A NEW club, just two months old, the Belvidere Woman's club, is already setting a pace that older clubs will have a hard time to follow. Five departments of work are now being pursued by the band of forty women, headed by Mrs. Rudolph H. Fries, which meets every Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the club room at Belvidere school.

Red Cross work is the feature of the club. Mrs. Clara Simonds is chairman for this work, in behalf of which a large ice cream social was held recently which netted $50. The women purchased a sewing machine with the proceeds and are now hoping the school board will install another machine in the building. Mrs. William Z. Neiman is censor for the Red Cross work and has given much time and patience to it.

Household economics and food conservation, following out Herbert Hoover's plans, is the work of another section in charge of Mrs. S. Byerly. Mrs. Mary Collinson has the study section, which takes up Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, James Whitcomb Riley and current events.

Mrs. Will Gillespie is in charge of the home beautifying and fancy work division. Mrs. Fries has given up her fancy work for the period of the war and is spending the time knitting. Many of the women in the club are following her example. Neighborhood relief work, the fifth department, is in charge of Mrs. J. H. Lambertson.

Belvidere is a suburb just west of Fort Omaha and north of Ames avenue, on the new Belvidere boulevard, now under construction. Mrs. Fries organized the club during the month of June.

A class of twenty women is forming to take a course in motor mechanics under the motor service division of the Women's Service league. Mrs. Earl Stanfield, who has been temporary chairman of that division in the absence of Mrs. Louis Clarke, is getting up the class, which will already enrolled Mrs. William Archibald Smith, Mrs. Harvey Newbranch, Mrs. Guy Fox, Mrs. Anna Martin, Mrs. Lydia Walker, Mrs. Robert Cowell, Mrs. Maud Higgins, Miss Dorothy Dahlman, Miss Katherine McKenzie of Bellevue, Miss Gladys Rohrbough and Miss Margretha Grimmel. Nine more women have the matter under consideration and other classes will be formed. The course of study comes from the national headquarters in New York, and Mr. Moehle of the automobile school will be the instructor, the lessons to be given at the school. This new class begins the first week in September, with three lessons a week for four, possibly five weeks.

Rev. Charles H. Fleming of the Church of the Covenant will conduct services at the Old People's home on Fontenelle boulevard, Sunday at 3:30 o'clock.

HEADS BELVIDERE WOMEN IN RED CROSS WORK.

every year of her age and those who refuse to come in children's costumes will be taxed double.

The Women's auxiliary to Omaha lodge of B'nai B'rith will hold its first meeting since the beginning of summer Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Miss Cooper's studio of the Lyric building.

George Crook post and Woman's Relief corps will give a picnic at Miller park Friday at 2 o'clock. The guests will bring their lunch baskets and spend the rest of the day at the park.

Chapter M. of P. E. O. sisterhood, the South Side chapter, will meet Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hester Cooper, 3628 South Twenty-fourth street, to plan next year's work.

Mrs. Ezra Millard's war relief circle, which has been meeting on Monday mornings at the Baird building, will meet from this time on Monday afternoon in the basement of the Dundee school. The same circle will meet in the same place Friday afternoon under the leadership of Miss Clara Thomas.

DAUGHTERS GIVE BATTLE GUIDON

Omaha Ambulance Company No. 35 Will Be Presented With Beautiful Silk Banner by D. A. R.

Major Isaac Sadler chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, after the luncheon given Friday at the Hotel Fontenelle, in honor of Miss Ruth Ganson, treasurer, whose marriage is an event of the near future, decided to purchase a parade and battle guidon for Company No. 35 of the Omaha Ambulance company. The piece will be a silk banner with dark maroon background, three and one-half feet long by two and one-half feet wide, slashed into two sharp points at the bottom. In the center of the guidon will be embroidered in white the caduca which appears on the collar of the uniform worn by the members of the ambulance company. The guidon will be mounted on a flag staff seven feet long on which the name of the Major Isaac Sadler chapter will be engraved on a metal plate. This handsome standard replaces the service guidon, furnished by the government, in battle and on parade. It will be ready for presentation in ten days. If the standard goes abroad and comes back intact it will become the property of the Major Isaac Sadler chapter.

Palo Alto to Lose Guard Camp to Charlotte, N. C.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The War department will not modify its decision to transfer the Forty-first division, National Guard, troops from Palo Alto, Cal., to Charlotte, N. C. Representative Kahn of California sent a telegram to Mayor James Ralph of San Francisco today to that effect after a conference with Major General Scott, chief of staff, and other army officials.

strong-minded sisters may say that the old days of woman's submission to man are gone forever, but if we don't submit to them any longer (and did we ever submit to anything we did not like?), at least we still want to please them by looking graceful and dressed up. The general ensemble of dress models shown in our local shops breathes beauty and suppleness; never have the coats been so rich, handsome and all-enveloping—and as far as the hats are concerned, it's going to be a season strictly according to the heart's desire, so mere man who was not pleased with the gay styles of summer is bound to capitulate when he sees lovely woman in her fall attire. Don't be timid about writing to The Bee's Shopping Service to help you select your fall or winter outfit. I only ask that you be explicit in your directions. Give size, color and preference as to style and fabrics. Address your letter to Polly The Shopper, Omaha Bee. Remember, there's no charge for the service.

