Dan Butler Gets Information On Muny Coal Yards

Denver, Colo., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—So successful has been the operation of Denver's municipal coal department since its inauguration last Saturday morning, that it is attracting nation-wide attention. More than five hundred tons at actual cost were sold to consumers on the opening day.

Dan B. Butler, Omaha commissioner, telegraphed here today for details of the plan. Omaha, he said, is getting ready to open a municipal coal yard.

The city administration here has contracted for the output of three lignite mines which it is selling to consumers at mine cost, plus delivery. The price from mine to consumer's bin is $4.15 per ton. A voluntary verbal statement of income is all that is necessary to obtain the coal. Few restrictions are imposed.

Free Supply of Money for Liberty Loan Campaign

New York, Sept. 19.—Announcement that definite arrangements have been made for the free supply of money at rates not exceeding 6 percent, and probably well below that level, during the financing of the coming second Liberty loan, was issued here today by a committee of leading bankers. The committee was appointed by the Federal Reserve bank to co-operate with the Liberty loan committee to investigate the money market and provide against stringency during the loan campaign.

Southern States Unable To Supply Quota at Once

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 19.—Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana will be unable to supply their full quotas of 40 percent of whites ordered to start for training camps tomorrow, as the second increment of the first draft of the national army. State authorities said that the lateness of the War department's order calling only white men was responsible for their failure to furnish the men desired. Georgia will send 5,291 whites, whereas its quota is 7,335 and Alabama and Louisiana will each fall about 1,000 men short according to unofficial figures available tonight.

McLaren Elected President Federal Employes' Meeting

Washington, Sept. 19.—The second day of the Federal Employes' convention to organize a national Federal employes' union was spent in electing temporary officers and various committees. H. McLaren, president of the Washington Federal Employes' union, was unanimously elected president of the convention.

Daniel Goldsmith, president of the Civil Service retirement, Dr. Deweylin George, secretary, and W. E. Russell, president of the New York Federal Civil Service society, addressed the delegates and urged that the national union open its doors to outside organization of government employees.

SWINE SHOW POINTS TO GREAT RECORD

National Hog Growers' Association Will Hold Second Annual Exhibition in Omaha October 3 to 10.

The National Swine Growers' association has had the most wonderful growth of any organization in recent years, and this growth has come about simply because the organization was fundamentally right. There is no industry of more importance than the swine industry. This is true in times of peace, and more particularly true since the war. The increased production of swine is essential to humanity.

The National Swine Growers' association is a body formed for the promotion of the swine industry. It is not a closed corporation, but an association for the mutual advancement of its members and of the industry in general, and in order to bring to the attention of the world the importance of the hog, and, further, to enable breeders to show to the world the best of their product, a national show was held for the first time in America in 1916.

Lieutenant Bruett of Fourth Nebraska Recruits Men

Lieutenant Bruett of the Fourth Nebraska, who was left behind to recruit men for the army when the others of his regiment went to Deming, is busy at the military carnival grounds on the South Side. He has a recruiting station in the army canteen on the grounds.

Tuesday night a dozen soldier boys from Omaha went down to the carnival grounds with Lieutenant Bruett to take part of the boys of Company D of the Dandy Sixth, for whose benefit the carnival is being given.

So far the carnival has been well attended and will doubtless mean a big swelling of Company D's mess fund. Lieutenant Bruett is interested in the model submarine which is on display at the carnival grounds. This is said to be one of the best working models shown. It sinks under the water, explodes and comes to the surface again.

Entire Family on South Side Down With Smallpox

The home of the Dewitt family, Fifty-sixth and U streets, has been invaded by poverty and sickness. Mrs. Dewitt, the mother of four small children, has been making a brave fight for her children, who, one after another, have been stricken with the smallpox, but Tuesday she, too, took sick, and was forced to give up the work of nursing her children.

Raymond, aged 3 years, was the first to contract the disease; then Anna, aged 7, took sick; the next day Edna, aged 9, was also a victim, and Sunday Harry, aged 14, could no longer help his mother, for he, too, had contracted the smallpox. Still the little mother slaved on, working night and day with her sick children. Mrs. Dewitt took sick Tuesday. The entire family have been removed to the Douglas county emergency hospital.

Only One Omaha Theater Didn't Disregard the Law

On complaint of State Fire Warden W. S. Ridgell, Assistant Chief of Police M. E. Dempsie will station police officers at all theaters to enforce the state law prohibiting theaters from selling standing room. Complaints have been frequent that standing room has been sold on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Sunday night Ridgell visited local theaters and found but one theater that refused to sell standing room. He immediately took the matter up with the various manager and they agreed to abide by the law.

