HOST OF EXHIBITS AT NEBRASKA FAIR

Amusement Features Excel and Crowds That Attend Promise to Be Record Breaking This Year.

Lincoln, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—If ever anything was made on the earth or below the sea, that ever lived, moved or had a being that cannot be seen at the Nebraska state fair this year then it is a foregone conclusion that this thing is not worth the trouble to look at, for never before in the history of the state fair association has there been such an aggregation of everything.

The grounds are crowded with everything man has ever heard of—and this is only the first day. The individual who misses the state fair this year will miss more than he has ever seen before in all his whole life.

Over in agricultural hall it does not look as if there had been a lack of moisture anywhere in Nebraska this year. In fact, the display of those counties which have usually been considered unagricultural because of a lack of rain in past years the exhibits are very marked.

Fremont Labor Day Observed

By Big Picnic and Speaking Fremont, Neb., Sept. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Labor day was observed in Fremont by a parade, in which labor participated, followed by a picnic dinner and a program of speaking at one of the pleasure resorts.

More than one hundred men spent Sunday searching the Platte river for the body of Miss Gertrude Armstrong, the North Bend girl and former Fremont teacher, who was drowned while bathing a week ago. Fifty volunteer firemen of Fremont took part in the search.

The Dodge County Exemption board will make another call on the drafted men of the county to complete the quota for the first army. Thirty more men are needed to fill the quota of 175.

The Rev. John Poucher of Omaha has been chosen to make the address at the reception for the soldiers of the county, and the Fremont Signal corps, stationed at Fremont Tuesday evening. A basket dinner will be served following an exhibition drill by the Signal corps.

Upton Would Remove Seining Restrictions

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 3.—"Removal of the present restrictions on seining would probably increase the visible supply of meat by many millions of tons," said Dr. F. W. Upton, head of the agricultural chemistry department of the University of Nebraska, in speaking of the future food situation today.

"Fish cost nothing to produce, and consequently the seining of large numbers of fish would constitute a net gain in the visible supply of meat. Of course, it would be necessary to place certain restrictions upon the seining in order to prevent complete extermination of the fish.

"Such a measure would be in keeping with measures already taken by Great Britain to meet the emergency. There the government has taken steps to encourage the fishing industry, so managing it that its maximum production of human food is assured."

Many State Offices Closed for Labor Day

Lincoln, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—The state house offices were closed all day today in celebration of Labor Day, though some of them were open long enough in the morning to receive the mail and sort it over.

On account of the nearness to the leaving of the first contingent of men drafted, Governor Neville and Private Secretary Lee Metcalfe, with Stenographer Howard, were busy with important matters that had to be attended to and could not be put over. It is understood, however, that most of the offices will be practically closed most of the afternoons of the fair and only work done that cannot be put off.

Draft Board's Authority Limited, Crowder Says

Lincoln, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—A local exemption board has no authority to select a person who has had military training and who is not included in the numbers drawn to fill the total quota, according to instructions received by Governor Neville today from the War department.

Neither can drafted men select the mobilization camp they desire to go to nor can they pick the contingent of any other local board than their registration card calls for, unless the party has moved a considerable distance away. However the board must be very strict in the matter and be sure that the change in location was unavoidable.

New Draft Army Men Told What to Wear and Carry

Washington, Sept. 3.—Drafted men of the first 5 per cent contingent, who will leave Wednesday for mobilization camps, are directed in regulations issued today to take a minimum of civilian clothing and personal belongings. Toiletries, towels and handkerchiefs are recommended and no objection will be made to two changes of underclothing, but other articles are frowned upon.

Attention is called to the fact that civilian clothing will be discarded when camp is reached and to those not desiring to send such apparel back home it was suggested that clothing not worth keeping be worn. The men may carry only light hand baggage on the train and, as suit cases and handbags will not be allowed for permanent use at camp, articles may be carried in bundles if desired.

Before reporting to the local board, drafted men should have their hair cut very short; should be bathed and wear clean clothing. To insure quick communication with his family, each recruit is advised to provide himself with postcards or stamped envelopes.

