The only purpose of pickles and relishes is to stimulate appetite and add zest to mild flavored foods. If they did just these two things, and stopped at that point, we would have no case against them, for both things are legitimate; but unfortunately very highly flavored foods are apt to prove irritants to the membrance of the digestive tract; and the 1 pepper, chopped hardness of some pickles makes them almost proof against the attacks of the digestive juices. But since we demand pickles, we can at least make some choice. The milder flavored ones, like catsup, have the objection- to boiling point, and cook slowly two able qualities in the least degree, and a half hours, stirring frequently. hence are most worthy of a place Seal in sterilized jars. on our tables.
