Foshier Bros. & Dutton Pleased With Kissel Agency Along with the announcement of taking on the Kissel Kar contract W. E. Foshier of Foshier Bros. & Dutton tells an interesting story regarding the pioneer work of the Kissel Kar manufacturers.

Mr. Foshier asserts that "aside from being the original designers of the convertible top, or 'slidaway' car, the Kissel people also introduced a number of other motor car advancements, such as the three-quarter elliptic springs, salon body with corridor between the front seats, double external brakes and concealed lights for the purpose of illuminating the instrument board."

"The Kissel people also claim credit for bringing the one-man top idea to America from Europe, for introducing the arched frame over the front axle, which permits a low-hanging body with ample clearance, for the generally adopted system of foot and emergency brakes on rear wheel, and the central control board for electric wires."

"All in all," says Mr. Foshier, "we feel quite happy with our new connection, because they are progressive to the last degree."

Judson Takes Pledge to Aid Police Department Frank Judson, president of Nebraska Red Cross association, arrested for obstructing a fire plug in front of the court house with his automobile, was released yesterday morning by Police Judge Fitzgerald upon his promise to "wage a campaign to have signs put before all fire plugs" so that persons would not park their machines in front of them.

"I'll do it at once," the prominent club man replied.

Mr. Judson was represented by Howard Baldrige, former candidate for United States senator from Nebraska.

"He's a busy man and didn't know the law," Attorney Baldrige said. "I knew the law, judge," Mr. Judson declared in opposition to Attorney Baldrige's statement.

"I just forgot that my car was in front of a fire plug."

"You ought to let him go, because he's done so much good work for the public," Attorney Baldrige added. "He's been punished enough by appearing in court."

"We all do good public service," the judge replied with a smile.

HUGHES WILL HEAD BRANCH BANK HERE

Manager of Omaha Clearing House Association to Become Manager of Federal Reserve Institution.

Although William B. Hughes, manager of the Omaha Clearing House association and secretary of the Nebraska Bankers' association, insists he knows nothing of his possible appointment as manager of the Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve bank of the Tenth district, the rumor persists that he is to receive the office. "I do not know what is the source of that rumor," said Mr. Hughes. "I have received no word here. My judgment would be that nothing should be said about it unless we get some official word in Omaha."

T. C. Byrne, Omaha director of the Federal Reserve bank of this district, is out of the city today.

The advance report of possible appointment for the Omaha branch came from Lincoln and indicated that Hughes was to be manager of the bank and that the directors would include Dr. P. L. Hall, president of the Central National bank of Lincoln; Robert Jarnell, cashier of the Merchants' National bank of Nebraska City; Luther Drake, president of the Merchants' National bank of Omaha and president of the Omaha Clearing House association, and Jesse C. McNish, investment broker of Omaha and former banker of Wisconsin, Neb.

Find Soldiers Are Given Only One Suit of Underwear Mrs. J. T. Stewart, 2d, and her committee on supplies for fighting men furnished 500 suits of underwear for the men in the Fourth regiment at Fort Crook. This allotment will supply each man with one new suit.

"The soldiers have been given only one suit of underwear since they have been in the service, consequently they are in tatters. Although the requisition has been made to the United States government and the governor of Nebraska many times, nothing was accomplished until the Red Cross investigated. If this is their condition now, what will it be later on?" said Secretary W. G. Lyle.

Mrs. Stewart visited the fort to investigate conditions and reported that the work done last week by Dr. Jennie Callias and Mrs. Flora Hoffman in behalf of the Women's Christian Temperance union was filling a great need. As the men in the hospitals are living on regular army rations, the physicians urged the women to supply the hospital with few delicacies. Mrs. Stewart will receive all donations for the boys at the Red Cross headquarters.

Red Cross Activities

Makes Comfort Kits—Winning the women's state golf championship has not prevented Mrs. J. T. Stewart, 2d., from her duties at the comfort kit shop. She sent 150 kits to the Daughters of the American Revolution in Glenwood, Ia., who in turn gave them to the soldiers there. She delivered 160 to the soldiers at Fort Crook, who are in need of as many as can be supplied. Lieutenant Van Buren of Fort Riley, Kan., visited the local headquarters, obtained a kit for himself and urged the women to send some to the men at Fort Riley.

