

FRENCH MISSION WILL VISIT OMAHA

Commercial Club Will Entertain Commissioners Enroute to California to Lafayette Birthday Exercises.

The French high commission will visit Omaha.

George Creel of Washington, chairman of the committee on public information, has telegraphed the Commercial club that the commission will visit Omaha arriving at 7:30 on the morning of September 1. They will arrive on the Overland Limited and remain until the following morning.

The commission will be headed by Deputy High Commissioner Edouard Debilly. He will be accompanied by three army officers lately from the French front. The commission will visit Omaha on its way to San Francisco, where on September 6, Lafayette's birthday, it will dedicate the Lafayette room at the University of California. M. Debilly lived for two years in the United States several years ago, speaks English fluently and is an eloquent orator.

He is a graduate of the Ecole Polytechnique and of the Ecole of Mines. He was a member of the council of administration of various maritime and mining companies and vice president of the Paris Underground railroad. When the war broke out he was a reserve officer and was assigned by the French government with the rank of captain to the English army in Belgium. He was nominated respectively major and lieutenant colonel and the French government appointed him afterwards to the office of director of "Travaux Publics" in Morocco. M. Debilly was then charged with a special mission by the French government to London, where he organized the inter-allied bureau of munitions. Since May 25 he has been deputy high commissioner of France in the United States, and in conjunction with M. Andre Tardieu has direction of the French missions which have their headquarters in this country, military, naval, financial, and those charged with purchases of munitions and food supplies.

The telegram from Creel comes in response to the invitation sent the commission through Creel, by Mayor Dahlman and the Commercial club. The club will entertain the commission at a public affairs luncheon on September 1.

Omaha Men Gain Their Promotions in the Army

The latest list of promotions in the army as nominated by President Wilson includes two Omaha men.

Captain William G. Doane, son of the late Judge Doane, has been promoted to be a major of infantry.

Captain William B. Cowin, son of General John C. Cowin, has been promoted to be a major of infantry.

Colonel F. G. Stritzinger, formerly a commandant of the high school cadet regiment, while stationed at Fort Omaha and ranking as a major, has been assigned to a command in the new national army. Colonel Stritzinger was in command of troops here at the time of the tornado.

Light Frosts Reported in Wyoming and Montana

Thursday there were numerous places in Nebraska where there were light to heavy showers, according to the morning reports to the railroads. The weather cleared during the night and temperatures dropped to 45 to 60 degrees above zero.

Light frosts were reported in Wyoming and Montana, but Nebraska escaped. Out in the state, say the railroad reports, there is a decided rise in temperature.

Not a Car of Grain is Sold on Omaha Market

With sixteen cars of wheat, thirty-three of corn and forty-one of oats on the market, there was no sale for any of it. There were some bids and generally they indicated higher prices, but no one seemed to want the actual grain.

Uniforms for Machine Gun Corps Arrive; Means Men to Move Soon

Captain Gardner of the Fifth machine gun company at the armory, has received word from Captain H. C. Stein, supply officer of the Fifth, that uniforms are now ready for the company at Lincoln.

This means that the Fifth will leave soon. General Harries has always opposed the sending of troops away until they were uniformed.

The fact that the uniforms were sent to Lincoln instead of directly to the machine gun company in Omaha probably means that enough for the whole Fifth regiment were sent there in one lot," said Captain Gardner. "I should judge, from this, that the entire Fifth regiment will move together."

One report has it that twenty-four civilians have been hired to guard Fort Crook. These civilians are ex-army men and understand the importance of their new duties. They will each be paid $75 a month while at the fort and will be divided into shifts, one shift always to be on guard to protect the grounds and buildings.

In a few days Fort Crook will be practically an abandoned post. By the first of the week all the companies of the Fourth Nebraska that have filled the barracks since war was declared will have left for Deming.

Before the coming of these guardsmen a few regular army men were at the post to guard it and assist the quartermaster in his duties. But rumor says these "regulars" will also leave.

Movie Producer Makes Short Visit to Omaha

Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Film Manufacturing company, was a visitor in the city for about an hour yesterday between trains. He is on his way from New York to Universal City, Cal., where he will personally see to some new announcements for fall. He was met at the depot by local manager F. A. Van Husan, assistant manager J. Mitchell of the Laemmle exchange, and Manager C. H. Calvert of the Bluebird photo-plays.

Mr. Laemmle says that motion picture conditions were never better than at the present time, and the war is not stopping them at least from putting the money into and producing photoplays, the equal of which has never before been attained.

