

MICHAELIS LAYS CAUSE OF WAR AT DOOR OF RUSSIA

German Premier Declares Evidence in Soukhomlinoff Trial Clears Teutons of Responsibility.

Amsterdam, Sept. 5.—In an interview with a representative of the press, the German chancellor, Dr. Georg Michaelis, has made a statement in regard to disclosures at the trial in Petrograd for high treason of General Soukhomlinoff, former minister of war.

Great prominence has been given in the German press recently to testimony said to have been taken at the Soukhomlinoff trial tending to show Russia's responsibility for the beginning of the war.

To Exonerate Germany. Chancellor Michaelis said: "The statement of the former Russian war minister and the former chief of the general staff (General Janschkevitch) are of the greatest importance."

"They are calculated to destroy the legend of Germany's guilt in starting the war and they will force European opinion, if the reports are allowed to be published abroad, to revise its judgment on Germany."

"The moment at which these disclosures were made is the more favorable as we have just had knowledge of the American reply to the pope's note urging peace. In Secretary Lansing's answer the German government is described as an irresponsible government which secretly planned to dominate the world, which chose its own time for the war and cruelly and suddenly executed its plan; which did not heed legal barriers or truthfulness, which flooded a great contingent with blood, not only of soldiers, but of innocent women and children, the helpless and the poor. When adopting these accusations from the entire factory of calumnies, the American government obviously had no knowledge of the course of proceeding against General Soukhomlinoff. Otherwise its judgment certainly would have been quite different."

FIVE PER CENT OF NATIONAL ARMY NOW IN UNIFORM

About 100 men comprise the first quota which has been selected from Omaha and the surrounding territory in this district.

South Side men selected are: Herbert Birchard, Edward McGimpsey, John P. Murphy, Vernon Leroy Vanscoy, Walter Wozniak, Patrick W. Kennelly, George C. Wright, John J. Reumping, Frank T. O'Connor, Magnus E. Smith, Henry L. Artkotter, Joseph J. Zezulak, Edward Duds.

Three alternates will be at the station to take the places of any of the men who fail to appear.

The boys will meet at the South Side city hall at 11 o'clock Thursday morning and will go down to the court house, from there they will march to the Commercial club rooms, where they will have luncheon. The Red Cross will give each boy a well-filled lunch basket.

Red Cross Gives Send Off. Nebraska's first draft army will have a glorious send off, according to Mrs. Luther Kountze, chairman of the Red Cross refreshment committee.

Mrs. Kountze said her committee, which was appointed at a meeting of the executive board of the Red Cross Tuesday, will provide food for the soldiers who entrain or pass through Omaha on their way to cantonments and includes the following women: Mesdames L. J. Healey, chairman of the commissariat division of the Woman's Service league; Mary Conant, Barton Millard, George Prinz, Max Fleischman, L. I. Kountze, Howard Baldrige, G. L. Bradley and Sam Caldwell.

With the co-operation of the National League for Woman Service and a number of the younger society women the committee will give box lunches to the 100 hungry soldier boys who depart.

Miss Jessie Millard is in charge of the following young women who will carry the lunches in baskets: Misses Margaretha Grimmel, Regina Connell, Ann Gifford, Elizabeth Bruce, Emily Keller, Daphne Peters, Mildred Todd, Alice Wood and Mrs. Paul H. Gallagher.

A Home Recipe For Removing Wrinkles. Who will blame the modern woman for trying to lose years and attributes as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age? Few women, however, know what to do to effectively rid themselves of wrinkles or sagging. Most of the advertised preparations are unsatisfactory and very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.

preliminary hearing of Paul Kruger, manager of the Millard hotel, who was charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, Kruger was sentenced to sixty days in jail. Kruger appealed his case and was bound over to the district court and released on $500 bonds.

Proprietor Is Fined. Joseph Vasko, proprietor of the hotel and arrested in conjunction with Kruger on the same charge, was fined $100 and costs. He also appealed and was bound over to the district court and released on $200 bonds.

This is the third time that Kruger has appeared in police court to answer to the same charge, but officers of the morals squad are certain that in their last raid they discovered every bit of intoxicating liquor in the Millard hotel.

When officers made the raid Tuesday night Kruger offered to show them over the entire building, but when they came to the cellar, particularly near a certain corner, he was not quite so willing.

The eighty-one barrels of Hamm's preferred stock found was in a room, the door of which was very cleverly concealed behind a pile of rubbish.

Four Prominent Young Lincoln Men in Trouble Over Fake Plot

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Sept. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—Four university students, Earl Jeffery, Harold Long and Walter and Raymond Parry, the two former being sons of leading pastors of Lincoln, and the two latter brothers, are in trouble with the federal government, all because they tried to play a joke on Leonard W. Treaster, a former university student, who is in charge of navy activities in Lincoln.

The boys put up a "bomb plot" as a joke on Treaster by secreting plans of prominent Lincoln public buildings, factories, etc., with other information which might be useful to a foreign foe, and "planted" it in a vacant building. They then tipped it off to the authorities and for three weeks secret agents of the government have been working on the case.

When suspicion pointed to the boys they confessed that it was a joke. The government does not recognize jokes of this kind when they are played against it in war time, and the young men appear to be in a serious predicament.

ELEVEN KILLED IN FIRST NIGHT RAID ON LONDON

German Airmen Swoop Down Upon British Capital and Spread Death and Injury.

