ROURKES DROP TWO MORE TO BOOSTERS

Tailend Oon Creekers Capture Both Ends of Sabbath Double Bill and Make Sweep of Series.

The Rourke's blew their chances for the pennant yesterday when they wound up the season at home by dropping both ends of a bargain bill to the tailend Boosters. The first game went to Des Moines, 2 to 1, after ten innings, and the second one was captured by the visitors, 4 to 1, in seven innings. Coffey's men by the twin victory made a clean sweep of the four-game series.

The first fray was a nifty pitching duel between Merz and Payne and if one wanted to be mean the blame for the defeat might be shifted to the ump's. A close decision, which appeared to be wrong, gave Des Moines the winning tally in the tenth. Omaha scored one run in the second inning of the first game on Yardley's single, Brottem's sacrifice and Park's hit, and with Merz bowling along in fancy style, the game was 1 to 0 at the end of the seventh.

But in the eighth Jack Coffey poled a mighty double to left and scored on Spahr's single.

Lose in Tenth. The game went into the tenth. Spahr opened that frame with a hit, but was forced out by Payne. This made Payne mad so he swiped second, and when Brottem's throw was had continued to third. Ewoldt had a close grounder to Krug. Krug didn't play the ball very well, but even so it seemed Ewoldt was out. The ump's, however, called him safe and Payne scored the winning run.

The Boosters leaped on Marty O'Toole in the first inning of the second game and salted the fray with two runs, as O'Doul refused to permit the Rourke's to do any hitting.

Yardley was knocked out in the first game in sliding into second and was unable to play in the second pastime.

The Rourke's go to St. Joseph today for four games. Then they journey to Des Moines for another four-game series to close the season next Sunday.

Bears Go Down in Fourth Game to Hutchinson

Indict East St. Louis Mayor for Failure To Report Race Riot

Belleville, Ill., Sept. 9.—Mayor Mollman of East St. Louis, Ill., was indicted yesterday on a charge of malfeasance in office. The grand jury recommended that Mollman be removed from office that Mollman be removed from office that Mollman be removed from office.

The indictment charges that at the time of the recent race riots in East St. Louis, the mayor failed to call on the sheriff of St. Clair county and on the governor for assistance in preserving order as soon as he should have done.

Maurice Ahern, secretary to the mayor, also was indicted on a charge of conspiracy with the rioters. This charge is based on the accusation that he instructed the police to prevent photographers from taking pictures of the riot scenes, thus interfering with the collection of the most valuable evidence.

HOOPER SAYS WHEAT PRICE WILL HOLD

Isolated Protests Continue; Farmer Should Get Thirty-Three Per Cent More Than Last Year.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Price of $2.20 a bushel for wheat, fixed by President Wilson, will be maintained, it has been made clear by the food administration, despite isolated protests from farming interests that the figure is too low. Virtually the only objection of any consequence, it was said, has arisen in North Dakota, where the crop was unusually poor.

North Dakota farmers are demanding $3 a bushel for their wheat and are asking for removal of the food administration's regulations designed to prevent speculation. They particularly object to restrictions against elevators storing grain more than thirty days.

R. R. A. Pearson, assistant to the secretary of agriculture, is just back from a trip throughout the west with a report that he found the wheat price generally acceptable except in communities where crops were far below normal.

Farmers Get 33 Per Cent More. The result of the price fixed, food administration officials say, is that the farmer will receive about 33 per cent more a bushel than last year. On the other hand, through arrangements made for the elimination of speculation and to control distribution, the consumer should, they contend, obtain a saving of at least 33 per cent on flour, or 20 per cent under the average of the last four months.

Herbert Hoover, the food administrator, foresees some actual suffering among farmers in North Dakota and in localities in other states, whatever the price. The failure in some districts, he said today, means that some growers will lose money.

Food Officials Stand Pat. "The plan generally," he said, "is running smoothly, except for the necessarily expected local misunderstandings and the food administration will not depart one iota from the price determined by the president for throughout the year. I believe that the sense of support shown the government in dealing with the difficulties of war is an ample guarantee that wheat will flow regularly to flour-consuming centers and to the mills.

