

Nebraska CANDLE ALL EGGS, SAYS FOOD DEPUTY

Otto Murchel Warns Dealers That State Will Demand More Care in Their Sale From This Time On.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—Thirty-three dealers in eggs must appear before the state department of pure foods within two weeks and show cause why they should not be fined for not observing rules of the food department regarding handling of eggs.
"I am not going to start a campaign of persecution," said State Commissioner Murchel this morning to The Bee, "but I will prosecute these men, or any other men, who persist in being careless in handling eggs."
Two government officials were here last week and assured the food commissioner he would have co-operation of the government in prosecuting his campaign for purer eggs.
Carelessness in handling eggs and failure of many dealers to candle them is leading to the palming off on the public of eggs of "careless habits," and a campaign of education will be followed by the food commissioner.

Sixteen Johnson County Men Selected for Draft

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—Because Company M, Sixth regiment, was formed in Tecumseh and many Johnson county men volunteered, this county was required to furnish but sixteen men in the first call under the army draft.
Fifty men were called to Tecumseh for examination by the exemption board. Of the fifty called, all but four made claims for exemptions. In most cases it was because there were dependents. The following sixteen men were named by the board for service:

Reinsche, Sterling; Charles Lewis Edwards, Crab Orchard; Bryan Jennings Siwey, Tecumseh; Elvin Henry Unverzagt, Sterling; Lowell E. ### Young Jefferson Lad Responds Eagerly to Draft

Fairbury, Neb., Aug. 18.—(Special.) The acceptance of Clyde Scott, a Jefferson county boy in the aviation corps at Denver, calls out a bit of remarkable personal history. He is now 22 years old. He drifted to Fairbury from South Omaha when 14 years old and looked up his uncle, C. O. Marthis, now county clerk and chairman of the local exemption board, with whom he lived and attended school for a time. Since then he worked for several farmers in this vicinity, saving sufficient money to begin farming on his own account.

When the draft list was published his number was 665, far down the line. He did not wait for his turn for service, but sold his personal effects, paid his debts, bought $1,000 worth of Liberty bonds, placed the balance, $400 to his credit in a local bank and promptly answered his country's call.

Dodge County's First Call For Men to Fill Quota

Fremont, Neb., Aug. 18.—(Special Telegram.)—Of the 305 men examined for the new draft, 133 claim exemption, 128 made no claims, forty-eight were rejected for physical disabilities, and eight were given transfers. Most of the claims for exemption were based on the claimants having wives or children. Some industrial claims were made.

Dodge county's quota for the first army is 175, so that forty-seven of the claims for exemption must be disallowed. The board members are of the opinion that the quota will be filled without having to make a second call.

What to Use and Avoid On Faces that Perspire

Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must perspire—must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's waste material. Certain creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing, especially during the heated season. If more women understood this there would be fewer self-ruined complexions. If they would use ordinary mercurized wax they would have healthy complexions. This remarkable substance actually absorbs a bad skin; also unclogging the pores. Result: The fresher, younger under-skin is permitted to breathe and to show itself. The exquisite new complexion gradually peeps out, one free from any appearance of artificiality. Obtain an ounce of mercurized wax from your druggist and try it. Apply nightly like cold cream for a week or two, washing it off mornings.
To remove wrinkles, here's a marvellously effective treatment, which also acts naturally and harmlessly: Dissolve an ounce of powdered asaxite in a half pint witch hazel and use as a wash lotion.—Adv.

HUGE PROFITS GO TO MINE OPERATORS

George Coupland Telegraphs Council of Defense Wrath of Country Rising Against Them.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—Vice Chairman Coupland of the State Council of Defense, who is in Chicago attending the conference of coal men, telegraphed Chairman Joyce that deliberations thus far have revealed beyond question that operators are asking "righteous and exorbitant" prices at the mines.
Mr. Coupland says the sentiment of the delegates seems unanimous in favor of production and distribution prices. He says there is such anxiety as to a probable shortage of needed supplies in the non coal producing states like Nebraska, when winter comes.
The president and federal authorities have asked for quick action to help solve the coal problem and the wrath of all is especially directed against the mine operators although retailers are strongly condemned.

Violators of Reed Law Draw Six Months' Sentence

Violation of the Reed amendment, the new federal law which prohibits bringing liquor into a "dry" state in any way or for any use, is a serious offense, as George Trybunowski and Steve Gadohnowski found this morning before Federal Judge Woodrough.
They pleaded guilty under the impression that they would get off with a fine. Instead they heard a sentence of six months in the county jail for each of them. Their attorneys then "got busy" and had them withdraw their plea of guilty, which the judge allowed them to do because of a certain stipulation before they pleaded guilty. They will stand trial before a federal jury.
The liquor, which they brought here from St. Joseph, was contained in square gallon cans carried in a suit case. They live on the South Side.
Clifford McCormick, a young railroad messenger, who brought liquor here from St. Paul, Minn., pleaded guilty, and Judge Woodrough suspended sentence until next Saturday.

Oats lost 2 to 2½ cents and sold at 53½@54½ cents a bushel. Receipts were forty-nine carloads.

Manual Labor Not Conducive To Soft Hands, Says Judge

Hudson Prices Too Must Advance

Some Cars Already Increased Bring $1200 and $1400 Cars Up to Hudson Prices. Money Can Be Saved By Promptness

Fifty-one makers have already increased their prices since January 1st.

Former $1200 and $1400 cars now cost $300 to $400 more than they did one month ago. Some cars advanced January 1st, which again increased in price August 1st.

In the higher priced classes increases since December amount to $350 to $700.

Many makers have made two advances within the past eight months. Others give warning of further advances.

The Hudson Super-Sixes sell at the same price that they have sold at since last December.

Increasing cost of materials is responsible for higher prices in automobiles. It is affecting all makers. Soon Hudsons, too, must cost more. Today Hudsons are sold at the same price at which they have sold for several months because they are built from materials contracted for last fall. Then material prices were lower. Increases have been rapid since then.

Steel, the most largely used material in an automobile, is made from iron and its price is affected by iron prices. Last December iron sold at $30 a ton, its average price for 25 years prior to the war was $16 a ton. Today it is $54 a ton.

Hudson Was the Choice When Others Cost Less

When cars in the lower priced grades sold at $200 to $300 less than a Hudson Super-Six, Hudson sales were greater than any other two makes of that class. Today with no difference in price, Hudsons must continue to be even more popular.

Hudson leadership is understood by all motorists. It is explained in the Hudson Super-Six motor. No other car has a motor similar to the Super-Six. No other car for that reason has equaled the performance of the Super-Six.

Its record in the hands of almost 40,000 owners shows what individuals can do even when they are not seeking to establish records for speed and endurance.

No car of any make or size has equaled the time-record of the Hudson Super-Six Special in the world's greatest hill-climb to the summit of Pike's Peak.
