Summer Flower Gardens Are the Joy
Of Omaha People Who Stay at Home

Shy little Miss Anne Page Trinder, daughter of Major and Mrs. John Trinder and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Page, loves her grandparents' garden more than any place she knows. She plays in it all the time and likes nothing better than to pick the flowers that grow there in such profusion. All sorts of interesting things are in the garden, such as butterflies and birds, who gather around the bird bath beside which Mrs. Walter T. Page is standing in the picture. Then there is the gazing bowl, beside which little Mistress Anne is standing. In it there are wonderful sights of sky and trees that are altogether fascinating to the little tot. The Page garden is one of the loveliest in the city and is a source of great enjoyment to the entire family.

Omaha Extends Cordial Hospitality
To Its Many Warm Weather Guests

WARM weather must be conducive to hospitality, for each summer finds more visitors in Omaha than at any other season of the year. Just as it has been in former years it is now, so that we are enjoying at present and in prospect visits from a multitude of interesting people, both young and old. Perhaps fewer than usual come from far parts of the land this year because war interests are tying many at home. In honor of those who do and who are necessarily infrequent visitors social affairs never lack.

None is more popular than Miss Florentine Preston of New York and her brother, Mr. Harry Preston, who with their mother are visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. L. J. Healey. In their honor a round of care-free summer parties have been given. Thursday night Miss Clara Hart of Council Bluffs entertained for them and for her guest, Miss Dorothy Headley of New Bedford, Mass. This was to have been the farewell party, but because their stay was prolonged from Friday until Sunday, a few last parties could be crowded in. Saturday afternoon Miss Claire Daugherty entertained twelve guests at luncheon in honor of Miss Preston at the Country club and Miss Elsie Storz gave a dinner dance at night.

Mrs. Preston has been one of the most interesting visitors in the city for a long time. Her acquaintance with war conditions abroad and her active interest in the foundation of convalescent hospitals for American soldiers abroad has made her a great demand as speaker at all gatherings of women.

Miss Dorothy Headley of New Bedford, Mass., the guest of her Dana hall schoolmate, Miss Clara Hart, and her mother, Mrs. Ernest Eldred Hart, of Council Bluffs, is proving popular with Omaha people. Motor picnics of four and six guests occupy a great deal of their time. One of these picnics was given by Miss Hart Thursday night Friday night Miss Geraldine Hess entertained twenty-seven young people at the Boat club, when Mr. Nash and Mr. Henry Cartan of San Francisco, who leave today for their home after a month's visit with their grandmother, Mrs. E. W. Nash, were also guests.

Saturday afternoon Miss Headley and her hostess were included in Miss Claire Daugherty's luncheon at the Country club. Wednesday night Miss Olga Metz will give a dinner-dance party for them at the Country club. The latter part of the week Mrs. Hart, accompanied by the two girls, will motor down to Centralia, Mo., for a week's visit with Mr. Eldred Hart, who had a fall a short time ago.

Miss Catherine Cartan and Miss Barbeau Myers, who have been visiting their grandmother, Mrs. E. W. Nash, leave with her today for Duquesne, Pa., where they will stop a few days with Mr. and Mrs. George Myers before going to Ephraim Lake, Wis., to visit Miss Martha Folda.

Other visitors from near at hand are being made to feel the cordiality of Omaha's welcome. Miss Esther Nieman of Minneapolis is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Arman. She will motor home by way of Lake Okoboji, Ia.

Mrs. William H. Belcher of Memphis, Tenn., arrived Monday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peters.

Miss Dorothy Raymond of Lincoln spent the week here the guest of Miss Sybil Nelson.

Mrs. Herbert French, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Congdon, returns next Tuesday to Baton Rouge.

Mrs. J. M. Arrasmith and son,

James, Jr., are here visiting her sister, Mrs. George Redick. Colonel Arrasmith is on duty in the south inspecting troops and Mrs. Arrasmith came north with her son to avoid the heat.

Miss Ruth Beecher, who has been visiting Miss Emily Keller, returned to Hastings Thursday with her mother, who has been here for a few days this week.

Mrs. F. J. Grant and daughter of Zanesville, O., arrived Saturday morning and are stopping at the Blackstone.

Mr. Harry Jennison of Dayton, O., spent several days last week with his sister, Mrs. Wilbur Brandt, and his mother, Mrs. E. A. Jennison, in Omaha.

Miss Sylvia Caro of Kansas City is spending several weeks as the guest of Miss Erna Hadra at her summer cottage at Carter lake. Over the week-end Miss Hadra will entertain a party of six house guests.

Dr. M. A. Klein of California is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klein.

