DEMAND LIQUOR WHICH POLICE HOLD Chief Dunn Served With Writ of Replevin for Wet Goods Confiscated in Kahout's Home.

Constable M. J. Roach served a writ of replevin on Chief of Police Dunn and Captain Andrew Pattullo yesterday, charging them with wrongful detention of a large quantity of intoxicating liquor confiscated in the home of James Kahout on August 17. Chief of Police Dunn refused to give up the liquor on account of the fact that Kahout held the liquor illegally in his possession and also was selling it illegally.

It is said that Kahout had sold liquor to Viola Smith, who shot and killed Louis McCarthy on the night of August 16. Kahout was arraigned in police court for the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor and his attorney, James F. Moriarity, appealed the case.

The quantity of liquor held by the police consists of the following: Sixty quarts of various brands of whisky, twenty-one quarts of wine, seven quarts of gin, seventeen pints of rum and 512 quarts of Metz, beer.

ADVICE TO WOMEN IS GIVEN BY MRS. WOOD

Advised to Register and Be Ready to Do Their Bit in Helping During Times of War.

"Don't stuff your husbands, but husband your stuff," "Order ahead and save your bread," and "Women, tell your age, September 12, when you register."

The foregoing was the advice given by Mrs. Ira Cough Wood, executive secretary of the woman's committee of the National Council of Defense, to about 100 Omaha women Wednesday afternoon.

The nation having the last pound of food will be the victor in this war. It is up to the housewife who has put the 'I can' in American to learn how to save systematically and make her substitutes palatable, so the Euro pean allies will not starve until our soldiers get there," said Mrs. Wood.

An appeal was made by Mrs. Wood that every patriotic woman in Omaha register.

"It is the first time that the government has ever asked the women of the country to put their talent and training at the disposal of the nation. It is simply a privilege offered to patriotic women and is in no sense a draft. Because you cannot do some big service, do not let that hamper you from registering for some small task. There are opportunities for women to serve in every capacity," said Mrs. Wood.

"If, however, you are not free to do any voluntary service, sign anyway. The government wants a complete census of what every woman in the country is doing. Any girl over 16 years of age is eligible to register."

"Don't be afraid of any dire consequence or hidden menace," urged Mrs. Wood. "If you sign now and circumstances change, you will not be pledged in any way to fulfill your agreement."

"I hope every woman will stand up and tell her age. There is no law to compel her to do so, but there are many positions which are now open in the civil service department for women between certain ages, and matters will be simplified if they will be specific."

Record of Woman Power. "With a uniform registration in every state in the union, Uncle Sam will have a complete record of the woman power of the nation and it can be easily summarized at any time."

The registration cards will be sent first to the county chairman and then returned to the cities in which the signers live.

Mrs. Wood paid a high tribute to war work in Nebraska. "You have done marvelous things and you have the best system of drying that I have seen any place in the country," she said.

"We should feel grateful that we American women have national organizations. If we did not have them we would not yet be ready to work through the National Council of Defense. France and England are only now beginning to talk of such an organization. It is an inspiring story our women are writing in history."

Mrs. Wood left last night for Washington.

Reg Cross Makes Additional Appropriation for Syrians Washington, Sept. 6.—The Red Cross war council today announced that it had made a second appropriation of $300,000 for relief work in the near east, through the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief.

New Vests Arrive—Dignity is added to the appearance of the women in the Red Cross hospital supply department in the Baird building by the new vests which have just arrived. Instructors in the surgical dressings department now wear white vests with the Red Cross on them and the captains, lieutenants and corps of workers wear navy blue vests and navy blue arm bands. The vests bear the Red Cross and the arm bands the horn of plenty and the insignia.

The twenty-six women who took the oath of allegiance are the only ones allowed to wear the vests, but more will take it next week.

Knitting School Opens Friday—The Red Cross knitting school will open Friday morning in room 211 of the Baird building. Volunteer instructors are desired by Mrs. A. W. Jefferis, who is in charge of the Red Cross knitting department. People wishing to take yarn home to knit for the Red Cross will be asked to give satisfactory reference, according to Mrs. Jefferis. The knitting station will remain in the Red Cross headquarters in the court house.

To Attend Fair—Mrs. O. C. Redick and Mrs. Gould Dietz and Miss Henrietta MacArthur went to the state fair at Lincoln today, which is Omaha day, in behalf of the Omaha chapter.

The Red Cross booth at the fair is attracting a great deal of interest, according to Mrs. Z. T. Lindsey, who visited it yesterday. Memberships are not taken, as the officials wish people to join in their own chapters, but women work in the booth and demonstrate how to make hospital garments. "The work in the state will receive a great impetus from the educational work accomplished this week," said Mrs. Lindsey.
