Have Most Printers—New Union Press Metal Co. Express Co. Jubilee Mfg. Co. Elec. Pneu. Co. —Burgess-Granden Platinum Wedding Rings—Edholm Try the holiday 35-cent luncheon at the Empress Garden, amidst pleasant surroundings, music and entertainment—Admission free.

Seeks Andrew McPherson—J. L. McPherson of Globe, Ariz., writes to find the address of Andrew McPherson.

To Address Retail Merchants—President E. H. Ward and Manager E. E. Closson of the Credit Men's association will deliver addresses tonight before the Retail Merchants' association.

Money for Comfort Kits—The Commercial club has turned in $100 of its fund for comfort kits for the soldiers of the Sixth Nebraska, and various women's organizations are now busy making the kits.

Fined for Contempt—William F. Hawk was fined $150 and costs by Federal Judge Arthur for contempt of court. Hawk had sworn that he owned property that at the time was not in his possession.

Jenkins to Talk—Dr. D. E. Jenkins, president of the University of Omaha, will address a joint meeting of the Young Men and Young Women's Hebrew association, Tuesday evening in their clubrooms, 335 Paxton block. There will be musical numbers and dancing following his talk.

City Officials Return—Corporation counsel W. C. Lambert has returned from a vacation in the South Dakota badlands and in Wyoming. City Commissioner D. B. Butler is back at his desk after an absence of a week. He saw Walter Johnson pitch in Chicago last Saturday.

To Give Receipts to Mess Fund—The Henshaw hotel will donate the entire receipts of its cafe Thursday night to the ambulance company of the Sixth Nebraska regiment for their mess fund. The boys of the ambulance company hope to possess a large fund for mess purposes before they leave for Deming.

Convention to Try to Save the Ewe Lambs—Saving western ewe lambs which are suitable for increasing the farm flocks and sheep of the eastern farms is a practical undertaking of the National Sheep and Wool bureau which will be discussed at the great lakes convention in Chicago, September 11 and 12.

W. T. Ritch, an Australian sheep and wool expert, who was brought to this country to aid better grading of wool, wired the bureau at its Chicago headquarters that he had discovered several thousand head of black-faced ewes which would go to the market for slaughter during September and October unless immediate steps were taken to save them. The bureau asked the co-operation of the Illinois Council of Defense and state councils of other states to set about saving these ewe lambs. The scarcity of breeding ewes makes their slaughter, or the slaughter of ewes, a serious blow to American independence in wool production.

Land Owners Still Fight For the Surface Track—The city council committee of the whole again postponed action on the Missouri Pacific track elevation situation along the Belt line at Farnam and Douglas streets. This time the postponement was for three weeks.

Representation was made to the city commissioners that a satisfactory solution of the problem may be determined in a few weeks.

Dundee citizens are insisting that the city council stand pat on a demand that all surface tracks shall be eliminated at Farnam and Douglas streets, while owners of a few industries claim that if they should be denied at least one surface switch track they would be put out of business.

Jardine Wants Money for City Prison Labor Work—"Omaha has the reputation of being an easy place for hoboes and other interlopers," said City Commissioner Butler before the city council committee of the whole.

Commissioner Jardine was asking for an additional appropriation of $5,000 for the city prison labor work, which Mr. Butler referred to as a joke.

"These hoboes are glad to be furnished three square meals a day and do a little work. What we want is a rock pile," added Butler.

The matter went over for further consideration.

No Sentence for Man Selected for New Army—Clifford McCormick, the express messenger arrested a short time ago on the charge of bringing liquor into the state, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by a federal judge.

He produced evidence, however, from the district exemption board, that he had been chosen for service in the draft army, passed the examination and asked no claims for exemption, so the sentence was remanded and a fine of $1 charged to him in its stead. The government paid the costs of the case.

Body of Holbrook Arrives in Omaha from Honolulu—The body of Cyril Holbrook, 1914 South Thirty-sixth street, who died in Honolulu, Hawaii, while stationed on a hospital ship in the United States naval service, arrived in Omaha Sunday night. It was taken to the home of his parents, where it will remain until the funeral, which will be held this morning at St. Peter's church at Twenty-eighth and Leavenworth streets. Six of his former classmates at Creighton college, where the deceased attended school, will be pallbearers at his funeral.

Co-Operate to Enforce Automobile Road Laws—City and county officials will co-operate in the enforcement of automobile laws.

Complaints have been received of improper conduct in automobiles along the Dodge and Center street roads, on both sides of the Omaha city limits line.

