affair.

The finish was very uneven. Wherever they could, buyers had left out the plainer packing hogs, and after orders had been pretty well filled there were as many as twenty loads left, most of them packing sows which had never attracted better than steady bids. After things had dragged slong for a while, sellers cashed a few of these in yesterday's notches, but before ev erything had sold, a few fresh orders wer received and the market strengthened u again, the extreme close being as good as at any time in the day. Representative sales: 67. 237 . 14 65 73. 204 40 14 70 10. 231 . 14 75 69. 250 120 14 80 70. 273 80 14 85 33. 221 160 15 00 73. 225 160 15 05 36. 220 40 15 10 90. 196 . . . 15 15 84. 199 . . . 15 20 Shesp—After Sheap—After an all morning fight, sellers succeeded in cashing range lambs at about the same prices as were paid yesterday. Early offers were lower, selling interests asked generally steady prices and held on until they got them. One string of western lambs, better than any that were here yesterday sold at $15.50, while bulk of the supply was bought at $15.40, which was the popular price yesterday. After a trading basis was established it took only a few winders to clear the pens, and everything had crossed the scales before noon. The few natives that were on offer were picked up early at figures that looked strong to if anything higher in most cases. Most of the offerings were just small packages, and sales of the desirable kinds ranged largely at $15.25@15.60, the latter price being a dime above yesterday's best figure.

Drawing of Numbers Put Off Because Organization of Exemption Boards Has Not Been Completed.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 12 .- Postponement until next week of the drafting ment that equitable arrangements had been of numbers of men who will be called sited to a few purchases by the milling in terests, there being little, if any, demand to reate inquiry on the part of the local millers.

The initial recovery was followed by additional advances, subjected, however, to considerable profit-taking. Highest prices are millers, such to that of wheat, there being an excellent inquiry for all grades of this cereal, and, while arrivals were fairly heavy, the buyers took hold with an interest and bought simest all of the samples that the commission men were willing to sell, but in a few instances traders could not agree on values and held their stuff over.
