Departure of Ammunition Train From Des Moines to Deming Put Off by Officers' Demand.

(Des Moines Staff Correspondent.) Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Departure of the ammunition train has been delayed here because officers are demanding Pullmans for privates in their trip to Deming. Railroad officials report the train has been ready all day, but up to a late hour had not departed. Battery F left at 11 o'clock this morning. The first regiment is expected to start Thursday.

Official orders from the War Department were received today by the commanders of the First Iowa infantry, Iowa National Guard, the Iowa ammunition train and Battery F of the field artillery to start for Deming, N. Not a few of the vacancies are due to the fact that the younger men are enlisting or entering army service as chaplains or Young Men's Christian association workers.

Conference Wires President. The conference in a night letter to President Wilson pledged its unswerving loyalty to the nation and to those in authority during the world's war.

The letter reads as follows: "The Des Moines annual conference, as a body, declares its unswerving loyalty to the nation in this supreme hour of the world's struggle. We see in this war the last convulsive effort of militaristic absolutism against that democracy which inevitably stands with the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. We assure you that for the accomplishment of this end we will gladly give our money, send our sons to the front and our prayers to heaven until final victory."

Other states are now taking up this pledge. Governor Charles Brough of Arkansas plans to have the pledge distributed throughout that state.
