Red Cross Activities

Red Cross Activities—Mrs. O. C. Redick gives highest praise to the women comprising thirty-five auxiliaries who have been so loyal and patriotic in giving their time and money for making of hospital supplies both in the Red Cross workshop in the Baird building and in all outside auxiliaries.

"They may well be proud to have been such faithful workers each day in spite of the heat, while they have made it possible to ship 18,339 articles, including sheets, pillow cases, towels, pajamas, bath robes, wash cloths, handkerchiefs, operating room linen and surgical dressings," said Mrs. Redick.

"Aside from all the articles shipped they have supplied all samples of finished articles which have been sent to the different chapters of the state to enable them to do their part in this great cause for the American Red Cross."

Mrs. Redick feels that all workers rejoice with her in the splendid news that the Omaha Red Cross chapter is to furnish hospital materials to carry on surgical supplies work.

Organizer Cherry County.—Woodrough Ball, chairman of Cherry county Red Cross, visited Frank Judson, state director, at the headquarters at the court house. Mr. Ball's headquarters are at Valentine. Cherry county is the largest county of the state in area, and consequently the most difficult to organize, but in spite of this handicap Mr. Ball has canvassed every part by automobile, and has completed a thorough organization of the county.

Mr. Ball is a loan banker and a member of the state republican committee.

Red Cross Notes. The women of Omaha are more than doing their part in putting up the yarn the men of Omaha are paying for. Mrs. William Archibald, secretary of the National League for Women Service reported that the 140 bales of yarn which came in to headquarters yesterday is now practically exhausted, so frequent have been the demands for knitting materials.

Leonard W. Trester, who is in charge of the organization of city-wide yarn drives, has received the official telegram from Washington making him chairman of the Navy League for the state of Nebraska, with
