Mountain Resorts Lure Omahans.

Colorado Springs and Manitou and neighboring mountain resorts have always proved alluring to the summer sojourner, but this season it is especially true. A motoring trip through Estes Park is the favorite suggestion for an overland tour.

A future debutante, who has just returned from a vacation spent in the west, remarked:

"I never felt as if I were far away from Omaha, I kept meeting so many Omahans every day I was gone."

On a recent trip to the top of Pike's Peak by the famous cog railroad, there were the following Omahans: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Oppen, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Elsbauer, Mr. and Mrs. George Stein and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jernan and the Misses Mary and Mamie Jernan. The party which made the trip to the Cave of the Winds in Manitou were Miss Pearl Eisele, Mrs. E. A. Grotmak, F. W. Grotmak and W. A. Hall. A Crystal Park excursion also included a large number of Omahans.

Mrs. M. D. Taker is at the Paxton hotel in Manitou. Mrs. J. H. Seiter and daughter are at the Red Cross.

The list of Omahans sojourning in the neighborhood is a long one. The Misses Maude and Ethel Broeker, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wallace, E. R. Misner, Miss Rivera, C. Husted, Mrs. J. R. John and Miss Louise John, C. L. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Childs, C. F. Dwork, Miss E. M. Parsons, Mrs. J. F. Sullivan, Miss Isabel Graham, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Anderson, Mrs. John Doak, Miss Marion Fay, W. Cowham, Mrs. S. Neveleff, Paul, C. Geissler and C. W. Townsend are among those enjoying the mountain grandeur.

Dancing Party for Visitors.

Miss Catherine Hastings will entertain fourteen young people at a dancing party at the Blackstone this evening, honoring Miss Florence Robertson of Petersburg, Va., the guest of Miss Jayne Clark, and her own house, guests, Miss Zila Darner of Des Moines and Mr. Robert Welch of Oakland, Cal.

The young people spent a busy day, the afternoon including both a movie party and swimming at the Metropolitan pool.

Social Gossip.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Harper and daughter, Lydia, of Los Angeles, Cal., are visiting Mr. Harper's two brothers, Charles H. and Hugh H., and his sister, Miss Lillie Harper.

Dr. F. J. Wearne and Mr. George Forgan have returned from a month's fishing trip at the Minnesota lakes and Canada.

Miss Zila Darner, the guest of Miss Catherine Hastings, leaves Tuesday morning for her home in Des Moines, making the trip by motor. Mr. Robert Welch of Oakland, Cal., another guest at the Hastings home, continues on his way east Wednesday.

Miss Meliora Davis postponed her return from Milwaukee and will not arrive home until Tuesday.

Miss Lulu Dixon of Washington, D. C., who is visiting Mrs. W. H. Wheeler, plans to go down to Nebraska City, her old home, for a few days toward the week-end. On her return she will spend another week with Mrs. Wheeler.

Boxes for Races at Benson.

Box holders for the Omaha race meet, in connection with the Douglas county fair at Benson, opening Tuesday, include George Brandeis, John D. Creighton, Thomas C. Byrne, Gould Dietz, Dr. C. C. Allison, Everett Buckingham, J. A. Albers and George Mickel and A. H. Frye, all of Omaha, and A. L. Thomas, Benson. E. D. Gould of Kearney, Neb., telegraphed for a box.

Proceeds from Poster Sale.

One hundred dollars is netted by the sale of war posters in Brackets and Burgess-Nash stores last week by prominent Omaha women. Of this sum the local comfort kits committee of the Red Cross society will share one-third and the Belgian refugees' knitting fund the balance.

Wedding Announced.

The marriage of Miss Aurel M. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, and Mr. Paul H. Johnson took place Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the residence of Rev. E. L. Reese, pastor of Hartford Memorial church. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony.

The young couple have gone on a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home to friends in this city.

Tukey Family Reunion.

All the Tukey girls came over to spend the week-end at the A. P. Tukey residence prior to the departure of Lieutenant Allan Tukey, who received his commission at Fort Snelling. Mrs. Harry Byram from Evansville, Ill.; Mrs. Edwin Morrison from Kansas City, and Mrs. Louis Kormeyer from Lincoln. The Harry Tukeys came home last week from Hillman's ranch, Big Horn, Wyo., where they spent the last month.