SO FAR this season most of our conversation about fall suits concerned the plain tailored style; now we'll take the opposite direction toward more dressy models. I saw two interesting variations among these suits at F. W. Thorne's Uptown Shop for Women, 1812 Farnam. One which quickly won my friendship was of a splendid quality of beet-root burella cloth—the stylish long jacket elegantly lined with self-tone satin had a becoming cape collar of black velvet, which could be adjusted high or low, according to the dictates of the weather; rows of perfectly toned buttons were advantageously used for trimming. Of course, I know that Mr. Thorne marks his merchandise at remarkably low figures, but it was a delightful surprise to learn that this suit, which I presumed was at least $50, was only $34.75. There's a beautiful suit of Pekin blue silver-tone cloth which 'twould also be a joy to possess. Ask to see these two dressy models.

Linnings for winter coats are more bewitching than ever.

HARK ye to this: In order to secure names for their Fall mailing list, Napier's Bootie Securities Building, offers to out-of-town customers an allowance of one-half of the purchase price of a pair of Fall shoes for 100 names of women in their community who might be possible buyers. My! isn't that a generous offer? Not more than one list accepted from any one town.

ONE of the events of the week, in which I am mighty interested and which I'm sure you are, too, if you've heard about it, is the splendid sale of furniture beginning tomorrow at Orchard & Wilhelm's. Not one piece but what is priced at less than factory cost, and some pieces are actually being offered at low as half price. I walked through the lower floor of the store, where the furniture is being displayed, and was simply astounded at the markings. Unquestionably it will be the greatest money-saving furniture event of the year. Nearly every period is represented—William and Mar., Jacobean and Colonial, down to the present time. You'll surely want to be there early to take advantage of this remarkable sale.

THE tailored suit is the favored garment worn this fall, for almost every woman is attending meetings for patriotic service or other business activities where dressy suits are out of place. Lohrman, Reliable Ladies' Tailor, 434-35 Paxton Block, certainly makes stunning suits! He is an artist in cutting, and this means everything to the lines of a garment. I'm sure you'll appreciate knowing that his prices are exceptionally reasonable.

WOMEN interested in new fall fashions will surely want to include Lamond's, 2d floor Rose Bldg., in their shopping list tomorrow. There are some fetching little silk frocks which I do so want you to see. One model which I'm particularly enthusiastic over is of burgundy and blue striped satin—the new feature of this dress is the pointed tunic skirt, which has a double skirt effect in the back of fluffy, pleated Georgette.

Let's Go Shopping with Polly

Autumn garments fresh and new Oh! such nifty chapeaux too Loads of things in plaid or check Loads of trimmings captivating You should let me help select Shoes of latest style elite Hose to cover dainty feet Handsome dresses, Fall coats neat Pretty baby togs so sweet Plenty of blouses most entrancing Everything to wear for dancing Read these columns and tell me—do! Just what I may buy for you.

"MY, WHAT a beauty!" I exclaimed as I viewed the handsome new skirts for Fall at Lamond's Smart Shop, 2d floor Rose Bldg., and espied one particularly clever model. It was made with big box plaits all the way round, and of the loveliest soft shade of elephant gray you ever saw. There was another of a deep plum shade with a crush satin belt and overdrape which extended in points, which immediately won my admiration. These skirts are of such lustrous quality that I actually gasped when I read the tickets and saw they were marked $17.50—why, they looked dollars more! Lamond's garments, though, have such snap and quality that they always appear more expensive.

There is a noticeable tendency to combine two materials in the newest tailored suits, plaid serges and velours being combined with materials of a solid color.

BEFORE returning to college or boarding school, don't forget that the much prized photographs of your girl and boy friends will not keep unless put under glass. There is a wonderful variety of frames in gold, antique, carved and natural woods at Hopsie's Art Store, 1513 Douglas Street—and, moreover, the prices are bound to interest you. There's also a fine lot of colored English landscapes—just the thing for your room at school, at 50 cents up.

PASSERSBY just love to stop and gaze at the many pretty gifts from the Orient displayed in the windows of The Nippon Importing Company's attractive Japanese Shop, 218 South 18th St. Gay Kimonos of silk and cotton crepe, handsomely embroidered—and oh, so reasonable in price!—and the cunningest embroidered satin Chinese slippers to go with them—lacquered boxes and trays, baskets and crepe de chine party and knitting bags (the prettiest ones you've ever seen) and—well! I just know you'll want to see for yourself, and Mr. Taso, the proprietor, with all the courtesy of his race, is always "just delighted" to show you through the shop.

