American Tars Have

Shore Leave Restored (By Associated Press.)

American Naval Base in British Waters, Sept. 14.-Shore liberty which Americans below the rank of warrant officers as well as British sailors have been deprived of for three days, was recommended today by permission of the naval authorities. The ban followed the unfortunate encounter between J. W. Parente, an American mate, and a youth named Plummer, which resulted in the latter's death. The American bluejackets sent a floral wreath to the funeral of Plum-companion, B. F. Sylvester, of Plain-view, Minn., although not seriously. The ban against Americans below the rank of lieutenant commander traveling to a nearby city or its suburbs still is in force.

JUDGE RULES OUT EVIDENCE; KELLY SCORES

Testimony of Bluffs Laundry Workers Relative to Bloodspotted Linen Not Admitted in Case.

By EDWARD BLACK.

Red Oak, Ia., Sept. 14.—(Special old flag across the waters. Telegram.)-The second week of the Kelly trial was brought to a close this afternoon, when Judge Boies ad- until 11, so that those interested journed court at 3:30 o'clock, for the week end, the court and lawyers returning promptly to tehir homes.

The trail will be resumed at 9 o'clock Monday morning. During the week, the jury was empaneled, opening statements were made to the jury and the prosecution reached the nineteenth witness of a long list of persons, who have been summoned.

The prosecution encountered east temporary defeat on what is known as the laundry feature of its chain of evidence, said to have been obtained against the defendant. In a statement issued last May and in his opening statement to the jury, Attor-ney General Havner stated the prosecution would show that Kelly sent within two or three days after the crime was committed, a package of laundry to the Bluffs City Laundry, Council Bluffs, with a request that it should be returned to Mascedonia."

Evidence Ruled Out. The state said it would show that the laundry had evidence of bloodstains and that Kelly obtained the bundle when it was returned to Mace-

Mrs. Cora Marquard, marker in the laundry during 1912, and William C. Miller, Macedonia druggist, who gave the laundry back to Kelly, were placed on the stand by the state, but Mitchell, for the defense, successfully resisted their testimony. The court ordered their testimony stricken out and admonished the jury to eliminate from their minds the testimony of these witnesses. "The laundry point, you may safely introduce this testimony in a manner which they believe will overcome objections of the defense and the court. During the afternoon Attorney General Havner took a relay at examination of witnesses. Attorneys and a tribute to the alined nations Hess and Faville served earlier in the