Motor to Glenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fonda, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoagland, Mrs. J. M. Hamilton and Miss Irene Hamilton of Oklahoma City, Okl.; Miss Gertrude Young and Mr. Conrad Young made up a motoring party which started at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Glenwood, Ia., where they will have dinner this evening and make the return trip.

Mrs. Hoagland has asked the visitors and their hosts, Miss Young, for an informal knitting party at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Dear Old Ladies Are

Knitting for the Soldiers

Dear old ladies at the Old People's home on Fontenelle boulevard have caught the knitting fever. Mrs. Robert Goodman, 75 years young, was the first to catch it and now at least twelve of the old ladies are busily plying their needles, knitting sweaters and wristlets and helmets for the soldiers and sailors.

"We're not too old. We want to do our bit," they say.

There's only one thing that can call a halt to their needles. This is a shortage of yarn. A woman member of the Good Shepherd church has supplied Mrs. Goodman with yarn with which to work. Mrs. Isaac Douglas of the Old People's home board is trying to interest other church women to furnish more yarn.

For the initial payment of $1 for three hanks of yarn at the National Service league, all subsequent yarn used for knitting for soldiers will be furnished free.

PRETTY SCHOOL GIRL HAS VISITOR.

MISS JAYNE CLARK.

Miss Jayne Clark and her house guest, Miss Florence Robertson, of Petersburg, Va., are the center of a great deal of gaiety in the younger set. The two girls are classmates in the National School of Domestic Arts at Washington, D. C., which they enter in October.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND IS NOW AVAILABLE

Women's Clubs Will Assist Students in Nebraska Colleges to Work Way Through School.

Mrs. F. H. Cofe, chairman of the scholarship trustees for the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs, announces there is several hundred dollars in the scholarship fund available for loans to students wishing to continue their education.

In addition to the loan fund there are the following opportunities available:

1. Kearney Normal School—Through the efforts and money provided by the XIX Century club of Kearney, a girl who is willing to assist in serving in the dining room may receive room and board and tuition for one year at the Kearney Normal school. Applicants for this should refer all questions to Mrs. Ella Besse of Normal school, Kearney, Neb. It is stipulated by the XIX Century club that no resident of Kearney may receive the appointment.
2. Brownell Hall—The bishop and board of trustees offer a scholarship of board and tuition for the junior and senior years to a student upon the payment of $200 for each year. The trustees pay the additional expense necessary. Applicants should be under 17 years of age.
3. Van Sant School of Business—Offers two scholarships of free tuition—one to a student from Nebraska and one to a student from Iowa. For this scholarship, applicants must present records of twelfth grade (or 11th) grade high school with credits indicating work well done. This scholarship prepares students for commercial school teaching. For information address Miss Gene C. Duffy, Omaha National Bank building, Omaha, Neb.
4. Annie Heavin Girl Musical Scholarship—$100 that the original amount—available for use of a student desiring to pursue a course of study for the purpose of professional work and not merely as an accomplishment.

Carrie Chapman Catt Writes on State Suffrage

Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Woman Suffrage association, takes a hand in the Nebraska Suffrage situation in a letter to The Bee, headed "Accusation and Evidence."

"Nebraska anti-suffragists are seeking newspaper space in which to invite the condemnation of the men of Nebraska because suffragists are showing up the connection of liquor interests with anti-suffrage propaganda and activities. But if the connection be there, condemnation cannot attach to showing it up," Miss Catt writes.

Mrs. Catt reviews alleged illegitimate methods of defeating suffrage practiced in North Dakota in 1915, for which she offers evidence sworn to before a notary public by prominent women of Bismarck; and another instance in Ohio, where nine-tenths of the petitions filed against the presidential suffrage bill were circulated by saloon men, she says.

Dr. Litty Commissioned In Dental Reserve Corps

Dr. Fred L. Litty, formerly of Omaha, but now living in Kansas City, has been commissioned a first lieutenant in the dental reserve corps. He saw service with the First Nebraska volunteer infantry in the Spanish-American war and with the New York signal corps during the Philippine insurrection.