SOME of you, I know, would like to make that Soldier Boy Brother (or perchance someone's else Soldier Boy Brother) a present which would remind him often of you when he is far away on the firing line in France. Nothing that I've seen would be more appreciated than one of those convenient Elgin wrist watches with luminous dial and hands, which are being shown at Arnold H. Edmonston's Jewelry Shop, 2d Floor Rose Building.

These watches, which are priced at $25, can be purchased on easy terms of $2.50 per month. Ask Mrs. Nieman in this shop to tell you more about their payment plan.

THE ALLA SHOP, 207 South 18th St., has a whole window full of interesting gifts for the brave soldier. Japanese Cigarette cases, beautifully lacquered in white metal, at $2.00. Khaki-covered writing cases, $1.25, and cases of khaki or leather to hold a loved one's picture for 60 cents and up.

Navy serge dresses have marched right into favor with Dame Fashion.

WHEN Lohrman, Ladies' Tailor, 434 Paxton Block, was in the East this summer he was very fortunate in securing some handsome costume models, produced by such famous designers as Beer, Bernard, Armand and Bulzoc. Before choosing your winter cloak it will be quite worth your while to look at these.

Velvet looms large in Fashion's horizon for dressy afternoon suits.

You need not journey far away for Fashion's "latest" of the day. For there are many, many things which the careful buyer brings—Ultra-modish—very new! Selected on Fifth Avenue. Now are hidden—that's the reason certain fashions of the season are seen by eyes of just a few; But you can see them—I can, too! Just inquire—'tis no secret sealed. These Fall "creations" will be revealed.

MISS ADAMS of The Tots' Shop of Benson & Thorne's is never so happy as when she finds something which will add to the prettiness of the petite maiden. In her recent search for new things on Fifth Avenue she discovered the most adorably dainty hats of white silk poplin—one in turban effect, slightly shirred on cords and trimmed with hand-made silk flowers, turns back to show the flower face of the child. Then there is a short back bonnet effect of snow white corduroy trimmed with tiny fur heads and ribbon, and a jaunty cap of wash corduroy (suitable, too, for Baby Brother), topped with a saucy white pom pom of fur—$1.95 to $4.75 will buy one of these.

WOMEN PREPARE FOR DEFENSE MEET

County Chairmen of Council of Defense Will Hold Meeting in Lincoln September 3 and 4.

Three Omaha women, Mrs. Z. T. Lindsey, Mrs. Draper Smith and Dr. Jennie Callias, attended the executive board meeting of the women's committee of the Council of Defense in Lincoln Friday, when plans for an important meeting of county women chairmen on September 4 were discussed.

Mrs. Ira Couch Wood of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense, will be in Lincoln September 3 to confer with the executive officers and meet the county chairmen the next day.

The proposed pension bill for the protection of soldiers was discussed, and also the enforcement of the federal child labor bill. The latter was referred to Mrs. Draper Smith, chairman of child welfare.

Work Done in Camps. Dr. Jennie Callias was authorized to ask Mr. Luke of the Young Men's Christian association for a report of the work done by the Young Men's Christian association among the soldiers in the camps. Dr. Callias will invite the three territorial chairmen of the Young Women's Christian association in Nebraska to serve on the committee for safeguarding moral and spiritual forces.

Plans for the registration of women of the state on September 12 were discussed in detail. The movies will be utilized to advertise the registration.

An information bureau in charge of Mrs. W. E. Barkley will be maintained at the state fair.

Bees Wants-Ads Produce Results.

BLACK satin-striped poplin is shown in some strikingly original skirts at F. W. Thorne's, 1812 Farnam. Besides these there are some recent arrivals in the new broad ribbon skirts, which are so pleasing in effect that they're bound to be popular models: the stripes, which are of lovely soft Autumn tones, run horizontally in some of the skirts, while in others the stripes are placed vertically at the front and center back, with the sides horizontal. Sometimes a semblance of the barrel effect is given by the drapery, or the pocket formation.

PANSIES!—deep purple ones, and only 25 cents a dozen, in a low flower bowl, make a beautiful and effective centerpiece when arranged by Lee Larmon, the Fontenelle Florist. Tel. Doug. 8244.

