BOARD OF MEDIATION SESSION ADJOURNS

Labor Concludes Introduction of Testimony and Employers Fail to Indicate Line of Action.

The State Board of Mediation has completed the hearing of the labor side of the strike controversy in Omaha and has adjourned until Tuesday of next week at 10:30 o'clock.

Employers have not indicated whether they will be ready to introduce testimony at that time or not. July 18 hearing on the temporary injunction is to come up in district court. It will be to determine whether the injunction shall be made permanent or be dissolved. Employers have refrained from testifying in the mediation hearing, contending that they are restrained by the temporary injunction.

Recruit of Sixth Regiment

Close Rival of King Midas Judson E. Wagner, who enlisted as a private in the Omaha battalion of the "dandy" Sixth regiment Wednesday, is greeting all his friends with a "golden smile."

Wagner applied for enlistment several weeks ago, but was not accepted because of bad teeth.

Dr. A. P. Lucas heard of Wagner's case. "Send him up to me," the dentist told Mr. Leidy.

Now Wagner has enough gold in his mouth to be rival of Midas.

Dr. Lucas would not accept a cent of pay for the job on the new recruit. "Send up some money," he advised officers at the recruiting station.

Omaha Road Saves Coal by Cutting Out Two Trains

Representatives of the traffic bureau of the Commercial club, other club members, and a delegation from Hancock, Emerson, Fowler and Lyons, attended the hearing Tuesday before the state railway commission, when the Omaha road asked to be permitted to change the runs of passenger trains 7 and 8. The road made the showing that it would save 102 tons of coal per month by running this train only between Omaha and Oakland, instead of between Omaha and Emerson as it is now being run.

HAPPENINGS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Home of Joseph Vesial on South Thirty-Sixth Street Is Totally Destroyed by Fire.

The home of Joseph Vesial, 6708 South Thirty-sixth street, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon. Fire started from an overheated stove. The loss was $5,000, covered by $1,000 insurance on the building and $500 on the contents.

Just as the fire company reached the station from the Vesial fire an alarm was turned in from 5709 South Thirty-sixth street, where an oil stove in the home of John Currin had started a fire. The blaze was extinguished before the fire department arrived and with slight loss.

Arrested for Trespassing.

Of the thirteen arrests by South Side police Tuesday, seven were for trespassing. The railroad companies and the stock yards have special officers guarding their property and the number of arrests indicates how carefully the transportation facilities and packing centers are being watched. All suspicious loafers are picked up and every effort is being made to prevent damage of property by evil-disposed persons.

Trespassing Charge Made.

Tony Romano, 3002 and Jim and Mike Mania, 3006 Valley street, were arrested by a special officer of the Union Pacific on a charge of petty larceny and trespassing. The officer testified that the men had stolen nineteen sacks of coal from cars. The men confessed that they had taken some coal, but not as much as charged. They were fined $1 and costs each.

Wife Abuser Jailed.

Mrs. Henry Collins, 4216 South Seventeenth street, testified in police court Thursday against her husband, who was arrested Wednesday on a charge of wife beating and drunkenness. The young wife told a pitiful story. Tuesday night during the rain storm Collins came home drunk, she said. He made his wife, who was in bed with the baby, get up and drove her out of the house. Later she returned to the house and tried to tear off a screen so she could get in and she found her cousin, a woman, with her husband. She alleged that both were drunk.

After hearing the testimony, Police Judge Madden said, "Do you know what we ought to have? We ought to have a whipping post for all you wife beaters."

He was given sixty days in the work house and was told to turn his money over to his wife. At first he remonstrated, but finally he handed her $11.43 found in his pockets. Mrs. Collins had only $2 with which to support herself and child. The home is a two-room shack. Collins is employed by the Fairmont Creamery company.

BRANCH OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANK HERE

Information That Financial Institution Is Coming Is Received by Clearing House.