Reports show that this company has expended in studio improvements since the first of the year $20,000 at their Hollywood studios and $40,000 at Universal City. So far on his trip, Mr. Laemmle has made a number of visits and reports that business is great all along the line.

Denies McCarthy Was Bonnie Walters' Husband

Mrs. W. J. Carey, 508 Poppleton avenue, mother of Louis McCarthy, 27 years old, killed last Friday in the house at 815 South Seventh street, denies that Bonnie Walters was her son's common law wife. She said her son frequented the home of the Walters woman, but did not represent to any person, so far as she knows, that the relation of husband and wife existed. Mrs. Carey asserts that her son, Louis McCarthy, lived at her home, 508 Poppleton avenue, and contributed to the support of the family.

Muny Judge Sits in Police Court for the First Time

For the first time in the history of Omaha a municipal judge is acting in the capacity of police judge. Judge George Holmes, municipal judge, is temporarily taking the place of Judge James M. Fitzgerald. A law was passed in the last session of the state legislature providing that in the absence of the regular police judge the municipal judge was to assume his duties.

Date is Set for the Elks Annual Clambake

The annual clam bake of the Omaha Elks will be held Friday, September 14, at Krug park. Clams, Rhode Island style, and roasting ears of corn, Pennsylvania style, will form the backbone of the feast.

shake the dust of Fort Crook from their boots immediately after the departure of the Fighting Fourth. It is said they will be sent to Fort Des Moines for service in the quartermaster's corps there.

Members of Company D of the Fourth Nebraska to the number of over 100 were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dinnuzzo Thursday night at their store at Twenty-fourth and Poppleton avenue. The soldiers were served with refreshments, the band was there and the young women of the neighborhood turned out to dance with the soldier boys. A splendid time was reported by all and the soldiers gave three rousing cheers for their hosts.

The regimental band of the Sixth Nebraska arrived at noon and marched from the Burlington station to the Auditorium. The band will remain in Omaha, attached to the Omaha battalion, till the departure for Deming.

Since the drafting in of the Sixth band, has been in Lincoln at the headquarters of the regiment. But at Lincoln the band of the "Dandy Sixth" was a stranger in a strange land. Most of its members are from Omaha, including its director, Robert Webb, and assistant director, Jess Ratchford, well-known Omaha attorneys. The band of the Fifth Nebraska has been at Lincoln for a long time.

MEDICAL EXAMS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Inspection of All Public School Students to Be Made Before the Fall Term Starts.

Dr. E. T. Manning and Charlotte Townsend, in charge of the public school medical inspection work, are busy getting their machinery in readiness for the inspection which will be held at the schools next week in advance of the opening of schools.

The school nurses are stamping 35,000 cards which will be issued to boys and girls who are examined. These cards will be required for admittance to school on or after September 4.

Dr. Manning will begin next Tuesday to observe office hours from 4 to 5 each day at school headquarters on the fifth floor of the city hall.

There are eighteen nurses now on the public school medical inspection staff.

Comfort Kits Are Given to Fort Crook Soldiers

Fort Crook men Thursday received 350 comfort kits made by Woman's Christian Temperance Union women over the state. Mrs. M. M. Claffia of Lincoln, state president, came down to Omaha to make the presentation.

Mrs. Flora Hoffman, state superintendent for soldiers and sailors work, and Mrs. William Berry, president of the South Side union, filled their cars with the comfort kits and drove out to the fort.

The women had expected Colonel Baehr to make a formal presentation but when the men saw the comfort kits they made a grand rush for the needy articles and they were given out by Miss Doris Berry.

There were not nearly enough kits to go around so the women took names and addresses of other soldier boys to whom they will send the next supply of kits.

OMAHA DRUG MARKET

Saturday, August 25th, 1917

At The 5 Sherman & McConnell Drug Stores

Notwithstanding the general market stringency, we have been most fortunate during the entire year in receiving prompt and full shipments of goods from both manufacturers and importers. We purchase goods from about 1,000 firms with locations from Portland, Me., to Portland, Ore.; from St. Albans, Vt., to Atlanta, Ga. and Waco, Tex., and nearly every principal city located between these points. Five busy drug stores fully warrant "Round Quantity" Purchases, and in thus obtaining our supplies we are in a position to furnish goods that are fresh and genuine, and, of course, obtain the very best prices—and these are some more of the reasons why you can "save time and money by trading at the 5 good Rexall Stores."

You can cut the high cost of living by getting the habit of trading at one of our stores. Saturday is always a special day with us. Don't wait for an invitation—come anyway.