FOR women who look upon August as a propitious time to have their fall clothes made, the rich, colorful and exquisite shimmering silks and soft, lustrous satins shown at Thompson-Belden's cannot fail to be intensely interesting. I don't want you to miss seeing their wonderful display of Satin Duchesse, which comes in all those lovely quiet tones so much in demand for Fall. I know you'll go into ecstasies, just as I did, over this beautiful material—smoke and taupe, which have been heralded as Autumn's favorite colors—are shown, as well as Madonna blue, suede (an olive tone), belladonna (between a plum and wistaria), and burgundy. Waterfall silks, which come in diversified and original patterns of plaids and stripes in harmonious color combinations, such as bronze and blue, will be highly favored for dresses and separate skirts.

Three mahogany tones which are voguish in silks and woolen materials begin with a light reddish shade called redwood, and end with a dark brownish tone called chippendale.

PROSPECTS for an interesting tailored season were never brighter than at present. The college maid will find nothing so wearable, and at the same time so good-looking, as a handsomely tailored suit. At Benson & Thorne's I noted some delightfully youthful models in mannish tailors of English tweed, mixed velour and Oxford cloth with invisible stripes. A new feature shown is the two breast pockets, which give quite an air of militarism. Though the suitings in these smart tailors are of dignified hue, the linings are gay enough to please the most frivolous.

SPRING CHICKEN DINNERS! Doesn't the mention of them bring to you visions of delight? Well, if you've ever tried one at The Flair Cafe, you'll agree with me that you never tasted anything better in your life. If you'll phone in the morning the chef will prepare one SPECIALLY for you—just think of that! The business man's luncheon and the regular dinner, too, are so appetizing and daintily served.

INTERESTING news, indeed! Napier's new Fall Catalogue will be off the press the latter part of this week. It shows beautiful illustrations which are photographic reproductions of the smartest styles in exclusive women's footwear, with quite a comprehensive description of the different models. Send your name to them, as well as the name of your friends, and they'll be ever so glad to send you one for the asking. Address your communications to Napier's Bootie, Securities Bldg.

MISS COLE'S "Saucy Jane" house frocks have been so popular this summer that people are asking her now to make them of serge and other wool materials suitable for Fall wear. Her Bungalow aprons, priced at $1.25 up, which have won so many friends for her, continue in their popularity. Miss Cole also makes pretty undergarments to order. Her Lingerie Shop is 511 Bee Bldg., you know.

I've noted many a fashion new. Something chic in trimmings, too. Such a load of other novelties. Some severe and some frivolities. If you'd like to know about 'em, Let me know, I'll write about 'em.

There are marvelous new Kimono silks shown in our shops. One pattern displays a whole family of little Japs wandering in a forest of bamboo trees, in which birds are perched here and there, while another was dotted with queer-looking blue and pink mushrooms. Sounds funny, doesn't it? But really, these silks are wonderfully effective and interesting.

"NEVER forget that once and for a whole year you were a 10-year-old kid yourself." It is evident that Mr. Bruce McLean of the Boys' Shop of Benson & Thorne's has never forgotten that fact, for he chooses clothes that will always make the kids happy. He has BLOUSES for 65 cents which are guaranteed against rub, tub and sun—blouses which have not been cheapened by the high cost of material and labor, and are at the same time just as nifty-looking as the shirts Dad wears. By the way, this week is absolutely the last chance to buy at a saving one of those good-looking school suits with two pairs of pants for your boy—prices $4.00 to $13.50, which come in fancy mixtures suitable for Fall and Winter.

All shades of red will be good in millinery this new season.

ELUDING the submarine and, despite the uncertainties of ocean travel, come gifts rich and rare direct from far-distant China and Japan to the W. H. Eldridge Importing Company's new shop, just across from the W. O. W., at 1318 Farnam Street. If you haven't visited it yet, you've missed a treat—fitted up in old blue, with furniture of Japanese teakwood—it is a setting in unison with the elegance of the merchandise displayed. The showcases show wonderful things in bronze, brass, Satsuma, cloisonne and other exquisite wares, besides tea sets and fine China pieces. Mandarin coats, kimonos of silk and chandai and Chinese fillet are among the beautiful things featured in this unique shop.

What lovely new colors—purple, orchid and dahlia.

SOLDIERS cannot carry anything superfluous, but every one will be glad to have one of those splendidly equipped COMFORT PACKAGES which are offered by The Franco-American Toilet Requisites Company, 772 Brandeis Bldg., for they contain preparations which a young man needs every day—shaving stick, after-shaving powder, talcum, toothpaste, foot-powder and cream for sunburn and tan. Done up in unbreakable metal boxes which are moisture and dust-proof. For $1.75, I really can't imagine a more acceptable gift for the soldier brother or friend.

LOOKEE here! and don't forget to tell Father and the Boys that the kind of togs in which they're interested—all spick, span and new—have arrived at Lucien Stephen's Shop for Men, 1901 Farnam Street. There are shirts in a variety of new swaggar patterns and the best looking silk ties they've ever seen. Besides, there's a shipment of new overalls, mocha and kid. Better buy now while the stock is so crisply fresh.