Omaha Officials Attend Prohibition Conference—Mayor Dahlman, City Commissioner Parks, Chief of Police Dunn and City Prosecutor McGuire will go to Lincoln this morning to attend a conference in Governor Neville's office on the enforcement of the prohibition law.

SUGAR REDUCTION CAUSES NO ALARM

Price Regulations Will Not Injure Omaha Merchants, as the Supply on Hand is Small.

Wholesale and retail grocers in Omaha are not alarmed over the prospect of a reduction of 1 1/2 cents per pound in beet sugar, as agreed upon by the beet sugar manufacturers at Washington in conference with Food Administrator Hoover.

The Omaha dealers believe that the consumer will get the benefit of the reduction in beet sugar as it goes into effect. Charles Pickens, manager for Paxton & Gallagher, wholesale grocery company, says this will not likely affect the prices before November 1, as that is about when the new crop will come on the market.

Edward Simon of Simon Brothers, wholesale grocery company, however, is of the opinion that the reduction will go into effect about October 1.

Mr. Simon says "It is my understanding that the beet sugar will be quoted at $7.25 at the factories. That must be added about 35 cents per hundred for freight, and it is my understanding that the wholesaler is to be allowed 25 cents per hundred profit, which would make the 100-pound sack come $7.85 to the retailer. At present it is quoted at about $9.15 to the retailer."

Charles Pickens said: "If they settle on 25 cents profit for the wholesaler, it will be better than we have been doing for a long time. For a good long while we have not been able to do better than 10 to 15 cents per hundred."

Mr. Pickens said the beet crop would not be ready for the factories before the latter part of October, or November 1. "The factories," he said, "have been sold out of sugar for some time, and this new crop will have to supply the new crop, which will be a big one."

The supposition is that this year's crop is one of the largest beet sugar crops raised in many years. Of course it would be expected that the sugar would be a little higher this year; however, since the factories have had to pay more for their beets, and for everything else that goes into the manufacture of the sugar. They are paying the farmers $7 a ton for beets this year, whereas in the past they have paid them only $5."

J. J. Cameron, secretary of the Omaha Retail Grocers' association, said: "The wholesaler here have very little sugar in stock now, so the cutting of the price will likely not have any detrimental effect upon them. At the same time the retailers, of course, have no sugar in stock except just enough to run them from week to week, so they are not in a position to lose anything. The wholesaler, however, have bought a lot of sugar for future delivery, but this is undoubtedly bought subject to prevailing prices at the time the deliveries are called for, so that they are not in a position to lose on that deal."

Federal Authorities Seize St. Joseph "Household Goods"—George E. Hill, who was fined $100 and costs by the state authorities for the illegal possession of liquor is now being prosecuted by the federal courts on the charge of transporting liquor into a dry state.

Hill received a large box from St. Joseph, Mo., on August 23 consigned from G. Allen to G. Hill and sent as one box of household goods. Upon investigation it was found to contain four quarts of whiskey, which were confiscated by the police.

He is now held in the county jail awaiting his second sentence.

Soldier Boys All Vote That They Want The Bee—"We want The Bee," unanimously voted a squad of Company D of the "Fighting Fourth" when C. H. Clancy, 4915 Chicago street, volunteered to send an Omaha paper, around the world with them.

"I wanted to do what I could to help the boys out," said Mr. Clancy as he entered a subscription for members of Company D. "I left the decision of the paper to the boys and they were unanimous in desiring The Bee."

Custodians Wanted, At Federal Building—The postoffice is greatly in need of custodians, but none seem to come forward and apply for the job. The position pays a salary of $600 a year and must be held by men between the ages of 20 and 50.

The examinations will be held at the postoffice on September 1. Blanks can now be procured from the secretary of the civil service.

More Money is Added to The Serbian Relief Fund—More than $125 was added to the $2,000 collected Saturday on Serbian day at the South Side Bohemian Turner hall Sunday evening when Mrs. Paul Vefitch repeated the showing of war slides taken in Serbia.

On man dropped a gold bracelet into the collection box.

Truck Driver Sues Street Railway Company for $50,000—Fifty thousand dollars damages are asked by Pearl E. Randolph, truck driver, who is suing the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company in district court. He alleges permanent injuries suffered August 6 when a motor car which he was driving was struck by a street car at Grace and North Sixteenth streets.

Hot Weather Needed to Make Corn Crop Sure—Sample ears of corn, picked from fields in the vicinity of Pacific Junction, Ia., were on the tables in the trading room of the Omaha Grain exchange. They indicated that the crop is pretty well along, but according to the grain men, fully four weeks of hot weather will be required to put it beyond injury by frost.