Judson Attends Conference—State Director Frank Judson will attend a Red Cross convention in Chicago Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at the University department. All Washington officials and state directors will attend, this being the first large conference held outside of Washington since the war began.

Oakum Need Acute—Word is received by Miss Carrie Millard at the war relief rooms that the need for oakum has become so great that physicians are using the raw material for soldiers who are wounded on the battlefield. The plant is so powerful that when placed upon the wounds it prevents gangrene and lockjaw.

"For this reason we are speeding up on our supply of oakum pads, which is the slowest kind of work to do," said Miss Millard.

Four-Year-Old Helps—Little Peggy Doorley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doorley, is the latest recruit to the hospital supply department. Although only 4 years old, she rolls bandages for the soldiers as efficiently as any of the grown-up workers.

Red Cross Notes. The group of high school girls who volunteered to make a card catalogue in the Red Cross membership blanks have completed 15,000 out of the 20,000 cards.

Omaha Strike Case is Held Up by Injunction The hearing by the State Board of Mediation and Investigation of the strike case in Omaha will not be resumed in the city hall Wednesday if the injunction suit against the laborers and employers is made permanent by Federal Judge Joseph Woodrough, before whom the injunction suit is being heard.

If the temporary injunction is dissolved, however, the mediation board will in all probability subpoena the members of the Business Men's association and compel them to come before the board and testify. The resumption of the mediation hearing was set for Wednesday, but Chairman Cowell said the hearing would not be resumed until a decision was forthcoming from Judge Woodrough on the injunction.

Lad's Desire to Roam Ends When He Hits Omaha Broke The desire of Elmer Mace, 14 years old, Lincoln, to see the world was terminated Monday when he hit Omaha "dead" broke, sleepy and tired. The lad had been working on a farm near Lincoln and became tired he said of "carrying swill" and feeding the horses. He was picked up by the police and turned over to juvenile authorities. His father, who is a member of the Lincoln police department, called at central station for him today.

Offer $4,000 for Garbage in Fourteen Districts James Whelan offered the city $4,000 a year for all garbage hauled from fourteen outlying districts. The city already has granted Carl Sorenson an exclusive privilege for the central part of the city, netting a total of $11,000 a year, as against $1,000 a year under the former arrangement. Action on the Whelan proposition will be taken next week.

How To Overcome Foot Troubles If you have tired, burning, aching feet, corns or painful callouses, you know only too well the misery and torture that they bring. It is unnecessary, however, to suffer longer with any of these foot troubles.

Go to your druggist and get a small jar of Ice-Mint. Rub a little of this cooling, healing discovery on your tired, aching, corn-pestered, swollen feet. Instantly the pain of corns and callouses vanishes. And shortly the most stubborn and painful hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, or aching callouses, will shrivel up and lift off easily with the fingers, root and all.

Ice-Mint costs little, is easy and delightful to apply, and aside from removing every painful corn or callous will keep your feet cool, easy and comfortable even on the hottest days. Try it. There is nothing better.—Advertisement.

BEE'S MILK AND ICE FUND HELPS MANY

Another Family Found in Distressing Circumstances is Given Much Needed Assistance.

By A. R. GROH. Mrs. A— lives somewhere in Omaha, in a basement under a tailor shop. I opened a gate and stepped from the sidewalk down steep steps and came to the kitchen door. No one responded to my knock, though the door stood open.

Inside I could see a wash boiler standing on the stove. A coffee pot was on the floor, a wash basin on a chair. On the table were some unwashed dishes and an empty milk bottle. One other chair and a wash stand completed the furniture of the room. On a line extending across the room was a child's garment, drying. The plaster was knocked off the wall in some places.

I walked around to the front of the house. The front door opens on a narrow passage lighted only by an iron grating in the sidewalk. I looked into the front room. There was no carpet. The only furniture consisted of two beds. And there, lying on the bare mattress of one of the beds, was a tiny baby, asleep. Now and then it would raise its little hands, unconsciously, to chase away the flies that walked across its face and body.