London, Sept. 5.—Eleven persons were killed and sixty-two injured in last night's aerial raid. One raider is reported to have been brought down off Sheerness. It is announced officially.

The first moonlight air raid over the London district occurred about midnight last night and resulted in the dropping of bombs, one of which fell just outside a hospital, another smashed through a theater, and still another hit a retail store in which a number of girls were sleeping.

Notwithstanding the moonlight, nothing could be seen of the raiders, although their engines could be heard overhead. That they were invisible was perhaps due to a slight haze, which, however, was insufficient to obscure the moon. The raiders were constantly shelled by anti-aircraft guns and several British machines took the air to attack the invaders.

Object to Judge In Ax Murder Case

Gaynor of Iowa directed me to appear at this court and hear this case," announced Judge Boise.

The selection of a jury was taken up without delay and the first twelve men called to the jury were sent back by the judge because the clerk selected the names from a list instead of drawing them from a box. The following were called and sworn by the court:

Julius Read, G. L. Newberg, Sam Erickson, J. S. Mourley, Jesseph N. Larson, Carl Newton, Ed Sauseman, S. T. Woodland, J. A. Johnson, B. J. Alquist, E. R. Hazelton and N. J. Woodin.

Attorney Hess, for the state, and Attorney Mitchell, for the defense, examined the jurors. The examination included references to an organization forwarded by Detective J. N. Wilkerson for raising funds to defend Kelly.

"The Protective Association of Iowa" is the name and the officers are Joseph Stillinger, president; C. I. Miller, secretary; Ed Peterson, treasurer; Harve Milet, member executive committee. Members of the association are meeting all expenses of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly.

Court Rebukes Lawyer.

When the examination of Mel Edwards, a jurymen who was called to replace Ed Sauseman, was begun Attorney Mitchell referred to Attorney General Haver as "that handsome gentleman." Judge Boise administered a stern rebuke upon Mitchell.

"These facetious references must be stopped. They have no bearing on this case," the judge said. Mitchell promised to respect the wishes of the court.

Ed Sauseman, Red Oak railroad employe, was the first juror examined. He stated he had been a careful reader of several newspapers and had formed a strong opinion that Kelly is innocent and that it would require strong evidence to the contrary to change his mind. He was challenged by Hess for the state, and was excused from serving.

Mel Edwards was called to take Sauseman's seat in jury box. Edwards said he had no opinion and knew of no reason why he could not render a fair and impartial verdict. He was passed subject to peremptory challenge. The jurors are being questioned regarding their acquaintance or association with E. F. Jones and his son, Albert, of Villisca.

Name Senator Jones.

The elder Jones is a former state senator and now is a member of the state board of education. He was attacked some time ago by Detective Wilkerson in connection with the Villisca murder. Jones sued Wilkerson last fall, but did not get judgment. The judge cautioned all who have been drawn on the jury panel to abstain from discussing the Kelly case.

Missouri Sheriff Tells Different Story in Case

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Sept. 5.—(Special.)—The story told by D. O. Nelson to Secretary of State Pool about being fined over $100 in Missouri for not having a number on his car does not track with the one put up by Sheriff J. A. Vestal of Platte county, Missouri, who has written the following letter to Mr. Pool in answer to an inquiry: "I beg to state that one John Q. Adams was arrested recently in this county for driving an automobile without a license, and he was allowed to take the lowest fine our law allows $25. The costs amounted to $9.50. He gave me his check for $34.50 on the Security State bank of Curtis, Neb., and as a kindness and courtesy to him and the others with him, I accepted the check and allowed them to go on through. Then he stopped payment on the check, which has cost me $3.25 because of the protest. The D. O. Nelson you speak of was with the party. They were driving three new Ford cars and had no kind of license on any of them. It was my sworn duty to arrest them; and I showed them every reasonable courtesy. The court and prosecuting attorney let them off very easy; and I took their check in good faith. I leave it to you, if they have acted fairly in the matter. If they are friends of yours, I suggest that it would be well to have them send me at once the $34.50 together with the $3.25 protest fee."

SAXON "SIX" A BIG TOURING CAR FOR 5 PEOPLE

Wonderful Performance of Saxon "Six" Is Bound to Win You

Time after time we have compared Saxon "Six" with costly cars.

We have showed you that Saxon "Six" at $935 has 11 of the same features that 40 other cars priced from $1115 to $10,000 have.

And all of those 11 features are essential features.

It was important for you to know that. For it proves to you how far Saxon "Six" outclasses in quality other cars selling from $800 to $1115.

But the performance of Saxon "Six" is just as important. And Saxon "Six" outclasses these other cars just as far in performance as in quality.

It is a big, spirited, powerful car.

It will flash over the road at 50 miles per hour, traveling easily, quietly and smoothly. Or it will throttle down to 1 1/2 miles per hour and pull along just as steadily and smoothly.

And it picks up with surprising briskness. The flexibility of the motor enables you to drive without shifting gears save in extreme cases.

It is a beautiful car. The lines are gracefully smart. And the inside is equally well designed. All five passengers have plenty of room—both in seat space and leg length.

Saxon "Six" is constructed lightly and balanced with expert accuracy.

That gives tires longer life and adds mileage to every gallon of gas and oil.

It is an economical car to own.

Right now the price is $935 f. o. b. Detroit. But, of course, no one can tell how long it will be that low.

Every known condition of the material and labor market makes it certain that all motor car prices must soon advance.

So buy now while the present price stands. Come in today.
