Cass each collected singles and Hunter one. Thompson pitched good ball, but it is rather a difficult matter to win a ball game on a scratch bunt and two errors.

Dick Breen was shifted to first for the Coon Creekers and Larry Spahr did the catching. Des Moines left for it and there's no game today for the locals. The Drummers come tomorrow so we're laying off for a little batting practice.

K. H. EDWARDS LEADS GIANTS TAKE ONE TO PHILADELPHIA CHAMPION GOLF RACE MORE FROM CARDS

145 at Midlothian Club; Brother Finished Second.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Ill., July 9.-Kenneth H. Edwards of Midlothian today topped winning 3 to 2. A percentage of the a field of 145 golfers in the eighteen- receipts was devoted to the Red the locals, 5 to 2. Witt of Philadel- hole elimination round of the western Cross. Score: phia wrenched his ankle in sliding amateur championship, playing the 6,503-yard Midlothian course in seventy-two strokes, par for the links.

Francis Ouimet of Boston, playing Snyder,c by invitation as an amateur, although held a professional by the United Gonz'es 1 0 0 0 States Golf association, scored 77, tying for third place with J. G. Anderson of New York, Arthur Lee of Detroit and F. J. Douglass of Chicago. Addison Stillwell and Albert Seckel, former champion, were next with 78. The only others to get under 80 were Perry Adair of Atlanta and E. H. Bangard of Chicago, with 79.

Foreigners Finish Well.

The international entries finished well, Jack May of Buenos Aires, Argentine champion, and J. S. Worth-ington of England each scoring 82. Scores above 87 were eliminated from the eighteen-hole medal play tomor-row forenoon to qualify the best thirty-two for match play.

Bobby Jones, the youthful Atlanta golfer and southern champion, played consistently through the green, but poor putting gave him 40-40-80. Tom Prescott, another Atlanta entry, also scored 41-39-80, while Richard Frifith, rf 4 2 1 Hickey of Atlanta made the round in 42-40-82. The fifth Georgian, G. W. Adair, father of Perry, was close behind with 83. Another southern ex-pert, Reuben G. Bush of New Orleans, southern champion in 1916, totaled 42-43-85.

Standish a Surprise.

Among the surprises was the fail-ure of James D. Standish, jr., of Detroit, former Michigan champion and twice runner-up to Chick Evans, to qualify. He took ninety strokes for the eighteen holes.

The only Pacific coast entry to de fend the title held by Heinrich Schmidt of San Francisco, who is gone to war, also was eliminated with ninety. C. W. Calkins, with 88, and F. W. Hale of Omaha, with 90, were eliminated. Ouimet gave an exhibition of his prowess in an extra nine holes pion, is here to defend his title against played with Dorothy Higbic, who the tournament winner. Ralph Weavqualified in the woman's national championship when 12 years old by shooting a 34.

The weather was fine, but the putting greens did not meet with the unanimous approval of the players. The new rule of the Western Golf association, requiring the ball nearer the hole to be played first, met with approval of most of the players, in-cluding Ouimet, Worthington and the Edwards brothers, but Bobby Jones said he did not favor the plan. Some of the players thought the plan tended to hurry the player whose ball was nearer the hole, but that practice would make the plan superior to the old order whereby the nearer ball had to be lifted on most of the greens while the further ball was played.