Thompson-Belden Buyers Are in New York City

The following buyers of the Thompson-Belden company are now in the east: Robert Nicoll of the ready-to-wear, W. H. P. Horne of the linens, George Hazen, silks and work; Miss Isabelle Rhodes of the women's furnishings; Mrs. Alice Stork, art needlework; and Arthur Cullen of the men's section.

Miss Shamahan, Miss Carlson and Miss Bragg of the millinery department have just returned from New York.

SOLDIERS SEEK TO SAVE DRUMMER BOY

Members of Fighting Fourth Wire Harry Keaton to Retain Counsel Before Court-Martial.

The members of the Fourth regiment band at Fort Crook have wired to Harry Keaton, the drummer boy taken to Fort Leavenworth under charge of desertion, advising him to retain Major R. G. Douglas of the Fourth Nebraska as counsel. Keaton will be tried by court-martial.

Major Douglas, formerly editor of the Osceola Record, has made a special study of military law and is considered an authority on the subject. He had charge of the summary court on the border and is now judge advocate.

Keaton's friends here are anxious about him. His case has not come up for trial yet. They feel that Major Douglas can help him in any case.

Saturday being pay day for the machine gun company of the Fifth here, there was a great exodus of soldiers from the Armory to pass Sunday at home. Members come from all parts of the state and some of them spent most of the time on the train.

But they had a last look at the home town, and it was worth while. They reported Monday morning to Captain Gardner, Sunday Captain Gardner got long distance calls from the commercial clubs of Exeter, Brock and University Place.

"We are giving a little blowout for the boys—can they stay over?" ran the messages. Of course they could, and Captain Gardner knows they will turn up all the letter in a day or two for the pleasant holiday.

The latest addition to the "Mascot corps" at Fort Crook is a young coyote. This was presented by Mrs. C. Anderson of 612 Hickory street, to E. L. Wait of the machine gun company of the Fourth.

"Jack" is only six weeks old and has been kept at the Anderson home as a playmate for the children. But already "Jack" shows signs of his wild ancestry and Mrs. Anderson was beginning to be afraid to have him with the children.

"The ... squad" of the Fighting Fourth aren't afraid of anything, suggested Wait. So the transfer was made and now the late-lamented Sergeant Mike, former mascot of the company, has been superseded.

Minneapolis Troops Here Enroute to Deming Camp

A special train over the Northwestern arriving from Minneapolis Monday morning bringing 300 of the Minnesota National Guard enroute to Deming, N. M. After spending a couple of hours in the city the boys left for the south over the Missouri Pacific.

Advice to Lovelorn By Beatrice Fairfax

A Soldier's Wife. Dear Miss Fairfax: I am 22 and have been going about with a young man one year my senior for two years. One year and a half ago he joined a regiment, much against my will and ever since then we have had little quarrels. His regiment has been away since April, which caused me nervousness, during which time I wrote him a mean letter and he answered me, telling me that he would only consider me as a friend, where he has before offered to marry me. I have abrogated. As I love him, do you think I can again regain his love? A. Z.

A soldier's wife has to be made of braver stuff than you show. I can recognize that you might not have wanted your sweetheart to join a regiment, but none of us has the right to interfere with the individuality of the person we love. After all he could hardly insist that his regiment come back because a certain young woman was nervous. You ought to have been better natured about the whole thing. The only way to regain his love is to prove that you aren't to be a nagging wife of the trite type, nor one who wants everything her own way and who can only be agreeable when her desires are being satisfied. Good nature, sweetness, patience and a little loyalty, with patriotism thrown in, are what you need.

Conversation. Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a young girl, and find it difficult to keep up a conversation with any of my boy friends. Other girls, I have noticed, keep them amused and laughing. I do not know what to say. What should one do when at a loss for words? What should you say on being introduced to an older person? B. E.

