ROURKES BLANKED BY NABORS' CURVES

Inshoots of Lanky Grizzly Hurler Too Much for Pa's Pets, Who Succumb to 1 to 0 Count.

The dizzy inshoots of a lanky gent named Nabors, late of the Connie Macks, proved too much for Pa's pets Kelleher, sa Buicher, 1f yesterday afternoon and the demon Rourkes tasted the bitter dose of defeat at the hands of the Grizzlies, Shestak, e Wuffil, 36

Despite the fact that yesterday was the first game on the home lot since the second season opened, the number of cash customers was small and the Rourkes didn't have much company in their misery.

Mr. Nabors almost copped his second no-run, no-hit game of the year yesterday. He had already hurled one against Sioux City. The Rourkes made two hits off Nabors, but with a little more luck both might have been converted into outs.

In the seventh stanza, Ward Miller almost tore a leg off Wuffli. Wuffli knocked the ball down, but couldn't hold on to it. In the ninth, Ben Shaw rammed a drive down Nabors' throat. Nabors knocked it down, too, but Both drives were good enough hits, but sometimes an athlete makes a spectacular catch of such blows and if Wuffli and Nabors could have been able to make said spectacular catches, Nabors would have earned his second no-hit game of the year.

been sent slinking back to the bench dent Dickerson of the league caught quick throw. The throw got away from Shaw and rolled toward the bleachers while Butcher scooted to third. He scored when Mills dropped Berger, as a short single into left.

Got to Third Once.

The Rourkes got to third once on Nabors and to second twice. In the fourth Ward Miller walked and stole second, but died there and in the seventh Miller singled and took second on an infield out, but failed to ad-
