

Nebraska Answers the Nation's Call

NEBRASKA is preparing to answer the nation's call for more food. At the suggestion of President Wilson and Herbert C. Hoover, Food Administrator, a Food Training Camp has been established at the Nebraska State Fair for the purpose of teaching efficiency in handling food-stuffs. The work will be in charge of a corps of food experts--people who have made food study their life work. Theory and practical demonstrations will teach facts that have been only elicited after years of scientific study. Elimination of waste and the substitution for scarce foods of plentiful, but no less palatable, foods will be the big lessons taught. Think what this will mean to the nation whose food reserves are low.

Nebraska's Wonderful Exhibits

Believing that the best means of increasing food production is by affording producers the best of advantages for studying types and breeds of live stock and varieties of grains, fruits and vegetables, the State Fair has scoured the country for the largest and best exhibits ever shown. Machinery, the one thing that can replace the enormous manpower to be drawn from a nation already short of labor, will occupy the attention of every thinking person. This exhibit will be little short of wonderful. Manufactured goods, automobiles, textiles, home products, "Better Babies"--these exhibits comprise a school which will teach progress, advancement, enlightenment and higher standards of living. On every hand, usefulness and service to the nation will be the big lessons to be learned.

Unsurpassed Amusements

Among the amusements will be the great Hagenbach-Wallace Trained Animal Circus, regarding the worth of which, as a good, clean amusement, too much cannot be said. This is the biggest attraction ever booked for the State Fair and its two performances daily before the grand stand without the tent will draw tens of thousands of people daily. Races and scores of other attractions will hold an appeal for everyone.