When you are introduced simply hold out your hand cordially and repeat the name of the person you are meeting. Say how do you do, or that since you have heard so much about him or her, you are glad to meet at last. Don't try to force a conversation or do it all yourself. The best talkers are often only good listeners. The thing in which the other person is interested is the one about which he or she will enjoy most talking. Don't think about yourself, but try to make a guess at what the other person is thinking about or what appeals to him. If you can temporarily put yourself in the background and feel that the person is self-conscious and ill at ease and that it is your particular job to make him or her comfortable, you will find your whole attitude altered. Read newspapers and magazines, the topics of the day. What do you know about the war? About the Russian situation? The campaign under the crown prince? Are you posted about our own political affairs? Do you know anything about base ball in the big leagues or anything under the sun outside of your own personal sphere? You can't talk unless you have something to talk about.

Why not, I'd like to know! If the influence of that philosophy had governed Christopher Columbus' life he wouldn't have dared try for the new passage to India. Palissy the Potter would have given up his search for a glaze. Galileo would not have theorized about the solar system. And, if being the last to lay the old aside were really very dreadful, we might kill off our horses because we have

Do You Lead or Follow?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX. "I'm bored to death! But everybody's reading this book, and I feel as if I really ought to," yawned Cynthia. "Is it instructive?" "Not a bit." "Well written?" "Not particularly. It's just a novel; but everybody says it's terribly thrilling, and all the people I know are talking about it, so I thought I'd better read it; but I'll be mighty glad when I come to 'Finis.'"

"I don't see much in golf," remarked Seward, grimly. "All the boys at my club are taking it up, though, so I'm cutting out tennis and riding, and I'm chasing the little white pill around the green, but I don't see any sport to it and I'll be darned glad when some of the bunch go back to the courts again."

"I wonder how much good the exercise is doing you?" asked Cynthia scornfully. "How can a man play a game he doesn't like?"

"How can a girl read a book she doesn't enjoy—unless, of course, it's Green's History of the English People or Nietzsche?" I asked.

First Cynthia gasped, then she picked up the offending book to throw at me and then she joined in Seward's laughter.

There are a pair of them for you—a pair of the idiots who are doing things they do not enjoy, and doing them for no other reason under the shining sun than that silly syncopated one, "everybody's doing it."

When you are floating along with the tide you are part of the movement. If you get far ahead you stand out admirably because of the qualities of your seamanship. If you fall far behind, you show up—less admirably—because of your weakness. But the man who really amounts to something has a tendency to lead even though it be in the wrong direction.

Going counter to popular opinion isn't a popular pursuit. Most of us are under the thrall of the mob's unfortunately immortal lines: Be not the first by whom the new is tried, Nor yet the last to lay the old aside.

Why not, I'd like to know! If the influence of that philosophy had governed Christopher Columbus' life he wouldn't have dared try for the new passage to India. Palissy the Potter would have given up his search for a glaze. Galileo would not have theorized about the solar system. And, if being the last to lay the old aside were really very dreadful, we might kill off our horses because we have

What Women Are Doing

Girl bootblacks are numerous in Boston. Nearly 125,000 women in New York City are employed as servants. Women in New Zealand have enjoyed the right of suffrage since 1893. Eighty British women physicians and surgeons are employed in the military hospitals at Malta.

Mrs. Henry A. Pridmore of Chicago is the only woman who owns and operates an iron foundry in the United States.

Aberdeen, Wash., boasts of three girl rifle shots who are able to hit the bull's-eye fifty times in fifty shots at a seventy-two-foot range.

Hammond, Ind., is to have a $50,000 home for working girls, due to the philanthropy of Frank F. Betz, a wealthy manufacturer.

Mrs. John Patterson of Aurora, Ill., has taken her husband's job as a grocery store clerk in order that he may join the colors.

Mrs. Samuel Haight, a former prominent club woman of Minnesota, is the first woman to hold a seat in the provincial legislature of Saskatchewan.

Mrs. T. T. Gammage of Palestine, Tex., spun, wove and knit for the soldiers during the civil war, and is now "doing her bit" for the soldiers of today.

The only woman ever awarded the Medal of Honor is Dr. Mary E. Walker, the civil war physician and nurse, who received this honor for "services during the war."

In response to the call for national service a young girl of Manatee county, Florida, this year produced 5,700 pounds of tomatoes on a tenth of an acre patch.

Thousands of southern women who, before the war, displayed little interest in practical household and farm work in other than to direct their servants, have become practical and successful farmers as a result of work by agents of the home economics bureau of the state relations service of the national Department of Agriculture.
