Says Hubby Threatened Her—Anna Lewis, suing Charles L. Lewis for divorce, said in district court, alleges he threatened her. They were married in Omaha March 22, 1911.

Rabbi Taxon to Speak—Rabbi Morris Taxon of Columbus, O., will deliver a sermon at B'nai Israel synagogue, Eighteenth and Chicago streets, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. He lectures in the same place Sunday evening at 8.

Articles by Prof. Grummann—A series of articles, "Glean in His Maturity," from the pen of Prof. Paul H.
Grummann, University of Nebraska, is appearing in Poet Lore. The subject matter of these articles was presented in Omaha lectures given by the professor in the last year or two.

John T. Bell's Reminiscent Book about Omaha and Omaha men is out and on sale at local bookstores. An advance copy has been received by The Bee. The author explains that his publication is: One booklet, $1.00—$1.00, one booklet, and to those interested, it is fully worth the money.

Two Allege Nonsupport—Melvina Bell is suing Jess W. Bell for divorce in district court on grounds of alleged nonsupport. They were married in Omaha July 4, 1910. Elsie M. Weaver, suing Lewis E. Weaver for divorce in district court, alleges nonsupport. They were married in Omaha January 12, 1917.

Modern Woodmen Picnic—Omaha camp No. 129, Modern Woodmen of America, will hold its annual picnic and outing at Manawa park Saturday afternoon and evening, when a feature of the evening will be an exhibition drill by the camp's team at 8 o'clock.
This team has won prizes all over the United States for its fancy drilling. Between 400 and 500 Woodmen and their families plan to attend the picnic.

Plenty of Yarn Now—Five hundred pounds of gray yarn, the regulation kind for navy knitting, has just been received from Lincoln at the headquarters of the National League for Woman's Service in the First National bank building. Women knitters who have been unable to secure their yarn on account of its scarcity for the last several days are assured that their wants can now be supplied if they will call up the league rooms.

Major Lahm Goes East
For Recuperation Trip

Major Frank Lahm, commander of the army balloon school at Fort Omaha, left Omaha Thursday evening for Akron, O. Major Lahm broke his leg two months ago and his convalescence has been very slow. While his visit in Ohio, his former home, is intended mainly as a rest from active duties, he will spend a part of the time at Akron, the famous rubber town, supervising the making of the new and greatly improved variety of balloons being manufactured for the school at Fort Omaha.

Major Hersey, who has had such great success in the management of the rapidly-growing balloon school for the last two months, will continue as acting commander.

Captain Eugene Lazar is now adjutant of the post and Captain Bower, the former adjutant, is now supervisor of all the balloon work on the grounds.

YOUNG MEN FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

Frank Long Bound Over on Charge of Attempt Assault; Companion is Held on Same Charge.

Frank Long, 5212 South Twenty-fourth street, was held for the district court under $1,000 bonds Friday on a charge of attempt to assault Miss Helen Meillinger, 1927 South Eighteenth street.

Robert Toner, 2333 South Sixteenth street, was placed under $1,000 bonds for appearance August 16 to answer to the same charge against Miss Anna Alderman, 1909 South Eighteenth street. Miss Alderman is confined to her bed suffering from nervous prostration as a result of the attack and was unable to appear in court.

Fearing publicity, the young ladies did not report the outrage to the police. William Helen, a salesman for the Murphy-O'Brien Auto company, reported that he had brought two young women to the business section of town Wednesday night after hearing their cries for help from a lonely spot near Fortieth and Lake streets.
He did not learn the names of the women nor the names of the assault.
Detectives Dunn and Jolly arrived with these meager facts, found the young women and later apprehended the alleged assailants.

Both young men are out on bond charged with petty larceny. It is alleged that they robbed a filling station on Fortieth and Cuming streets of gasoline. Long is also charged with stealing cream cans from a local creamery. They will have a hearing on the petty larceny charges Saturday.

The young women's version of the affair as told by Miss Meillinger is that they accepted an invitation for a short auto ride with the two men.
They soon became lost, according to Long, and he insisted on driving toward Florence. The girls became frightened and insisted upon returning as the men commenced making advances to them. The machine then stopped and the girls got out to see what was the matter when they were struck and forced to the side of the road. Their screams attracted the attention of Helen and the men fled.

Use All Cars to Carry Soldiers to Barbecue

In carrying the soldiers Saturday from Fort Crook to Riverview park, where a barbecue will be given for the boys, the Omaha Street Railway company expects to press all its available cars into the service. From Fort Crook the service will be increased by a number of the large open cars used on the Omaha and Council Bluffs line. These cars will work between the fort and Valley street.

The Omaha crowds will be carried on the standard cars on the South Thirteenth street line, switching at Valley street. Extra cars will be used and, if necessary, a one-minute service will be inaugurated during the rush hours of the afternoon and evening.

The estimate of the street railway people is that 1,200 soldiers will be carried between Fort Crook and the park.

The men from Fort Omaha will be entrained at Thirtieth and Fort streets, and special cars will be run direct to Valley street, on the South Thirteenth street line.