ST. FRANCISCO LANDS PURSE AT HARTFORD

Spectacular Race Between Mabel Trask and Son of San Francisco Too Much for Cox's Mare.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 3.—In the fifth meeting this season on the Grand Circuit between St. Frisco and Mabel Trask, the son of San Francisco, piloted by Ed Geers, defeated the chestnut mare, driven by Cox in the feature race of the opening card of the Grand Circuit at Charter Oak park today. Another record for this track was set by St. Frisco, which trotted the second heat in 2:03 flat. The first heat was slow, as Al Mack was allowed to set the pace for the first half mile, but St. Frisco went to the front and held the lead until the turn into the stretch, when Mabel Trask drew up and half day down the stretch rashed past the stallion.

The chestnut mare tried hard to hold the place against the steady drive of St. Frisco, which never faltered, when headed and the speed with which they travelled the last quarter mile, 200 seconds, was too much for Cox's mare. She broke just before the wire was reached. Geers set the pace again in the second heat and Cox fell in behind with the mare, but when the stretch was reached and Mabel Trask was taken out from behind to make a dash for the lead, she found St. Frisco holding his own every step of the way and Geers won the heat by almost a full length.

The Whirlwind, 2:04 pace, with four starters, was the only split hit race of the afternoon and proved a surprise, as the favorite, Ben Alf after taking the first two heats was out-paced by Butte Hale, which won the next three and the race. In the final heat, Ben Alf challenged Butte Hale after the quarter pole was reached and they raced neck and neck for a quarter mile, but the bay gelding was forced to give ground and Butte Hale won with Peter Pointer as the contender. Berthe McGuire won as she pleased into two straight heats in the Acorn, for 3-year-old trotters. Summaries: Battle royal, free-for-all trot, purse $2,500: St. Frisco, Mabel Trask, second; Royal Mack, third. Best time: 2:02. Acorn, 3-year-old trot, purse $2,000: Berthe McGuire, first; Mabel Trask, second; Mirriter Jones, third. Best time: 2:12.74.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary multifoliated cocoanut oil (which is pure and unscented), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use. One of two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get multifoliated cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Adv.

"I'm Getting Sore" at the insinuations and puns poked at motion pictures by would-be "wise ones." For a while I held my peace, but finally my Irish blood got to boiling, so here goes my wrath, no matter whose toes it steps on. Sunday morning in glancing over reviews of Omaha theatricals, the following article came to my notice: "See what has happened. At a time when some of us were beginning to get reconciled to film drama, and could even tell that falling down stairs or slapping a pie in somebody's face, was comedy; and that a heroine with the heavens was meant to be in the throes of emotion; just as we were learning to be impressed by these and other subtleties of the screen, etc." I admit that they throw pies in some film comedies, but as a theatergoer and ex-legitimate and vaudeville manager, I know these same tactics are resorted to in stage slapstick comedy, and reference could just as easily have been made in this particular instance to stage as screen performances. There are slapstick film comedies and there are other classes of film comedies just the same as there are different classes of vaudeville. With such artists as Mary Pickford, Geraldine Farrar, Marguerite Clark, Lina Cavalieri, Elsie Ferguson, Pauline Frederick, Billie Burke, Mary Garden, Maxine Elliot, Madge Kennedy, Jane Cowl, Ethel Barrymore and many other as well-known celebrities in pictures, does common sense teach you that simply because they are appearing before the camera, under the supervision of the best directors money can secure—men of the caliber of Cecil B. DeMille, who produced nearly all the old Belasco successes, or David Wark Griffith, who conceived such wonder-screen plays as the Birth of a Nation or Intolerance, "a heroine with the heavens was meant to be in the throes of emotion?" We emphatically say no, and cry shame to the man whose intelligence is so warped, biased and prejudiced as to make these slurs. The very best proof we can offer as to the "uncouthness" of the motion picture, is the clientele that attends the Strand. The very man who employs this most excellent dramatic critic brings his wife to the Strand at least twice a week. If these pictures were such as this critic would lead us to believe, why should this gentleman's employer come here of his own free will so frequently? Of course, there are crude pictures, but there are crude vaudeville acts, crude melodramas, crude musical comedies, so why is it necessary to cast slurs on pictures any more than on any other form of amusement? In conclusion, I merely wish to state that today and until Saturday, we present MARGUERITE CLARK in "THE AMAZONS" By Sir Arthur Wing Pinero and I ask you to come down, carefully scrutinize this picture, and tell me whether "the heroine heaves to show emotions." This picture is a fair test of the modern photoplay, and on pictures of this character, I ask you to say whether or not I am right in taking exception to wanton slurs on the most popular form of American amusement today.