Miss Gertrude Robinson of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been the guest of Mrs. T. E. King for some time past, left for her home Wednesday.

Mr. Fred Hadra, who has been

Judge Ben S. Baker "went in for" roses this spring. With a lavish hand he purchased 300 American Beauty rose bushes and set them out to keep company with his hedge of Russell and Killarney roses. 'Twould have been too good to be true had all the roses lived, but enough of them did so that Mrs. Baker, who is seen in the picture at the right, has kept her luncheon tables supplied with spicy roses from their own garden. Mrs. Baker's guests never fail to enjoy one of her frequent little parties at the country clubs when baskets of these fragrant flowers form the centerpiece and add a touch of cool color to the affair. Mrs. Baker is the new leader of the political and social scene department of the Omaha Woman's club, which is giving an outing at the Young Women's Christian association summer camp next week.

Summer Events In Omaha Society
Show General Philanthropic Motive

Happy Hollow club's new entertainment committee is alive with original ideas. Its latest scheme has been presented to the members of the club in the form of invitations to a "ballet cabaret" dinner at the clubhouse Tuesday night. This cabaret is to be wholly different from anything of that nature ever given in Omaha. Diversions appropos of present day war conditions will be the special novelty.

Tables will be arranged about the open air ball room and dance music will begin at 7 o'clock in order to allow dancing between each course. Since only 150 people can be accommodated, those who wish to attend are hastening to telephone their reservations before the dead line, Monday night at 8. This is the first of a series of unusual dinners planned by the entertainment committee. As announced before a high cost of living dinner will be given soon.

International Bridge Prizes. "International prizes" are to be offered for the Tuesday bridge tournament at the Field club this week, proceeds of which will go to the Omaha chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for its convalescent hospital fund. Perhaps "international prizes" strikes you as too ponderous a term to apply to prizes at cards, but the fact is that Mrs. A. V. Shotwell, in selecting the gifts for this week's game, chose articles which represent as many nationalities as there are pieces. A pair of Japanese book-ends in the shape of elephants is one of the prettiest. Half a dozen tea glasses made in America are suitable to the season. A beautifully framed French print of Madame Pompadour is offered to the art-loving. A Grecian vase, a Chinese sandwhich plate, a bronze Indian incense burner and a black and white English breakfast tray complete the list.

Knitting Week Benefits. Knitting week in the National League for Woman's Service will be featured by a variety of interesting events planned by the chairman, Mrs. Harvey Newbranch. The first plans to be made public, concern three card parties to be given at three country clubs to make money for the purchase of yarn. The original idea was to have all three on Thursday, but it could not be arranged. A chairman from each club has been appointed and she in turn chooses four assistants.

Mrs. A. V. Shotwell, who ably manages the Field club bridge games, is in charge of the play Thursday at the Field club. Mrs. F. J. Jumper, who is in charge of the regular Thursday bridge game at Happy Hollow club, will direct the play for the knitting division. Mrs. O. M. Smith is in charge at Carter Lake club, where the card party will be given on Wednesday.

Dozens of women have spent all they can in the purchase of yarn and will have to stop work if money is not raised to buy their supplies. Mrs. Newbranch intends to make a valiant effort to collect enough money to keep every worker busy in order that the work of the Omaha knitting division of the National League for Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Sixty-five friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Moss celebrated their golden wedding anniversary a week ago Saturday during the afternoon and evening. The ceremony which was performed fifty years ago was repeated, with one of the guests acting as clergyman. Numerous bouquets were sent to the couple in commemoration of the occasion and a gold piece and an electric lamp were two valuable gifts.

Three children, Mr. Elmer Moss, Mr. D. S. Moss and Mrs. Bert Bloomhall, and sixteen grandchildren, all of this city, were present at the anniversary party. Another son, Mr. H. Moss, living in South Dakota, was unable to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Moss have made Omaha their home for the last thirty years.

Plan Red Cross Ball.

Omaha and Council Bluffs country club people will soon be treated to a most delightful dancing party if the plans now being formulated by Mrs. Donald Macrae of Council Bluffs mature. Mrs. Macrae, who is an enthusiastic Red Cross worker, is discussing a Red Cross ball to be given at the Council Bluffs Rowing association in the near future. Since the club house will probably not be large enough to accommodate the many friends of the club members in Council Bluffs and Omaha who will receive invitations, canvas may be stretched taut over the smooth hard tennis courts, directly in front of the club building, to provide additional room for the dancers in the open air. An orchestra will then be stationed on the balcony of the club house in order to allow any one who wishes to dance inside, while others dance in the moonlight out of doors.