Court House Thronged By County Teachers—The Douglas County Teachers' institute began a five days' session in the court house Monday morning. The opening meeting was largely attended. Four instructors will lecture during the week. County Superintendent of Schools Keenan is in charge of the institute.

Dynamite Sticks Found in the Old Krug Brewery

Eleven sticks of 40 per cent dynamite were found in the basement of the old Krug brewery, Eleventh and Jackson streets, by Detectives Rooney and Connelly Monday afternoon. They were capped and ready for firing. They were destroyed in the Missouri river.

PRINTERS TO PROBE HIGH COAL PRICES

Appoint Committee to Try to Aid Administration in Reducing Cost of Fuel in Omaha.

At a meeting of Omaha Typographical union Sunday afternoon a committee of five members was appointed to look into the local coal situation and endeavor to find ways and means to aid the administration to bring about a reduction in the price to consumers commensurate with the cost of production and handling of coal.

The committee has in view a line of action by which results beneficial to the coal consumers of this vicinity may be achieved.

It is asserted by members of the committee that the coal problem is the most serious one confronting the working class just now and that, added to the other items necessary to the upkeeping of a home, the prices for which have risen so rapidly, it has brought about such a state of mind that leaves little opportunity for the display of that staunch patriotism that naturally lies in the hearts of the American working men.

Manipulators a Menace—The committee is of the opinion that the manipulators of prices for necessities are a greater menace to the nation than any outside foe; that it keeps the nation's thoughts on the problem of providing food and fuel, etc., whereas if the price manipulators were effectively suppressed the whole attention of the nation would be free to be given to that other enemy—autocracy.

The committee also feels that if the price manipulators are not crushed and prices are not reduced, such neglect is likely to continue to add fuel to the growing unrest noticeable throughout the country and hinder efforts against the kaiser and his system.

Workmen Loyal—The workmen of the country are loyal and if the price manipulators betray the country by forcing them to fight greed at home instead of the enemy abroad the blame must be placed where it belongs—with the food and fuel speculators.

The easiest way to hold the support of the people is to put the price manipulators in an intemperate camp," said a member of the committee.

Repeated During Ak-Sar-Ben—A repetition of Mrs. Myron Learned's nature masque, "The Spirit of Walden Wood," is possible during Ak-Sar-Ben week.

Miss Arabell Kimball, who directed the performance so successfully staged at Hiawatha park in June, and members of the National Service league are giving the plan serious consideration.

The masque will be given out-of-doors as before, if it is repeated. There is one obstacle. Harte Jenks, one member of the cast, is momentarily awaiting orders to sail for France to serve in the ambulance corps.

The proceeds will go to the service league.

Quartermaster Department Has Outgrown Quarters—Monday was moving day for Colonel Grant and Major Maher of the Omaha quartermaster's depot. Early in the morning they and their staffs arrived and were soon settled down in their new home in the Army building at Fifteenth and Dodge streets.

This is the result of the tremendous growth of business in the quartermaster's department that made the old quarters at the supply depot, Twenty-second and Hickory streets, too crowded. All troops from Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska are supplied from the Omaha depot, which has meant that thousands of uniforms have been sent from here lately.

Work Moves Fast On Belt Line Track Elevation—Workmen employed in elevating the tracks of the Missouri Pacific belt line have started pouring concrete for the side and overhead construction of the Dodge street subway. The subway will be about eighty feet wide, 150 feet long, twenty feet high, with arched ceiling.

Piling for the elevated tracks has been driven to a point from south of Howard to a point north, between Dodge and Douglas streets. Filling between the piles for the grade has been commenced.

Woman Killed by Engine At Central City Crossing—Mrs. Arnold Reyes, wife of one of the Union Pacific section men, was killed on a crossing at Central City Sunday evening, when she was struck by No. 8.

Union Pacific No. 8 does not stop at Central City, but passes through the town at a low speed. Crossing the track near the passenger depot, she was caught by the engine, thrown some distance and instantly killed. A coroner's jury exonerated the railroad company from blame.

"Give Service" Girls Will Meet Next Monday—A mass meeting of all the "Give Service" girls of the city is called for next Monday morning at 10:45 o'clock by Miss Nelle Ryan, retiring guardian of the Omaha charities. Plans for war relief work this winter will be discussed.

The hundred Campfire Girls and an additional number of volunteers, it is estimated, comprise the "Give Service" girls who helped in the distribution of Hoover food pledge cards.

Any girl who will do war relief work may join.

OPEN RESERVE BANK IN OMAHA TUESDAY

Second Liberty Loan is to Be Handled Through Branch Bank; Ledgers Come by Express from K. C.

