

WILSON FOOD BILL BITTERLY DEBATED

Measure Which May Be Voted Upon Tomorrow Runs Into Opposition from Democratic Senators.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The conference report on the administration food control bill was again the subject of debate in the senate today. Leaders believed it would be voted on tomorrow. Most republicans were said to favor immediate adoption of the report and the principal opposition came from democratic members, notably Senators Reed, Hollis and Gore.

Debate yesterday became caustic when Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill, accused Senator Gore of obstructing passage of the food bill and other administration measures repeatedly and Senator Gore charged the senate conferees with letting President Wilson dictate to them.

Congress Has Full Power. Senator Williams, defending the elimination of the provision for a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures, pointed out that congress already has full power to investigate all expenditures.

Senator Williams declaring it was well for the senate to hear what the country thinks, denounced obstructionists.

"It is a time to forget party alignments," he said, "and I am glad to say that a majority of both the democrats and republicans have done so, but there is a small group on both sides who have formed themselves into an anti-administration and anti-American party."

"Consciously or unconsciously," he said, "they had put themselves into the attitude of opposing everything that goes to carry on the war."

Must Get Together. "It is time for the majority of the democratic and republican parties to get together and say to these little groups," he declared, "You have danced your ballet, you have sung your song, America is tired of you. We are tired of you and want to do something."

"Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson all are setting examples. All three have proven their Americanism. They are tired, the country is tired, the house is tired and two-thirds of the senate is tired of this constant gabble-fest—this constant gabbling about nothing. We're lagging through the dog days making everybody nervous and tired with talk on this bill that isn't changing a vote."

"Why take up the time of the American people with this," Senator New of Indiana, republican, declared the public does not understand the bill and expects the impossible from it.

Senators Are Doubtful. "Nearly every senator has doubts as to its results," he said. "Not ten members actually believe in it. But it is apparent that the senate is going to give this bill to the administration and the public because they want it. The public has been led to believe that it will reduce the cost of living and it would be impolitic to defeat it."

Speaking in opposition to the adoption of the conference report, Senator Gronna pronounced it a "victory for the Standard Oil company and the grain exchanges of the country," declaring there was nothing in it to control prices of the oils the farmer needs. Control over fuel oil, he admitted, was inserted in the bill, but said this was only the product of petroleum after gasoline had been extracted.

"You can't fool the American farmer into believing that kerosene and gasoline have been placed under a control price," said he.

Senator Chamberlain interrupted Mr. Gronna to deny that the oil companies benefited in any way under the bill. Senator Gronna took occasion to reply to Senator Williams' speech attacking "obstructionists."

Senator Gronna declared that he had not delayed the passage of any measure ten minutes since the declaration of war.

Senator Gronna asserted that the farmers were not exempt from the anti-hoarding section. The provision, he contended, legalized hoarding by the big milling companies that operate through grain exchanges or chambers of commerce and seriously affected little millers who bought direct from producers.

Senator Gronna contended the bill did an injustice to labor and to farmers and would have an injurious effect on the country.

Link-Belt Company Has Big Exhibit at Fremont

One of the accessory exhibits that is attracting a great deal of attention at the Fremont Tractor demonstration is that of the Link-Belt company of Philadelphia. This company manufactures a roller and trucks, having equipped many of America's leading machines with their product. In explaining the advantages of their link-belt chains for tractors, Mr. Frederick V. Hetzel, chief engineer said: "The link belt roller chain we make is durable because it is scientifically made by skilled workmen, and by a company that has been making chains for forty-three years, during which time it has grown to be the largest and best equipped chain manufacturing plant in the world. We do not employ bulk to secure the needed strength in our chains, on the contrary we make the lightest, yet strongest, chain on the market. We guarantee every foot and every link of it."

The Link-Belt company also has branches at Chicago and Indianapolis. The exhibit at Fremont is in charge of Fenton J. Spaulding of the tractor department. He is assisted by Mr. Hetzel and Julius S. Holl, advertising manager. Those who visit their booth are given a souvenir watch fob.