Omaha will have a branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of the Tenth district. The parent bank is in Kansas City. The territory assigned to the Omaha branch is not yet known here.

Information that the bank is to be located in Omaha came to the Omaha Clearing House association yesterday from the Federal Reserve Board, Washington. Omaha bankers are elated. They fought hard for the reserve bank a few years ago, and lost. Now that they are to have a branch of the bank, they consider this almost as good.

"It will be almost as good as having the parent bank," said Luther Drake, president of the Clearing House association.

O. T. Eastman of the First National bank said: "It will mean much to the bankers of Omaha in the way of convenience in quick service in deposits, rediscunts and exchange of credits. It will also mean that the reserve which the Omaha banks now are required to deposit with the Federal Reserve Bank, Kansas City, will all be deposited in the branch bank in Omaha, instead."

Cash Corn Soars on Omaha Market as Demand Increases

While talk of discontinuing the trading in futures may have caused September and December options on corn to sell off 2@3 cents from Wednesday, it had no effect on the continued upward flight of the cash article.

The cash corn situation, according to members of the Omaha Grain exchange, is governed entirely by supply and demand. The supply is constantly growing less, while the demand is increasing by leaps and bounds. Today cash corn in Omaha sold at $1.84@1.88 a bushel, an advance of 1 1/2@3 1/2 cents a bushel over the prices of Wednesday. The receipts were 101 carloads.

The cash price for corn is a long way above the option. September delivery was selling at $1.59@1.60 1/2 and December $1.16@1.19.

Wheat receipts were light, there having been but three carloads on the market. Prices were around $1.30 a bushel, practically unchanged from Wednesday.

Oats were up a half cent, selling at 70 1/2@71 1/2 cents a bushel. Receipts were twenty-seven carloads.

FOURTH NEBRASKA NEEDS MORE MEN

Five Hundred Recruits Required to Bring Regiment Up to Full War Strength.

The Fourth Nebraska, now stationed at Fort Crook, needs 500 more men to bring it to war strength.

Colonel W. E. Baehr says that he hopes to get these before the draft is made, for he feels that it will be almost impossible to get recruits after that.

"There is a popular impression," said Colonel Baehr, "that our shortage in men will be made by taking drafted men. That is not true. No drafted men will be assigned to this regiment. The drafted men will all be sent to the cantonment camps for training. Our force must be made up of volunteers, entirely."

Colonel Baehr says no mother need fear bad company in consenting to let her son join the Fourth, and that every mother may be assured that the officers of the regiment know how to take care of the enlisted men in the field.

Officers of Experience.

"Every field officer in the Fourth," said Colonel Baehr, "is equipped with at least fifteen years of experience in work and study. Twelve captains in the regiment are men of over four years' experience, and men who saw service on the border last year. It takes experienced men to care for the soldiers in the field, and we have taken care to have nothing but such in the officers."

"We are taking only men of character and morality. We want none but these. It might be surprising to some to know that my records show I have rejected over 3,000 applicants because they did not measure up to the standard of the Fourth."

"We have 1,500 men in the regiment now of this clean type, and we want 500 more."

Many Recruiting Stations.

The Fourth is maintaining recruiting stations in every town in the state that has a company in the regiment. The recruiting station for the company in Omaha is in the First National Bank building, Sixteenth and Farnam streets.

Military men are of the opinion that the draft will begin Saturday of this week, and that after that it will be difficult if not impossible for men of conscription age to get into voluntary service in any of the organizations.

Young Women Name Camp

In Honor of Miss Brewster

Hereafter the clubhouse and the athletic grounds of the Young Women's Christian association, out on the Fort Crook boulevard, will be known as Camp Brewster. It is given this name in honor of Miss Clara Brewster, physical director of the association, who got out last spring and boosted for the purchase of the grounds and building, making the camp possible.

The meeting at which the camp name was agreed upon, was held at the camp last night, when a large number of the association girls were in attendance. In fact, the occasion was the annual meeting of the athletic association.