The Nebraska subscriptions to the next Liberty loan will be handled through the Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve bank, which will formally open in the old First National bank building September 4, according to O. T. Eastman, manager of the branch bank.

This means that all subscriptions made in the Omaha district will be reported to the branch bank here instead of to the parent reserve bank at Kansas City, as was done with the first installment of the Liberty loan some weeks ago. The money for the bonds will also be paid in to the branch bank here, and thence forwarded to Washington.

At the close of business next Saturday night in the Federal Reserve bank at Kansas City, the Omaha and Nebraska accounts in the ledgers will be shipped to Omaha by express.

Loose leaf ledgers are used, and the loose leaves containing the accounts for the Omaha district will be merely lifted from the ledger clamps, expressed to Omaha and in Omaha again clamped into the new ledgers.

This will greatly facilitate the transfer of accounts, as no transcribing of items will be necessary. On Tuesday morning when the Omaha bank opens for business, every federal reserve account of a bank in the Omaha district will be on the ledger in complete form just as it was in Kansas City.

Saturday every bank in the Omaha district will be notified by the parent bank at Kansas City to do all its federal reserve business in the future with the Omaha branch. Thus any drafts to be mailed in for credit, or notes to be sent in for rediscount, and all federal reserve correspondence will be directed to the Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve bank instead of to the main bank at Kansas City.

Such communications should reach Omaha Sunday or Monday, and when the branch opens Tuesday morning the business can proceed in the regular way.

The moving of the loose leaf accounts from Kansas City to Omaha, will automatically transfer the reserve the Omaha and Nebraska banks have deposited in Kansas City to Omaha instead.

It is not yet definitely decided whether Wyoming will be a part of the Omaha district. It was so stipulated at first, but the Denver branch is making a fight to have Wyoming included in its territory.

Badly Injured When Bike Runs Into an Automobile—Eugene Woods, 4552 North Thirty-eighth street, was badly cut about the head and shoulders when he was struck by an automobile driven by E. H. Spiegel, 1207 North Twenty-fourth street, at Eighteenth and California streets.

Woods, witnesses say, was riding his bicycle on the wrong side of the street and turned to pass an oncoming car at the same time Spiegel turned out to a stop. Woods was taken in the Spiegel car to the police station where his injuries were dressed.

Riding in the car with Spiegel was Mrs. Harry Spiegel, whose husband was accidentally killed at the Young Men's Christian association last week.

Asks for a Divorce From Her Common Law Husband—Pauline Farley, 3012 Leavenworth street, is suing her common law husband, William H. Farley, livery stable proprietor, for divorce in district court. She asks $3,000 alimony.

Mrs. Farley says she and her mate orally agreed to become man and wife April 5, 1913.

She alleges he has treated her with extreme cruelty since January 1 of this year. She declares they have accumulated property worth $5,000, largely through her efforts.

She asks the court to restrain him from interfering with her or withholding any money out of the bank during the pendency of the suit.

Says Wealthy Husband Fails to Support Her—Dr. Thomas Z. Magarrel, secretary of the Vitaphone stadium, 2720 South Tenth street, is being sued for divorce in district court by Eliza J. Magarrel.

The Magarrels were married nearly a half century ago and have several children.

The wife alleges her husband has failed to support her for the last four years. She says he is wealthy.

The court is asked to award her $50 a month temporary alimony and $150 attorney's fees.

Doctor Says Sore Throat May Cause Appendicitis—"Appendicitis may be caused by certain forms of sore throat," declared Dr. Jack Dwyer, addressing the city council in behalf of Mrs. Theresa Brick, who was granted a widow's pension on account of the death of Thomas W. Brick, city fireman.

The late fireman was stricken with a severe cold while attending a fire at the continental block. The cold developed into an infection of the throat and appendicitis followed.

Fiend Assaults Widow and Then Robs Her in Her Room—Mrs. Jane Stribling, a widow living at 2708 Lake street, was attacked about 4:30 Monday morning and robbed of $10 in money.

The robber gained entrance through her bedroom window by breaking out the glass. He threatened to kill her in case she made any attempt to scream. She could give no description of the man, who escaped after rifling her room.

Helen Garvin Probable Choice for Guardian—The name of Miss Helen Garvin is mentioned as the probable successor of Miss Nelle Ryan, as local Campfire guardian. Miss Garvin is not in the city at present. She is summing at Fish Creek, Wis. Miss Ryan resigned the guardianship to take the place in her father's store vacated by a brother entering Uncle Sam's service.