The arrangements made by the railroads permit their handling wheat more rapidly this year than last. So far the roads have been able to take care of all the movement and probably can continue to do so until a little later in the fall.

J. W. Sullivan, who represented the American Federation of Labor on the wheat price-fixing committee, said today if the price of wheat came up again for review labor would demand a lower figure.

Wolf Dined Off St. Louis Pastor's Shin

Rev. Dr. Thomas C. McNary, pastor of the Northminster Presbyterian church, St. Louis, is probably the only clergyman in the United States who can exhibit two deep scars from wolf bites, which he received on the streets of Chicago.

Nor does Dr. McNary belong to the modern ilk of "converted" circus performers, prize fighters, or ball players. It was as a plain American citizen, a bashful young Pennsylvanian studying in McCormick Seminary to fit himself for his life-calling, that the young man met, saw and conquered the wolf on the streets of Chicago.

And if one has any doubts as to the young theologian's valor or veracity, an eye witness exists in Rev. Dr. Francis W. Russell, pastor of the West Presbyterian church of St. Louis, also a young student at that time.

Tom McNary, the theologian, was taking a stroll through Lincoln park, Chicago, with Russell as his companion, and they passed in front of the zoo, at the moment a wolf, vicious from long restraint, burst its bars. It was up and at them in a moment, snapping young McNary's shins.

Russell had a brilliant idea, stimulated by the fact that his soft gray mackintosh was on his arm. He tried to smother the beast, catching him up in a roll just as the wolf made a dash for Russell's breast.

"No use hurting the poor fellow," the humane Russel declared. "We can drop him back over the wall." But the drop back was elusive, and the wolf again emerged, to finish his meal off McNary's ankles. Neither young man had any weapon, and they simply fought the wolf off with their fists. Several persons watched, including one of the zoo keepers, but no one offered assistance, perhaps on the principle that wolves in one form or another are always to be found in Chicago.

After a valiant struggle, the park was at last made safe for democracy and the young men retreated, McNary weak and bleeding. It was near commencement time, and the young man took two weeks' rest for the repair of his nerves. When he was ordained, he limped a little. "The wolf ran away, but finally was killed.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Barbed Wire and War. The part that barbed wire has played in the war is reflected to some extent by the foreign commerce reports. This is particularly an American product, the gliding invention having been first utilized on a large scale by John W. Gates at St. Louis. The description from the front shows the effective use made of this simple invention, which the late Senator Ingalls said was suggested by the manner in which the much-coveted avoided bramble bushes. It was woven and twisted into a barrier that seemed impregnable until the British developed the use of artillery in such amazing fashion. The study of fortifications has been followed from the beginning of human history and it is a singular fact that a simple fencing device, designed for an unimproved country, should surpass every other obstacle in the progress of a modern army.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Soldier Killed and Eleven Injured by Frightened Horses

Fort Sill, Okla., Sept. 9.—One soldier was killed, and eleven injured today, when sixty horses of E battery, Eighth United States field artillery, stampeded, after becoming frightened by heavy firing.

Private James Lawrence of Cincinnati, O., was knocked down by the horses and the wheels of a heavily loaded artillery caisson passed over his body, killing him. Privates Peter Dyle of Malby, Pa., and Roy Davis of Converse, S. C., are not expected to survive internal injuries. The nine others injured are: Leo F. Holliday, Waterloo, Ia.; Martin Magunson, Chicago; John Mahalski, St. Louis; Fred Lukaskis, Chicago; John Henrynowicz, Chicago; Daniel Riordan, New York; George Scarpanita, Lodi, N. J.; John Duerwagner, Milwaukee; Frank Heider, Chicago.

The gun crew of E battery had their pieces in position for practice and had retired with their horses several hundred yards, when another battery, hidden by a clump of trees, began firing. The stampede caught the men off their guard and they were trampled under the horses' hoofs.

To Save Berlin's Fuel

Sock and Buskin May Go Berlin, Sept. 9.—The suggestion is now made that the theaters curtail performances for the purpose of contributing to a nation-wide effort to save illuminating and heating fuel. The Berlin play houses, which opened for the season this week with capacity business, are protesting against the proposed movement to limit them to half their usual number of performances.

The managers point out that the theater is the only remaining medium through which war-weary brains may be relaxed.