One theater manager has been fined for non-observance of the law. The officers will be stationed as a matter of precaution in order that patrons may know that there is no discrimination and to aid the theaters in avoiding crowds.

"Future violations will be prosecuted by both city and state officers," the fire warden warned theater managers.

Court-Martial Trial Of Negro Rioters Open

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 19.—The court-martial trial of negro soldiers implicated in the Houston riot will be open to the public, it was announced at the headquarters of the Southern department today. Newspapers will be allowed to have representatives present and take the testimony. It is expected the trial will be held in El Paso in about two weeks.

SEELY LECTURES ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Member of Board of Lecture-ship of Mother Church Gives Address at First Church.

Paul Stark Seely, C. S., member of the board of lecture-ship of The Mother church, the First church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., lectured last night at the First church, Omaha. He said in part: "For every fact we know in our daily life we may suppose its opposite—the lie about it. So in the universal orders Mrs. Eddy discerned that evil and all that is mortal and material is but the suppositious or supposed opposite of God's creation, which is the good and eternal. Jesus exposed this negative nature of evil when he spoke of it as 'a liar,' in which there are far more important questions than we are accustomed to ask. The human mind sometimes stands agast when told that matter is only mental phenomena. If perchance any of you may feel shocked at this assertion you will be interested to know that physical scientists are now admitting what Mrs. Eddy asserted long before, namely, that matter is indeed not a substance of itself but mental phenomena, the externalized concepts of the human mind. A prominent physical scientist in one of the best known European universities has within the last few years said, 'Matter is a thing of thought which we have constructed for ourselves.'

How to Master the Mind.

"If Mrs. Eddy's premise was correct and everything was in truth mental, the next far more important question was, how evil, mortal mind, and its sinful and diseased conditions, was to be mastered and destroyed by the one Mind, God. This question she met without compromise, and through her writings so clearly elucidated the laws of the one true Mind and the scientific way in which these laws can be used to subjugate, overcome and destroy all evil and disease, that millions of mankind have through their application in thought been healed, comforted and purified."

"Acknowledging the divine Mind as the alone cause, Christian Science then reasons logically from cause to effect and brings out what must be true about man and the universe which spring from and are the expression of Mind."

"Reasoning then from Mind as the primary cause, let us see what man really is. How is he related to Mind? What is his function, his destiny? The Bible designates man as God's image, son and heir. It also says that he is made after God's likeness, thus making him out to be the living representative or expression of God. These terms of course apply to the real and eternal man, not to the mortal and transient sense of man. But it is the real man we want to know about and bring to light. Since God is Mind and mind's only mode of expression must be through its ideas, the very important fact is seen that the real man must be and therefore is the outcome of Mind, is Mind's idea, and is a state of consciousness forever expressing God."

Must Be Like Creator.

"Since God cannot evolve anything unlike Himself, man must possess the same quality and substance as His creator. Jesus said, 'I and my Father are one.' If we fail to recognize the relationship between God and man here indicated, we fail to grasp the basic truth of being, the vital part of Christianity, the very key to the salvation of mankind. This oneness of man with God in quality but not in quantity is indeed the doctrine of atonement as Christian Science explains it, or the doctrine of at-onement. Seen in the light of Christian Science the doctrine of atonement is no longer a human doctrine but a spiritual fact, namely, man's natural and eternal oneness with God, divine Mind."

"In place of an obscure, mysterious, or doubtful concept of God and His creation, Christian Science unfolds, as we have shown, the true idea or scientific concept of God and man, which is the corner-stone of right thinking and living and the way to Christian healing. The coming of this true idea of God and man in your consciousness and mind is the coming of the Christ that is to free us from the bondage of evil and destroy all disease."

"Theologians have for many years confused the Christ-idea with the corporeal man Jesus. Christian Science makes plain the distinction between the personal Jesus and the Christ, the true idea of God, which must come to each individual consciousness and resurrect it from false beliefs. To cling to a corporeal savior is to worship a fleshly concept, and Jesus said that the flesh profits nothing. Jesus was a human person. Christ is the true spiritual idea of life which Jesus understood and exemplified better than all others, but which is knowable and understandable by each of us. This true idea must be individually understood before man can know God."

Bridges Sets Forth Plan to Farmers at St. Paul Providing for Municipal Storehouses, Transportation.

