

BOY SCOUTS ASSIST AK-SAR-BEN PARADES

Will Help Police in Handling Crowds and Will Sell Liberty Bonds in the Second Drive.

Omaha Boy Scouts have been asked by the chairman of the parade committee, J. DeForest Richards, board of Ak-Sar-Ben, to assist the police department in controlling the large crowds assembled along the parade route.

Chief Dunn says: "With the assistance of 800 Boy Scouts we shall be enabled to properly handle the tremendous crowds in such a way that everyone will have an opportunity to see the parade at its best."

The Boy Scouts will have the full backing of both the Ak-Sar-Ben board and police department, and will be expected to greatly aid in handling the crowds. They will also be prepared to render first aid if the occasion demands it.

All scouts in Omaha have been ordered to report at the Central High school campus Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, for drill. Scoutmasters Earl Burket, chief of staff, W. M. Hackett, L. N. Bexten, and V. C. Has-call will be in charge. Headquarters have issued a new stave and new neckerchiefs, which will for the most part be in the colors of Ak-Sar-Ben. All scouts participating in these parades will be awarded the new service band for the staves.

Liberty Loan Medals.
At a meeting of the executive board yesterday it was decided to award any scout who secures ten Liberty loans a beautiful medal in recognition of such service. These medals will be even more attractive than those which the government has been delaying in sending to the scouts who secured ten Liberty loans in the first campaign. It is expected that at least 100 scouts will be able to earn these Liberty loan medals.

Scoutmasters Elect Officers.
At a meeting of the Scoutmasters' association Thursday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Earl Burket, president; W. M. Hackett, first vice president; Tom Kelly, second vice president; L. N. Bexten, secretary.
The association will meet on Thursday night of each week until after the Ak-Sar-Ben parades and the Liberty loan campaign is well started.

Wants Injunction to Keep Hubby Away from House

Rose Wilson, suing Lincoln Wilson for divorce in district court, says she is tired of "faking in washing to support a man who won't work even in these war days when there is such a demand for common labor."

The Wilsons, who live in four rooms at 4604 14th street, were married at Bushnell, Ill., December 7, 1907. They have an 8-year-old daughter.
Mrs. Wilson alleges she takes in washing to support herself and child and declares her husband "brings home loafers to sit around and gamble."

She says he "absolutely refuses to work." She asks the court to issue an injunction restraining him from continuing to loaf about their home while she works to make a living for the family.

Matters Case to Come Up for Trial in November

The case of the United States against Thomas S. Matters of Omaha, which was sent back from the court of appeals for retrial in this district, will be tried again during November.

This case was first brought up in February, 1915, when Matters was charged in federal grand jury indictments with having aided President Melchior L. Luben, president of the First National bank of Sutton, in issuing certificates of deposit without authority and misapplying funds of the bank, which later went into the hands of a receiver.

The case was bitterly contested and was taken up to the court of appeals. It was reversed on a technicality and will soon come up for a retrial.

City Hall Force to Move On Chicago for World's Mix

The announcement that the world's series will start in Chicago Saturday, October 6, has filled the city hall of Omaha with glee. According to present plans, the entire city hall intends to move to Chicago, the hope being that those who make the journey will be absent from their business only half a day, Saturday morning.

Among those who have high hopes of seeing the big clash are Tom O'Connor, Dan Butler, Claude Bossie, Otto Bauman, Dick Grotte, Charlie Withnell, Chief Dunn, Lee Bridges, Wood Hartley and Joe McDonald.

Quartermaster Thompson Ordered to Camp Dodge

F. Wirt Thompson of the quartermaster's officers' reserve corps received special orders from the War department to report to Camp Dodge at Des Moines, Ia. He will leave this evening and will take up his duties as assistant to the quartermaster.
Quartermaster Thompson was formerly a postoffice clerk at station B. He lives at 2305 South Thirty-third street.

Ak-Sar-Ben Attractions To Reach Here Monday

C. A. Wortham, owner of Wortham's shows, was in the city and looked over the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival grounds and expressed gratification at the way things are fixed up this year. All the "attractions" will arrive here Monday and the work of setting up the tents and amusement devices and so on will be pushed.

Auto Company is Sued For Death of Fleming

Carlton D. Hutchinson, administrator of the estate of the late James E. Fleming, is suing the Nebraska Buick Auto company for $10,000 in district court. He alleges Fleming died as a result of injuries suffered at Sixteenth and William streets March 29 when he was struck by an automobile truck.

Russian Government Assists Temperance Law

Petrograd, Sept. 21.—With a view to promoting temperance permanently, the provisional government has ordered that all supplies of alcohol at distilleries and on licensed premises shall be used for the manufacture of vinegar and mineral waters. These products, it is specified, shall not contain more than 1 per cent alcohol.