Ex-President Taft Unable to Go to Lincoln; Slightly Ill

Clay Center, Kan., Aug. 7.—Former President William H. Taft became ill at a hotel during the night and today is under the care of a physician. The nature of his illness was described only as being stomach trouble. He will be unable to leave Clay Center today for Lincoln, Neb., where he has a speaking engagement. He delivered an address here last night.

German Version Of Murder of Crew Justifies the Act

Amsterdam, Aug. 7.—Dutch newspapers print in a parallel column with an account of the murder of the crew of the British steamship Belgian Prince, a Berlin telegram giving the following extract from a pastoral letter read in all the Protestant churches of Berlin last Sunday: "We will comport ourselves as Christians toward our enemies and conduct the war in the future as in the past with humanity and chivalry."

The pastoral letter was read at a service which Emperor William and the German empress attended at the cathedral. It exhorts the people to humanity, and recognizes the hand of God in the protection from invasion which the Fatherland has enjoyed.

The British steamship Belgian Prince was sunk July 31 by a German submarine. According to survivors who reached a German port the U-boat shelled the vessel and the German commander then ordered the crew to take to the boats and go alongside the submarine. The Germans, the survivors assert, removed the life belts and outer clothing of all the members of the crew except eight, smashed the lifeboats with axes, and then re-entered the submarine and closed the hatches, leaving the men on deck. The submarine traveled on the surface for about two miles and then submerged. Thirty-eight of the crew were drowned. Three others were rescued by a patrol boat.

Masonry to Help When Peace Comes, Says Colorado Man

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 7.—"When the time comes for the final adjustment of peace conditions, following the world war, Masonry will be an important factor in bringing universal peace," was the statement made last night by Leslie E. Hubbard, attorney general of Colorado, who is appearing on Masonic affairs before the meeting of the supreme council of the thirty-third degree, Scottish Rite, southern jurisdiction.

"Masonry has a great mission in this war," Mr. Hubbard said. "Its influence will be an important factor in bringing about universal peace. The noble sentiments emanating from the order will have a salutary effect on the nations striving to get back to a footing of brotherly love and democracy. Masonry is strong in Germany and Austria as well as in our own country and Great Britain. The order will be solid when peace comes and will therefore be able to do more for humanity than it ever has done before."

U. S. Soldiers in France Will Be Allowed to Vote

Washington, Aug. 7.—American citizens in France as members of the expeditionary forces will be privileged to vote at the fall elections, provided their respective states establish the necessary overseas voting machinery. Provost Marshal General Crowder, in a ruling on the subject holds that there is no bar to any citizenship in an election because of his absence from home while on duty with the troops. Following the process used on the Mexican border last year, soldiers at National Guard mobilization camps or cantonments of the national army will cast ballots at the coming elections if the states enact the needed legislation.

A ruling by General Crowder directs exemption boards to accept for service all aliens who are willing to waive their immunity claims, based on allegiance to another government. In this manner the ranks of the new national army are opened to friendly aliens who wish to volunteer.

Iowa Oats Crop Biggest Ever Harvested in State

Des Moines, Aug. 7.—It is probable that the present oats crop, now being threshed, will be the biggest in the history of the state.

The yield is unusually heavy, much of it threshing out at from seventy to eighty-five bushels to the acre, and the acreage is large.

Prospects for the corn crop are also excellent. The recent rains have been of much benefit to the corn. The corn got a late start in Iowa because of the cool weather in the early part of the season and it is now two weeks late in many sections of the state. A late fall is necessary to avoid much soft corn. With the right kind of weather, however, Iowa's corn crop would pass the 400,000,000-bushel mark and may go to 450,000,000. The biggest crop ever grown in the state was in 1912, when it totaled about 389,000,000 bushels.

Wounded Soldiers Recover Quickly Under New Method

An Atlantic Port, August 7.—Out of one detail of 1,350 wounded men sent for special treatment to a London hospital suffering from crushed and broken bones, 1,000 were able to return to active duty at the front, according to Major J. E. Goldthwait, an orthopedic surgeon of the United States army medical reserve corps, who arrived here today from Europe.

Major Goldthwait is one of twenty American medical officers who have been in France and England observing and studying new methods of treating wounded. He said he returned to the United States to recruit surgeons who could be given the advantage of similar study in order that the American army when it gets into action may have the benefit of the modern treatment of wounds from its own surgeons.