(By Associated Press.) St. Paul, Sept. 19.—The ideal plan for marketing and distribution of food products were explained to nearly 2,000 farmers from Minnesota and North Dakota, at the night session of the convention of Producers and Consumers, holding a three days' session here under the auspices of the National Nonpartisan league, by Robert Bridges, president of the port district of the port of Seattle.

"No solution can be made of the problem of marketing and distributing until we follow the ample of eastern states and cities," said Mr. Bridges, "by socializing the primary function, such as railways, street railways and terminal facilities of great sea ports."

Knell for Horse. "We must develop trolley freight and motor trucks and eliminate the wasteful horse. I believe the ideal plan for marketing and distribution of food products would be: 'Publicly owned terminal warehouses, elevators and cold storage plants, these connected with a public terminal railway.'

"These brought into direct contact with the producers in adjacent territory by publicly owned and operated auto freight trucks taking the products directly from the farm to the terminal elevators and warehouses."

"A publicly operated wholesale terminal market under the same authority as that operating the terminal warehouse and the auto freight system. The public institution would thus sell produce either at auction or private sale for the producer."

Bu, at Warehouses. "The establishment of great co-operative consumers' associations whose agents would buy directly from the public terminal market or warehouse. If we will add to this government ownership and operation of steam railways and government ownership and operation of the water fronts of our great natural seaports which are the gateway of ocean bound commerce, we will find that we have tied the strings to the soaring kite of the ever-rising prices of basic national supplies."

W. C. T. U. Ready for More Battles With Liquor Trade

"There is no slackening of interest in the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Nebraska, even though our fight is won," said Mrs. E. W. John, president of the Douglas county union, at the annual convention yesterday. "We are real fanatics on the subject of prohibition. Now that Nebraska is dry we want every other state dry, too, and as long as there is a wet spot on the globe we have a job on our hands."

"For years we have been engaged in a desperate struggle and through it all we have been real soldiers. Some of you in this audience have been in the W. C. T. U. for many years."

"In other work of the nation we are now called to play our part, and we shall play it well. I have yet to hear a woman member of the W. C. T. U. complain because her son has been drafted."

The work of the convention yesterday consisted largely of reports from committees of work done during the past year and election of officers for the coming year. No new plans were definitely formulated, although the war relief work along the same lines as at present is to be continued.

Alkali Makes Soap Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain mulified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

Bridgets Put K'boosh On Sunday Cooking

Seattle, Wash. Sept. 19.—A housemaids' union, the principal object of which will be to abolish Sunday cooking and provide for eight hours' work on week days, is in the course of organization here, the Seattle Federation of Women's Trade unions and auxiliaries announced today. It is estimated 2,000 women in Seattle are eligible to membership.

Women labor leaders said the first step to be taken up by the new union would be to put the ban on cooking on Sunday. The next move, they said, would be an effort to ob-nude the state eight hour law. tain legislation placing housemaids

Bad Grocery Accounts Attacked by Government

Washington, Sept. 19.—Long standing grocery accounts are to be attacked by the food administration. "The waste and loss from this credit evil can hardly be over-estimated," said an administration statement tonight, announcing that 40,000 traveling salesmen for wholesale grocers and food jobbers would be enlisted in a campaign for economy of food and energy in the grocery business. The salesmen will seek to persuade retailers to shorten their credits and wholesalers will follow the same policy for retail dealers.

Negroes in Session May Decide to March to Capital

New York, Sept. 15.—More than 200 negroes from all parts of the country met here today for the negro race congress, which is to last three days. Rev. Byron Cunner was elected president and William Monroe Trotter, secretary of the congress.

The program includes a petition to President Wilson to make lynching a federal crime, to evolve means to stop alleged unjust discriminations against negroes and to discuss a possible march to Washington.

FOURTH OF YEAR'S COAL IN NEBRASKA

Twenty-Six Per Cent on Hand and Eleven Per Cent Contracted for, Says Defense Council.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Twenty-six per cent of the year's supply of coal is in hand and 11 per cent contracted for at prices obtaining before August 22, 1917, according to a message sent to Harry B. Garfield, national fuel distributor by the State Council of Defense.

Of 921 dealers in coal in the state 292 are not affected by contracts. Last year's consumption of coal in this state was about two and a quarter millions of tons. The message says sent to Mr. Garfield was as follows:

Result of inquiry as to coal on hand, contracts outstanding and supplies required for needs of Nebraska for coming year ending September 1, 1918. Fourteen hundred and thirty-six questionnaires sent out 970 returned. Showing 26 per cent of year's supply on hand and 11 per cent contracted for these being bought and contracted for at prices obtaining before August 22, 1917. Of 921 dealers, 292 are not affected by contracts.