Is One Case of Many. This, dear reader, is one of the cases being helped by The Bee's Free Milk and Ice fund. I had secured a number of names from the visiting nurses and was investigating.

That little baby is dependent for its very life upon this fund. And the fund is in urgent need of money to help the hospital department of other babies whose only fault is that they have been born in poverty.

I investigated the case further. Going up the steep steps again and out of the gate, I breathed the fresher air of the sidewalk. I asked the tailor in the shop upstairs where Mrs. A was. He said she was scrubbing out the neighboring moving picture house.

There I found this brave mother of five, down on her knees, scrubbing the floor. Once a week she makes $1.00 at this work. She is of foreign birth, but speaks English fairly. She made no voluble complaint of her poverty, but just answered questions. She expressed heartfelt thanks for the quart of milk and piece of ice that The Bee's fund is providing her daily.

"I like to have two quarts," she said. "My little baby, three months, drinks half a quart a day and Joe, two years, he wants to drink much. I buy from milkman sometimes skim milk, ten cents a gallon, but that not so good. All my children sick at stomach sometimes."

Kind of Food. I asked her what kind of food they have. "Sometimes potato, sometimes rice," she said. She has, besides the two small children, three girls aged, 4, 5 and 9 years. The Bee fund is providing milk only for the two smaller children. Her husband has been sick for three weeks with stomach trouble but, she said, has a job and is going to work tomorrow. Five of the family sleep on those two poor beds in that front room under the sidewalk. Two sleep in the middle room.

I couldn't help admiring this brave little woman, battling against circumstances that would discourage the bravest. She is only one of many. If you could compare their wretchedness with your own comfort, how quickly you would send in a contribution to this fund. There is no other means of providing the life-giving milk to these poor babies except The Bee's fund.

It is administered by the visiting nurses, so that every cent you give actually buys pure milk and ice to keep it cool, for the babies of Mrs. A—and others, just as poor and deserving. Every case is thoroughly investigated by the nurses.

Will you help? Bring or send any sum from 10 cents to $5.00 to The Bee office. It will be a blessing to you as well as to the poor, suffering little ones.

Reported that President A. J. Earling Will Resign A rumor filters into local railroad circles that at the meeting of the board of directors of the Milwaukee road, to be held in New York next Thursday, A. J. Earling, president, will resign and that immediately thereafter he will be elected chairman of the executive committee of the company.

President Earling is 68 years of age and has been with the Milwaukee road for more than fifty years, having started his career with the company as a telegraph operator. It is said that Chicago has made an effort to verify the report, but has been unable to do so, owing to the fact that at this time President Earling is in the wilds of Wisconsin, on a fishing tour and will not return to his office until the last of this week.

Stein and Hogate Named as Candidates for Major's Job Captain Harry Stein of the Quartermasters' corps in the Fifth regiment has been suggested as major of the Dandy Sixth to take the place of Paul Skinner, who failed to qualify.

Formalities Left Behind At Realty Convention Dress suits are to be left behind when the Omaha delegation of realtors go to Milwaukee to attend the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. G. G. He says President Haas announces the plans all complete for the big convention.

About a dozen Omaha realtors are going to attend. Among those who have definitely decided upon going from Omaha are C. F. Harrison, Byron R. Hastings, E. M. Slater, Dean Glover and Bert Fowler. Mr. Glover has already motored to Chicago, where his family is spending some weeks on a vacation. He will go from there to Milwaukee.

EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER EVERY DAUGHTER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES

To put strength into her nerves and color into her cheeks.

There is a beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked woman without iron. The trouble in the past has been that when women needed iron they generally took ordinary metallic iron, which often corroded the stomach and did far more harm than good.

Today doctors prescribe organic iron—Nutrated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard looking women 100 per cent in two weeks' time in many instances. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.

NOTE: NUTRATED IRON recommended by Dr. Ferdinand King can be obtained from any good druggist with a guarantee of success or a refund. It is dispensed in this form.