OMAHA OFFICIALS VISIT STATE PEN

Convicts in Nebraska Prison "Fat and Healthy" and Enjoy Best of Treatment from the Guards.

Public Defender Horton and Adult Probation Officer Andreesen have returned from Lincoln, where they passed two days in the penitentiary. These officials were not "sent up" for short terms, they were there on business.

Horton was in Lincoln in the interests of Art Hauser, notorious "ape man" serving a life sentence for the murder of W. H. Smith, auditor of the Woodmen of the World. Hauser, convicted in criminal court in Omaha after a sensational trial, is appealing to the supreme court for a new trial. Andreesen spent his time in the penitentiary talking to "some of his old friends," as he expressed it. He had a long talk with Hauser.

"Art admits he is guilty of many crimes, but maintains he is innocent of the killing of Smith. He is making brooms, has gained thirty pounds and says he is getting a 'square deal' in the pen."

Faust Liked Beer.
Andreesen had another talk with Pete Faust, formerly a notorious Omaha character, who is serving a life sentence for the murder of a soldier ten years ago. Faust is now a trusty and shows visitors the prison-made furniture in the "show room."

"When I told Faust Omaha had 'reformed' since he 'left the city,'" he remarked: "If it's a dead town I'm glad I'm not there. I'll always remember Omaha for its good beer and whisky and the clink of the poker chips on the lower Douglas."

Andreesen also gave William Assman, convicted bank robber, formerly a druggist at Sixteenth and Nicholas streets, the "once over." Assman was sent up last spring for complicity in a bank robbery in Cass county. He is serving a sentence of three to fifteen years.

According to Andreesen Assman is fat and healthy and has gained twenty-eight pounds since he began doing time. He wears a white suit and works in the prison laundry.

Sues Telephone Company For Cold She Contracted

Gertrude E. Young, formerly a telephone operator for the Nebraska Telephone company, appraises a bad cold at $15,000. She is suing the telephone company for that amount in district court, alleging she contracted "frequent and continuous colds while employed as an operator at information desk."

She says there was a draft caused by an electric fan overhead and doors and windows, which were left open. According to Miss Young's petition, an infection set in "which probably will result in total and permanent deafness."

WOMEN EMPLOYED AS STATION AGENTS

Northwestern Tries Them Out Through the State in Selling Tickets and On Light Work.

The Northwestern Railroad company has commenced employing women to do station work along the Nebraska lines and in positions that in the past have been filled by men. Owing to the scarcity of men, at a number of the larger stations in Nebraska, such as Fremont, Norfolk, Hastings and several others, when vacancies have occurred in the office force by reason of the male employees having gone to war, women have taken the places.

Although the tryout of women as station employees has not been fully tested, General Manager Walters is well satisfied with the results up to this time. They are apt students and quickly become familiar with the work that they are called upon to do.

So far none of the women employees of the Northwestern have been called upon to hustle baggage, or handle freight, but they are selling tickets, keeping books and doing general station work. Several of those who are employed about the stations, during their leisure hours are learning telegraphy and fitting themselves for taking full charge of offices.

Railroad Congestion is Eliminated by War Board

The local railroad war board has figured out that since May 1, this year, when the railroads commenced co-operation with the government in the handling of trains, cars and commodities, approximately 20,000,000 miles of train service a year have been saved by the elimination of all passenger trains not essential to the most pressing needs of the country.

This elimination of passenger train service, it is asserted, has cleared thousands of miles of track absolutely needed for the movement of freight, released thousands of locomotives and train crews that have gone into the freight handling end of the railroad business.

By reason of the action taken by the government, the railroads and the war boards, freight congestion, railroad men say, has become a thing of the past and that now, regardless of the bumper crop that is beginning to move, plenty of freight cars are available.

The war board goes into data concerning the coal industry, showing that during July of this year 132 of the railroads, doing the bulk of the coal business, transported from the mines 207,429 more loaded cars than during the same month of last year, an increase of 31.5 per cent, or 10,316,960 tons.

Clerks Are Wearing Sweaters at Court House

Court house attaches have been shivering for two days and wishing it would either turn warm or real cold, the latter so the economical superintendent of the building would have to order a little steam turned into the radiators or freeze to death himself.

Because of the thick walls of the big county building it is comfortable inside even when the weather is warm. When the weather outside is even only fall-like, the court house becomes cold and dreary when there is no steam turned on.

Clerks and stenographers came down to work Friday morning wearing heavy clothing and sweaters.