TEUTON FOREIGN POLICY IS IN AIR

Political Questions Are of Great Importance in Future Conduct of Germany's Aims for World Domination.

Copenhagen, Aug. 7.—Will Dr. von Kuehlmann or Dr. Karl Helfferich, vice chancellor, be the real director of foreign policy under the administration of Dr. Michaelis, the imperial German chancellor? This is the political problem of the hour in connection with the shakeup of the cabinets in Germany.

It is known the versatile Dr. Helfferich desires to have a hand in steering Germany's new course in world politics after the war, and it is rumored that the new chancellor, unacquainted as he is with international affairs, desires to retain the ex-bank director (Dr. Helfferich) as his special advisor and mouthpiece, particularly for this field.

In fact, one of the avowed reasons for Dr. Helfferich's retention, despite his present unpopularity in the Reichstag, was that his services are indispensable in peace negotiations. The Berlin Tageblatt, the Lokal Anzeiger and the Vossische Zeitung all refer to the possibility of a conflict, as Dr. von Kuehlmann, it is understood, is disinclined to permit himself to be regulated to a subordinate place.

A second feature of the shakeup is the consideration shown the Catholic center party, whose demand for representation in the imperial and Prussian cabinets for the Roman Catholic population was recognized by the appointment of three Roman Catholics, Spahn, Waldow and Kuehlmann. With a revocation of the anti-Jesuit and Polish expropriation laws, also part of the centrist program, that party is considered to have done very well as a result of the parliamentary crisis.

While the radical and socialist press is dissatisfied at the absence of any marked concession to parliamentarism in the new cabinets and at the failure to consult the Reichstag in any way on the appointments, newspapers of the opposite camp are aggrieved at the shelving of Dr. Beseloff, Prussian minister of justice; Count Loebell, Prussian minister of the interior, and Baron von Schorlemer, Prussian minister of agriculture, and other standpatters on Prussian franchise reform.

One U-Boat Sinks 66,000 Tons of Shipping; Still Going

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 7.—One German submarine during a three-week period ending July 19, sank nineteen vessels aggregating 66,000 tons and was still in condition to remain longer away from its base, according to a report brought here today by Harold Hansen of Detroit, a member of the crew of one of the nineteen ships, who said he received his information from the U-boat commander.

Hansen said he belonged to the Norwegian sailing ship Artensis, a vessel of 1,789 tons gross register, sunk while on its way from Glasgow to Hampton Roads. His ship stopped when ordered to do so by the submarine commander, and a detail from the U-boat came aboard and removed all the food supplies.

The crew was then ordered into boats, given the course to the nearest land, and the Artensis was torpedoed. The captain of the submarine Hansen said, told him and other members of his crew with pride that he had sunk eighteen ships in three weeks and was after more.

Leslie Made Advertising Head of Emerson Concern

The Emerson-Brantingham Implement company of Rockford, Illinois, announce the appointment of C. E. Leslie as advertising manager, effective at once.

Mr. Leslie has been associated with the company since the first of the year as assistant advertising manager, so is thoroughly familiar with the advertising plans of the company.

Previous to joining the E.-B. ranks, Mr. Leslie was in the advertising department of the Fairbanks, Morse & Company for four years and during the past five years has been associated with the International Harvester company in the advertising department.

He has a basic training in machinery acquired at the college of engineering at the University of Wisconsin and in the past few years has specialized in agricultural advertising. His experience along this line eminently fits him for directing the advertising of the Emerson-Brantingham Implement company.

Tractor Confusion Ended

At the show you see practically as many different types of tractors as there are firms exhibiting.

Out of this confusion of styles, types, sizes, we have found that the opinions of several thousands of farmers pretty closely agree as to what is right in tractor principles.

We have taken these well-tried requirements of successful tractor construction and built them into one tractor—the new three-plow Hart-Parr Tractor.

This new tractor is the tractor that you want. It's right, in power, in fuel, in motor, in simplicity, in price.

It is nearly ready for you. Watch for announcements of it soon in national publications.
