Woman's Service League

Campfire girls' headquarters has been swamped with voluntary offerings of candles and newspapers since the appeal made in Thursday's Bee for such donations to be used in making of trench torches or ration neaters for the soldiers.

"Besides large quantities of newspapers and personal offerings of candles, the Brandeis stores sent a large package of candles," said Miss Nell Ryan, guardian of the Campfire Girls. A trench torch section was established at the board meeting of the girls Saturday morning and will begin work at once.

Eleven business women have regstered for the evening motor mechanics class which will begin the first week in October under the auspices of the Woman's Service league. t will be held at the Nebraska Automobile school and will be conducted along the same lines as the day

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae organized a new Red Cross department at the opening meeting last Saturday. Mrs. Stephen Davies was chosen leader of the section, which will meet for the first time Tuesday afternoon at her home at 4 o'clock. The general meetings will also be devoted to war work and the members will knit for the Red Cross.

Mrs. Nora Riley is chairman of the L. D. D. Red Cross auxiliary, which will meet for the first time Wednesday afternoon at the Red Cross workshop.

Antelope county members, whose chapter is at Neligh, sent word that they would pledge themselves to make 375 sets of knitted garments instead of 250, which is their quota. Branch chapters, which will as-sist in the work are Oakdale, Brunswick, Clearwater, Elgin, Midway, Orchard and Royal.

There are now 102 Red Cross chapters in the ninety-three counties of the state. Every county is represented by one and in some cases sev-eral chapters, according to Director Judson's latest records.

A placard bearing the words, "Positively No Admittance," is hung on the door of the censor's room at the Red Cross workshop. Mrs. E. L. Bridges and Mrs. C. L. Burdick are the official censors and state that absolute quiet is requisite in the counting and s pervision of the work.

The Woman's Service league has sent 1,000 garments to the Navy league, which will be distributed among aviators and sailors, and has 300 articles ready to deliver to the Red Cross.

Miss Marjorie Bryant will arrive this week from California to resume her clerical work in the Woman's Service league headquarters.

Protection of Property Asked For Soliders

Washington, Sept. 23 .- Protection of the homes and property of America's fighting men by passage of the administration soldiers' and sailors' civil rights bill was urged today before a senate judiciary subcommittee, which began formal hearings. Early enactment of the measure is desired by many officials, who contend that next to the insurance bill "it is the biggest and most needful thing to be done for the country's defenders."

Women and the War Work

A Dundee neighborhood club, which | man of the work since September. has been organized for the purpose feels very proud of the work accomof outfitting the seventy-four mem- plished in the state. There are bers of the Fifth Nebraska machine twenty-six towns in the state where gun company, will meet every Friday afternoon during the winter. Mrs. A. S. Williams, Mrs. Van B. Lady and, which has been censored at New York Mrs. William Fuller are the women headquarters has ever been returned instrumental in the organization of as unsatisfactory-a record not held volunteered to take part in the move- the work is below the standard of the ment, each of the women adopting a Red Cross, but the dressings resoldier in the company, for which she quired by the surgical dressings comis responsible.

The club works independently of the Red Cross or war relief societies and furnishes the money for yarn and necessary supplies. The group is the first to be responsible for a certain company of soldiers.

An emergency call was received yesterday from France by Leonard Trester, chairman of the work of the Navy league in the state of Nebraska, which stated: "Our marines are shiv-ering with cold. Send as soon as possible 5,000 of the heaviest possible woolen socks, size 12 or thereabouts, also 5,000 comfort bags."

Mr. Trester, whose headquarters are in Lincoln, visited Omaha Saturday and asked Mrs. Harvey Newbranch, chairman of the work being done here for the Navy league, that Omaha furnish 1,000 socks and 700 comfort bags as her quota before the first of October.

A telegram was also received ask ng that the United States furnish knitted garments for the men in the allied forces as well as our own.

Up to the present time the Navy league has shipped 440,000 articles valued at a million and a quarter in money. Of this number 23,000 have been shipped under personal names. There are orders on hand for 18,-900 garments, which must be filled before cold weather," said Mr. Tres-

Nebraska now has 116 units of the league at work.

Miss Susan Hill is sponsor to one of the most unique as well as worthy organizations in the city. It is composed of thirty elderly women, all having passed the half century mark. Instead of being a social club, where the women knit, make kits for the soldiers and gossip over a cup of tea, the women are working in their own homes, which are scattered in different sections of the city. The club was organized in June and has 165 knitted garments to show for its time, besides numerous comfort bags.

Miss Hill visits each old lady every week or so to supply her with yarn, collect the garments and have a sociable chat.

The club has no name nor officers. Miss Hill has been urged by her friends to call it the Susan Hill club after herself, but she is too modest and just refers to it as "my club." In a great many instances she purchases the yarn and materials for kits-out of her own pocketbook. She is employed in the Federal building, but spends all of her evenings doing war relief work in her home or visiting her little old lady friends. Some of them are wealthy, some in medium circumstances and some needy, but all pa-triotic, loyal women doing their bit for Uncle Sam.

Omaha women may no longer picture themselves as the only angels of mercy who are knitting in every spare minute to keep the soldiers warm this winter. Mere man has invaded the knitters' ranks. Little Truman Morsman, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morsman, jr., delivered a pair of knitted woolen socks and a muffler to the Woman's Service league headquarters Saturday. He startled and pleased the surprised women at the headquarters with the announcement that he wished to make a red, white and blue pair. Mrs. William Archibald Smith provided him with white yarn and sufficient red and blue to make the striped tops in the colors. Truman could give some valuable assistance to some of our most expert knitters, for it is no new fad with him. Every toy in his play room, elephants, teddy bears, dogs and tin soldiers alike are arrayed in knitted sweaters. mufflers, socks and dresses of varied

Edgar Morsman the third, who is 12 years old, also knits mufflers, but when it comes to socks he says, "Nix on the socks, I'll leave them for

The room will be open the first four days of the week for the processes and the beauty of the week for the weeks and the second week for the workers under the su-pervision of the following women: Mesdames E. L. Bridges, E. R. Wil-son, Elizabeth Shannon, M. T. Bar-low, George Voss, and the Misses Elizabeth Reed, Gladys Peters and Katherine Thummel.

Forty-one Red Cross auxiliaries are now established in the public schools of Omaha. Thirty-seven auxiliary blanks have been filed at the headquarters and represent 2,725 school girls. The work is under the supervision of Miss Helen Thompson.

The Christmas spirit is already in the air. A donation of a bolt of holly cretonne at the Red Cross headquarters will be made into Christmas comfort bags for the soldiers stationed in Omaha by the members of the Lini-ger Travel club of Central High

The Red Cross headquarters is preparing for the Ak-Sar-Ben rush. The following women have been appointed hostesses for the period of the carnival, and will give necessary information to out-of-town visitors: Mesdames Joseph Barker, A. L. Reed, Luther Kountze, C. T. Kountze and J. T. Stewart, second.

Mrs. O. C. Redick, chairman of the Red Cross committee on hospital supplies, left Saturday evening with Mr. Redick for New York and Washington, where she will attend a conference Tuesday of the state chairmen of the National Surgical Dressing work.
